CURRENT TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

C. H. Perry, the artist, will remain but a few days longer at Hazel Green.

Henry Pieratt will fire his kiln about to night, and people who have been hungering for brick can soon be supplied.

Tom Brashear, collector for the St. Louis Wrought Iron Range Co., was a guest of the Pieratt House last Sunday.

Lucien Bowyer was a guest of the Pieratt House Sunday last. He is representing some clothing house in Cincinnati.

Rev. J. T. Pieratt closed a meeting at old Grassy Church on Monday last, which was begun on the preceding Friday. A great deal of interest was manifested throughout the meeting, and he closed his year with that people on that occasion. The attendance was estimated at 500 or 600 people.

Wesley Perkins last week had his crop of wheat threshed, and it is said to be the best crop raised in this section. He had twenty-eight acres and the yield was just nine bushels and three pecks to the acre. It was of the Funks variety and fine, plump grains. Seventy-five dozen bundles yielded forty bushels.

The residence of Ira R. Clark, of this place, was broken into on last Saturday night during the absence of the family. The entrance was made through a back door that was not very securely fastened, and all the other doors were unlocked from the inside. There was nothing missing except a little lard and part of a musk melon. The chairs were piled up together in one room.

Capt. Clark, the handsome hardware evangelist, who is representing the Sievers-Carson Hardware Co., Louisville, was in town Sunday, a guest of the Day House, and told THE HERALD man that on this trip he had made some of the best sales he ever did. As usual he sold good bills here, and went on his way rejoicing. He handles this trade in the hardware business and no mistake.

W. E. Gillis, McCord and Aydelotte's representative, showed up here on Saturday and lay over Sunday. He had a full line of fall and winter styles with him and sold a good bill at this place. He also reports splendid trade from Mt. Sterling up, but to make good sales is nothing new to him. In the first place, he represents a good firm, and in the second he satisfies all his customers. Gillis is a good one to buy from.

Joe Turner, the newly married man, who handles boot and shoe samples for Green, Huffaker & Co., Louisville, laid over Sunday last as the guest of the Pieratt House. He sold from Mt. Sterling out every man he tackled, thus showing that marrying has not affected his ability in that line, but Joe is awful thin, and looks like he might have just recovered from a severe spell of sickness. Notwithstanding appearances, however, he told us he was in perfect health.

Newton Swango, of Charleston, Illinois, who is a native of this place and a son of Uncle Harry Swango, left for his home on Tuesday last. About three months ago he came to this county in wretched health, and told his relatives he came here to die. Previous to coming he had been at the point of death several times, and was given up by attending physicians. They, however, patched him up to make the trip here, and in the three months he has gained perfect health. If there can be a stronger argument as to the healthfulness of our town and locality we should like to know of it. From death to life was the transit of Mr. Swango, and invalids throughout the country who have lost health and hope might profit by his experience. There is not under the sun a more healthy locality than Hazel Green. Miss Alice Combs, of Campton, accompanied Mr. Swango on his return to his home and will attend school at Charleston.

Prospecting for Precious Metals.

It will be remembered by our readers that some time ago THE HERALD mentioned the fact of John S. Jones, of Michigan, in company with two of our citizens visiting the mine in which Mr. Timmons is operating, and of his taking with him several specimens of the rock there found. It may or may not be of significance to tell our readers that Jones of Michigan is again with us, and the present occasion is paying more attention to prospecting than he did on his former visit. He has a young man with him, George Rushton, of Eaton Rapids, Michigan, and together they are examining every piece of rock that shows a metallic substance or that seems from its weight to contain mineral. Mr. Jones tells us that the specimens he took with him showed both silver and gold in small quantities. Of course, a man finding a good thing would be apt to say "a small quantity," if one did not contain ninety-nine per cent. of the pure truck, and to "a man up a tree," it looks like Jones of Michigan has found a bonanza, although he may be visiting this country simply for past-time. However, appearances indicate that he is "onto something," and we will not be surprised to hear of his finding the original and only "Swift silver mine." Then, what! why the hopes raised within us a few weeks since by the Drummer's account of our discovery will be dashed or, divided with Jones of Michigan. Where there is so much smoke there must be some fire, and we think Jones will jump into this hidden spark and start a blaze. If he does he is welcome to all the wealth and warmth it may create, for time after time we have warned our people that strangers would come in and reap a harvest of our hidden resources unless steps were taken to develop them. They have heeded not our warning, and if Jones or "any other man" gets in his work we want all to remember that "we told you so." In the meantime some of our enterprising citizens should organize a mining company and go to work in earnest. We'll take position of treasurer if the office is thrust upon us, but remember the office must seek the man to hold it.

Locating the Railroad.

Major Breckenridge, Mr. C. P. Huntington's chief engineer, in company with Mr. J. G. Trimble of Mt. Sterling, paid our town a flying visit on Sunday last on their return from a prospecting railroad tour through the mountains. Mr. Breckenridge was a guest of the Day House, but we failed to get to see him. However, we had a talk with Mr. Trimble, and from what we learned think the outlook exceedingly favorable for a railroad to Hazel Green. They left Mt. Sterling last Friday morning, went to the mouth of Swift's Camp Creek, thence to Devil's Creek, to Jackson in Breathitt and down Gillmore Creek to this point. Major Breckenridge expressed the opinion to Mr. Trimble that Gillmore Creek was a fine route for a railroad, and as the extension of the coal road would go that way there is every prospect that Hazel Green would get it. The coal road will be sold the 5th of next month, and we think we will then be able to give our readers something satisfactory in regard to Hazel Green's prospect.

Losses at the Campton Fire.

A. J. Asbury, the heaviest loser in the Campton fire, was in town Monday. He says he first discovered the flames coming out of the east end of his hotel about on a level with the second floor, and the fire seemed to have originated in a closet under a flight of stairs in that end of the building. There had been no fire or light of any kind in the room in which the fire was discovered for four days previous to the burning, and the cause remains a mystery unless it was the work of an incendiary. Mr. Asbury saved about $200 worth of his household goods, consisting of an organ, sewing machine, eight mattresses, three bedsteads, a few chairs and a small amount of clothing. His losses were nearly all the wearing apparel of the family, five bee stands, twelve bushels of corn, a good supply of groceries, a large amount of household and kitchen furniture, the smoke house and all its contents, and about $240 in money. Mr. Asbury thinks his loss will foot up fully $3,000.

Annual Meetings.

The Annual Meeting of the Christian Church, for the Morgan county district, will be held at the Tom's Branch Church, beginning Friday evening before the third Sunday in September. The Annual Meeting of the Wolfe county district will be held at the Gillmore Creek Church, commencing Friday evening before the fourth Sunday in September. Everybody is invited to attend, and it is estimated that there will be provision enough to feed all who may come. Several eminent preachers will be on hand to proclaim salvation to sinners, and a religious revival is anticipated. Turn out everybody for these meetings, and let there be an awakening among the people.

Death of Roy Frazier Sample.

Roy Frazier Sample was born February 22nd, 1880, in New Garden, Russell county, Va. In the few years allotted to his little life by an All-wise Creator, ere He claimed him as His own, Roy was the joy of the household of Elbert and Salina Sample. He was the sunshine of a happy home and his childish prattle was the sweetest music to his fond parents. There was a vacuum in the heavenly fold. God needed one little angel more to fill the void, and He called Roy hence to fill the vacancy. Sorrow now hovers over a once happy home, but those who grieve must console themselves with the thought that their loved one has been transplanted to a more congenial climate.

Affairs at Morehead.

The trial of Z. T. Young and his son, Allie, and Green Maunin, charged with conspiracy to kill Howard Logan, was concluded Wednesday, and resulted in their acquittal.

The case of the Commonwealth against John Keeten, also charged with shooting Logan, was called Thursday and a jury composed of Fleming county men selected to try the case. Keeten swore Judge Cole off the bench, and G. A. Cassidy, of Flemingsburg, was chosen by the bar to preside. The trial was concluded Saturday evening and resulted in a hung jury. Court then adjourned until Tuesday morning, when the case of Hiram Pigman, charged with killing Craig Toliver was taken up.

Thomas A. Day was indicted by the grand jury for murder. He is supposed to be in Jellico, Tennessee.

Private Will Davis, of the Guards, who broke an ankle a few days ago, has been taken to Louisville.

The grand jury returned twenty indictments Saturday, three of which were for murder.

Rev. George O. Barnes is now at Morehead holding a revival. It is understood that he went there at the instigation of the Governor, who wants to see what effect religion will have on the Rowan county desperadoes.

D. D. Patterson, of the Louisville Battery, stationed at Morehead, deserted Saturday.—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

Free Trade.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from Proprietary Medicines, no doubt has largely benefited the consumers, as well as relieving the burden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cents size. The August Flower for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint and the German Syrup for Cough and Lung troubles, have perhaps, the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles for ten cents remain the same size.

It is to be hoped that the sun behaved itself properly yesterday in the matter of its total eclipse. We had none of it over here, but Europe and Asia caught it in full force, and there were certain circumstances relied upon to make the occasion of unusual scientific value. Indeed it may be possible, after yesterday's observations are tabulated, compared and analyzed, for us to determine exactly the sun is 95,000,000 miles away, or is only 92,000,000; and that is a question which, as every one knows, is keeping our people awake at night. We may also be able to get a clearer conception as to the constituted qualities of the corona, and all intelligent people are crazy about that. Then there is that terrific solar pyrotechnic display, so to speak, when spurs of solar flame shoots up for a little matter of two or three hundred thousand miles. We may be able to learn something about that, and possibly to apply it to domestic uses. It is quite proper that the Government should expend money in such researches. Meanwhile we contend that the tax should not be removed from whisky.—Cincinnati Enquirer.
