Happenings on the Streets, at the Hotels, in the Stores, and at the Fair Grounds.

A DIGEST OF THE DAY'S DOINGS.

The Fair is a daisy, she is. She is run on principles biz; Some boys are quite frisky, But the police do 'em briskly, And that's just the way the thing is.

Bro. Hopkins preached at Jackson last night.

Ex-Sheriff C C Hanks was at the Fair yesterday.

Wm Day, of Frozen, is at the Fair and taking it all in.

Jo Boon Nickell, of Blackwater, was in town yesterday.

James Ingram, of Maytown, was at the Fair yesterday.

Don't fail to get a glass of milk shake at Taylor Johnson's.

Jeff Phipps, of Morgan county, was a popular judge yesterday.

Grover Cleveland drinks milk shake, and so does THE HERALD.

County attorney-elect A Howard Stamper was on the grounds yesterday.

Ex-sheriff Sam Dennis, of Ezel, was in town yesterday taking in the Fair.

If you want the finest Beef, Mutton or Pork buy from H. F. Pieratt & Co.

Deputy Sheriff Sam Wheeler, of Morgan county, was at the Fair yesterday.

Try a glass of Taylor Johnson's milk-shake; its out of sight. 4t.

Dr. Lockhart's two-year-old is a picture. We will look for him next year.

Leave your horse with John Pieratt. He feeds, rubs and waters three times a day.

Miss Rachel Nickell, of Ezel, was one of the beautiful girls at the Fair yesterday.

Jo Ellison, of Catlettsburg, is up for the Fair. He is registered at the Day House.

J Pieratt, of Maytown, was up yesterday. He says the Fair is too good a thing to miss.

See J. T. Gevedon if you want anything in the piano, organ or sewing machine line.

J W McCullagh, of Cincinnati, is registered at the Day House and is taking in the Fair.

Prof J W Taulbee was a conspicuous figure at the Fair yesterday. He hails from Daysboro.

J B Hollon and wife were at the Fair yesterday. Mr. Hollon has exhibited some nice stock.

D J Lykins, of South Fork, was an enterprising farmer that was present at the Fair yesterday.

J C B Johnson and Jess Horton, of Hope, are taking in the Fair. They are with Mrs F N Day.

W J Seitz and wife, of West Liberty, were at the Fair yesterday. They will remain over the week.

Miss Cora Combs, of Ezel, and a most excellent young lady, by the way, is visiting Mrs. F. McGuire.

Wm Linden and wife, of Lee City, was at the Fair yesterday. Uncle Bill certainly enjoys his friends.

Charles Wyatt and John Trimble, of Camargo, are stopping at Mrs F N Day's and are taking in the Fair.

Messrs Stephenson and Wolf, of Virginia, are taking in the Fair. They are stopping at Swango Springs.

Berry Pieratt, of Ezel, is galanting the girls at the Fair in handsome style. He is a comely lad of sixteen summers.

Bring your watches and jewelry to one door east of Jno. M. Rose's store for J. M. Havens to repair. He guarantees. 4t.

Take your meals at Mrs. Rilda Day's, where you can also get your Millinery and buy the freshest and best fruits.

YELLING FOR NANCY CHANEY.

Our old friend, P. B. Winn, of Winchester, is here attending the Fair and shaking hands with his friends, of whom no man has more. Phip divides his time between Winchester and Hazel Green, and his love for our people is such that to hear him talk one would imagine him identified with us rather than the Winchester bank, in which he is the individual book-keeper. During the recent oratorical contest at his town, in which Hazel Green Academy had a representative in the person of Clay Lacy, Phip wore the Academy colors—hazel and green—and yelled for our boy louder than anybody.

Hon. Joe Kendall, Democratic nominee for Congress, the long term, Hon. Wm. Beckner, Democratic candidate for the short term, and John L. Bosley, editor of the Winchester Sun and Republican candidate for the short term, will each address the people at the Fair grounds today at 11:30 a. m. We do not know whether they will make political speeches or not, but presume that they will prefer to expatiate upon the beauties of that most healthful and most enjoyable occupation of farming.

"Golly mighty damn, what's them sheep skins around that horse's legs for," exclaimed an old farmer, rubbing the dust off his spectacles; "I reckon she don't cork herself," he said to THE HERALD man. "Well, Uncle Bill, it will take a better horse man than I to tell you about the sheep skin rings," and then we scrambled out of a cloud of dust and made our way for a glass of milk shake.

One of the handsomest girls at the Fair yesterday said to THE HERALD man: "Who is that good looking little fellow in the band uniform?" "That's Clay Wade Womack." "Well, isn't he just too sweet for any use?" she said; "how I'd like to kiss him." Then she sank back in her seat in the sweet ecstasies of love's young dream.

One of the young ladies that is attracting especial attention is Miss Anna Cope, of Jackson. Her lovely brown eyes whose lustre melts in living fire, as Byron would say, together with her beautiful face make her an exquisite object to look upon. Surely there is nothing so refreshing as a beautiful woman.

Ye editor, while entertaining some young ladies in the presence of his better half struck his hand against the printing press and dislocated two fingers. Luckily he carries an accident policy, which will not make good the loss, but will make his pockets jingle for at least a few days.

When the horses showed up for the trotting race yesterday, a visitor was heard to remark: "Well, darn me, if that ain't the first time I ever saw a horse wear pantalettes," referring to the Riggs entry, which was decorated with the sheep skin toggles.

W. R. Metcalfe, representing the Mayfield Woolen Mills, of Mayfield, Ky., will be at the Day House during the Fair with a line of Casimere and Jeans pants. Merchants are requested to call and examine his line. 4t.

Jolly John Pieratt, the Jocular Jockey, is at his old stand. His stable needs no recommendation from us to the traveling public. If you want your horse and buggy well cared for call on him.

Watch these columns closely and spend your money with those who advertise. That is the way to encourage home enterprise, and if people would only make that a rule times would soon be better.

Curtis Lykins, of Campton, was over yesterday.

Will Roberts, of Campton, was in town yesterday.

Harry Cecil, of Grassy, was tiptoeing in town Wednesday.

W C May and wife, of White Oak, are attending the Fair.

Henry Cecil, of Grassy Creek, made a swell in town Wednesday.

Dr. Raney and daughter, of Frenchburg, are attending the Fair.

Miss Rachel Nickell, of Ezel, was here Wednesday and witnessed the races.

John Lacy, of Campton, was the guest of his uncle, James Lacy, Wednesday.

Dudley Arnett, of Salyersville, was one of the visitors to the Fair yesterday.

The racing yesterday, barring the time, was as good as can be seen on any track.

G. D. Sullivan and Joe O'Rear, of Clark county, were in attendance yesterday.

Will Rowland, of Salyersville, came in last night to take in the remainder of the Fair.

Charles Ringo, of Rothwell, is up for a visit to his friends and taking in the Fair.

Troy Pieratt is well again and will soon have Billy Goat in shape for the track.

Miss Ida Lindon, of Jackson, is spending the week with friends and taking in the Fair.

Representative Mason Cope, of Jackson, is in town today. He will stay over tomorrow.

F M Gevedon and Harris Terrel, of Upper Grassy, were enjoying the races yesterday.

Mrs John P Salyer, of West Liberty, is over for the Fair, and is visiting Mrs. Ellen Kash.

Miss Lucy Brandenburg, another of Beattyville's handsome girls, is visiting Mrs Lou Day.

Miss Mollie Rowland one of the prettiest girls in the mountains is the guest of Mrs Lou Day.

Breeding, Seal and Gabbard, of Booneville, are over for a good time and they are having it too.

Jas H Little and wife, of Campton, are the guests of the Day House, and are enjoying the Fair.

Uncle John Nickell said he spit out enough mud yesterday to make a stick-and-clay chimney.

Mrs Mary Jane Swango, of Powell county, is visiting her sister, Mrs James Lacy, at this place.

Prof. Cord was taken suddenly yesterday, and at this writing is very sick, but not serious, however.

Remember no one allowed about the grand stand but those who are invited. No room for loafers.

J Miles Nickell, of Daysborough, was among the number who was sight-singing at the Fair yesterday.

Wm Frisby, Jerry South, Bill Day and George Smith, of Frozen Creek, were at the Fair yesterday.

J L Noble and Charlie E Sewell, of Jackson, seem to be in the old business of heart breaking at the Fair.

Mrs J M Downing, of West Liberty, is the guest of Mrs Ellen Kash, of our city, and is taking in the Fair.

Hon J C Lykins, of Campton, accompanied by his two sons, Gus and Arthur, was visiting the Fair yesterday.

Kenith Gullet, of Hendricks, was at the Fair yesterday, and if you'll look good you will find him today.

Hon. J. Milt Hagar, of Salyersville, is down for the Fair. He is a staunch Democrat upon whom there are no flies.

See the editor of THE HERALD and pay him your subscription. A little money now would be very acceptable.

Come in and get a shave and a haircut at Dr. Kash's corner. 4t.

TELLING HOW SHEEP SKIN LOST THE RACE WEDNESDAY.

THE HERALD office was on yesterday honored with a visit from Misses Beatty, Cora Combs and Pattie Mahan, accompanied by Harlan Beatty. The last named lady is a lovely disciple of Faust in the "art preservative of all arts," and is at present engaged in manipulating type on the Beattyville Enterprise. She says the business has a great fascination to her, and we expect some day to hear that she has developed into a first-class reporter on some metropolitan journal. Our friendship for the craft leads us to hope so at least.

Among the visitors at the Fair yesterday was Thrasher Combs, Democratic candidate for Sheriff of this county, and he was quite busy shaking hands with his friends, whose name is legion. Thrasher has just recovered from a spell of fever, but while it left him a little thinner in flesh, he is none the less hearty in greeting his friends. Nor is his heartiness to be attributed to his candidacy, for he is always the same genial gentleman.

Nancy Chaney is the queen of the pacers, having won that honor yesterday in the fastest pacing race ever held in the mountains. Nancy Chaney is four years old and is indeed a lovable mare. Later—it was not the fastest race as better time was made last year.

Never before in the history of the Fair have we had so many charming young lady visitors. They have come from all the country around, and there is not a town in fifty miles that is not well represented. See to it, young men, that they are well entertained.

There was some betting in the high circles yesterday. Hon D S Godsey and Dr Taulbee lost a fine water melon to President Pieratt, and Harry Gambrel on a mule race. THE HERALD man was referee and helped eat the melon. Thanks, gentlemen.

'Squire Bill Webb was here yesterday hunting dynamite to blow out a well. 'Squire is mistaken about this project, as the dynamite is very liable to create crevices in the bottom of the well that will injure very materially its usefulness.

Jonas F Vansant, vice-president of the Fair Association, was on Wednesday summoned to the bedside of his brother, John Vansant, Clerk of the Elliott County Court, who is dangerously ill, and he left at once for Sandy Hook.

John Wilson get your gun, your sword and pistol and march those fellows to jail that have been throwing their hats in the air and swearing by the sun, moon and stars that they couldn't be arrested.

Misses Pryse, Flannery and Clayton, three of Beattyville's charming young ladies are at Mrs W T Swango's. Miss Clayton has a tenor voice rarely excelled for sweetness and compass.

Jo Kendall is quite a versatile gentleman. Yesterday he slid over a counter at the Fair Grounds and sold lemonade and cider with as much avidity as an Italian peanut vendor.

Floyd Day, of Clay City, and a former citizen of our town, is up for the week. He was one of the prime movers of the Association, and has always contributed largely to its success.

For apples, pears, bananas, grapes and fancy candies call on A. P. Clark at the Fair Grounds. 2t.

Carter Kash, of Ezel, is one among the dust endurers.

Miss Mary Jane Swango, of Stanton, is the guest of her sister, Mrs James Lacy, of this place.

Dr J A Taulbee reports the birth of a boy baby to the wife of Johnnie Pieratt. They call it Andrew.

Mrs A S Henry and sister, Miss Scott, from Kansas, are registered at the Day House. They are enjoying the Fair.

Call at the De Busk feed stable with your horse and have him well cared for during the Fair. 4t.

Representative W C Taylor and wife, of Frenchburg, are visiting his brother-in-law, Prof J W Taulbee, and taking in the Fair.

W O Mize say he has not seen so many people since he was at the World's Fair. He says they outnumber the frogs of the Nile.

Charley Swango and Ollie Walco, of Frankfort, are with M E James for the Fair. They are enjoying themselves immensely.

Sheriff Ben Carr, of Morgan, wife and daughter, attended the Fair Wednesday, and were much pleased with the entertainment.

The advertisement of T. F. Carr, the little jeweler of Ezel, will be found in this issue, and it will pay you to read it carefully.

Miss Susie Greer, of Grassy Creek, was taking in the sights at the Fair yesterday, with our jeweler, J. M. Haynes of this place.

The saddle ring yesterday was a beauty. It has never been equaled in the history of the Association either in style or numbers.

Henry Combs, Circuit and County Clerk of Menefee, accompanied by his daughter, was attending the Fair Wednesday.

Henry Phillips, of Mt. Sterling, is at the Academy Home. After the Fair is over he will matriculate in the Academy for the year.

The Wells' horse was well driven yesterday by Ray Moss, who made him a close second. Look out for him in the $200 pace Friday.

"Three balls and one baby." That's the way she goes, boys. The Fair just comes once a year and only lasts four days, so enjoy yourself.

Stranger, its lonesome in a big crowd, isn't it. I had rather be in the wilderness than in a big crowd by my self, so far as loneliness is concerned.

Supt. A. F. Byrd, of Campton, is shaking hands on the amphitheatre. He is immensely popular and a tireless worker in the educational circle.

Dr. J. F. Lockhart, dentist, is located in the rear of the brick building on the corner of Main and Broadway. Call on him and have your teeth examined.

If you want a good square meal, call on us at the Fair grounds. Fresh meats, fish, hot coffee, etc. 1-4t CATRON & HILL.

J D Phipps, deputy sheriff of Morgan county, and the Democratic nominee for sheriff, accompanied by his wife and daughter, attended the Fair yesterday.

That Virginia pistol that was pulled on Kentucky soil yesterday, was landed in the hand of the officer in short order. The citizen that pulled it went to grass.

Miss Rose Trimble, who has been quite ill for a long time, still continues a patient Christian sufferer, and the warm weather and dust are very trying upon her.

The cow that took the blue ribbon on Tuesday was the property of Curtis Rose, of our town, and not of W. T. Swango, as erroneously reported in our issue of yesterday.

"D—n the dust," was an expression that came out of an hundred dry throats yesterday, and then President Pieratt stepped forth and said: "We will not only d—n the dust, but we will drown it." Good boy. Now see what it is done.
