From the Jambos.

S. S. Oldfield will matriculate at the academy Monday.

Henry Murphy was a welcome visitor in the Jambos this week.

Miss Stella Rose, of Lacy creek, attended the entertainment Sunday.

Sol. Osborn and some other man passed by Richmond DeBusk's school last week firing their pistols at random, which were only keen claps to their boisterous language.

Married, at the residence of Miles Yocum, Saturday, Mrs. Lou Ann Havens and Nias Loyelase. The occasion was a grand affair. Elder Fugate united the bonds. We did not learn who the attendants were, but we incidentally learn that Frank Oldfield and Miss Ella Murphy lead the way to the table, and by the way, we are apprised of the fact that they will soon call on some one to lead a table procession and unite holy bonds of matrimony in their interest. Joy go with them all and may a furrow of care never come upon their brows.

A large crowd attended W. H. DeBusk's school entertainment on Saturday last. The pupils acquitted themselves well and did honor to themselves and teacher. Misses Hattie Carpenter and Mollie Hale were the recipients of the presents awarded for their excellency in their classes. They are very bright little girls and if any one ever wins a prize over them, they will have to make a desperate effort. H. C. Lacy and J. R. DeBusk delivered some declamations which were received with 'enthusiastic cheers.' Eld. James Fugate gave an address which was indeed commendable. Prof. DeBusk gave the closing address, after which all dispersed for their homes with words of congratulation. ELKSWATAWA

On Tuesday, the 24 inst., 100 of our Sunday School came to the church with the expectation of meeting Santa Claus. He was not on time. However, after several exciting dispatches from different stations after he left the north pole, informing us that he was coming, and would try to be on time. He came with a tremendous pack; also had Mrs. Claus with a pack almost as large. All got nice presents and were pleased, and had a good time in general.

Joe Williams, the man who was shot in the Rose-Williams shooting scrape at the home of Williams, in this county, in November of last year, and who recently underwent the ordeal of having his leg amputated, died on Tuesday morning at 3 o'clock at his home on Laurel, in this county. His remains were buried on the same day at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, the interment being at Campton. He leaves a wife to mourn her loss, and she has the sympathy of all who know the circumstances of the sad affair.

There are no births, sickness, heart-breakings, etc., to report that I know of. Good, very good.

Regret to say there have been no weddings during the holidays to report. Get a hustle on "Billy."

John Graham, Dr. Hatton, Geo. Terrill, Nathan Hollon and Misses Emma and Laura Hollon spent Christmas at Campton.

There are several candidates spoken of for the different county offices, but their names should appear in THE HERALD before their claims receive recognition.

It is after the election, Bro. Cooper, and is William O'Connell Bradley now "Dennis" or governor? Oh, yes, "rats" nothing. Don't you see the people are not blind and fools all the time. Republican Kentuckians, rally around the flag, shout the battle cry of freedom and do all in your power for Gov. Bradley for president of the United States of America.

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Horton and their two little bright jewels, Ethel and Sarah Lacy and Byrd Spradling, of Campton; Miss Fanny Hurst, of Pear Tree; Joe Turner, John Trent and wife, of Frozen Creek; Mason Gibbs, McKinley Sewell and Eli Jones, of Lane, spent Christmas with the family of J. A. Sewell. Yet, notwithstanding this entertaining crowd, "Benny" got lonesome and heart-weary and sailed forth for Campton to take in Christmas with his amaroze. Selah?

Nations rise and fall; flowers bloom and fade away; political parties triumph for a third of a century and are then defeated; sweethearts woo one another's love and then are united in the holy bonds of matrimony; educational institutions are established for the good of the coming generation which turn out useful, honorable men and leaders and tramps; prejudice and dissension swell the uncharitable hearts of professed Christians, and sinners cling to Satan with hell tenacity, but, notwithstanding all this, THE HERALD finds a sacred place in the hearts of all its readers. The press of our country is erecting pyramids of untold good and should be patronized by all who hold the welfare of their country at heart.

BRAD MATTOON.

Mrs. Lou Day is just now in receipt of her new fall and winter stock of hats, bonnets, trimmed and untrimmed sailors, cloaks, dress goods, notions, etc., etc., to which she invites the attention of the ladies of this section. She also keeps a full line of fancy and staple groceries, which will be sold for cash or country produce, and at the lowest living prices. 32-40.

Miss Mary Trimble and her niece, Miss Ava Swango, paid our office a pleasant call on Monday. It was the first time Miss Mary ever honored our office with her presence, and the mysteries of "the art preservative" interested her very much. Miss Ava has just closed her school on the Clark branch, in the Cox Mill neighborhood, which was quite a success, and to further fit herself for teaching will enroll at the academy for the present session.

KENTUCKY CAVALIERS.

A Personal Letter From Its Author and Our Old Friend.

LOCUST, Carroll county, Ky., Dec. 20, SPENCER COOPER, Hazel Green, Ky.

My Dear Old Friend: I recently read Lampton's article in Courier-Journal, descriptive of Hazel Green, of you and your paper, etc. He says you have ample room to "spread yourself." I had lost sight of you—in fact was under the impression that you had long ago crossed the "last river" and were thrumming a golden harp in the "illimitable hence." Not wishing you bad luck, I am glad to learn that you are still a sojourner on terra firma, and are editing a newspaper—subscription price payable in "sound money" or its equivalent, in advance. Well, you always had a penchant for newspaper work, and I sincerely hope you are enjoying life, morally, mentally, physically and financially. As for myself, I have done a little of everything—am probably what you would call "one of those versatile sort of fellows, not good much for anything." I have successfully taught school, and with less success have practiced law, clerked in a wholesale house in Louisville, been a partner in a retail drug store, been justice of the peace, a la Bill Nye, for years a newspaper correspondent, associate editor of the "Carrollton Democrat," and finally the author of a book, "Kentucky Cavaliers in Dixie; or the Reminiscences of a Confederate Cavalryman." I send a copy of said book to you by this mail, with my compliments, not however without being moved by motives of self-interest. I wish a notice of the book to be inserted in THE HERALD as I doubt not it is widely circulated in the country where many of the "characters" in the book lived and did more or less soldiering. It was at Hazel Green that Giltner's brigade halted and agreed upon terms of surrender to Gen. Hobson. My book gives much of the history of battalions, whose members lived in the mountains. Of Col. Tom Johnson, Col. Ed Trimble, Maj. Cox, Maj. Holliday, Col. Caudill, Col. Zeke Clay, etc., etc. A notice including what is found on the title page will be suggestive to the "boys." Much of the book is devoted to a partial history of Gen. John H. Morgan. I think I give a more complete and authentic account of the circumstances of his death than has ever been published. The book can be had post-paid by sending $1.50 to the Courier-Journal Job Printing Company, Louisville, Ky.

Please call attention to the book occasionally. You can doubtless do me a great deal of good in your country, and it is needless for me to assure you that your kindness will be fully appreciated.

Nothing would give me greater pleasure than to meet "Old Spence" once more. The last time I saw you, I think, was when you rode with me from Lexington out to our encampment. I often think of the old days when we were happy together. There have, of course, been many changes—many of our old associates, girls and boys, have gone—some to the bridal, some to the tomb.

As ever your friend, truly,
GEO. DALLAS MOSGROVE.

Death of James C. Swango.

James C. Swango, of Maytown, whose illness has been noted in these columns for several weeks past, died on Friday evening last about dusk. He was a Mason and by that fraternity was buried on Saturday. Delegations from Cox Lodge Campton; Ezel lodge, Ezel; and Mizpah lodge, of this place, attended the obsequies. There was a very large crowd in attendance, which evidenced the esteem in which the deceased was held, and many eyes unused to tears were moistened at the sight of the loving wife widowed and the three little children orphaned by the death of husband and father. The grief of brothers and sisters was also heart-rending and the whole scene a sad one. The deceased was one of the best citizens of Morgan county, and his loss will be deeply deplored by all who knew him. To his dear ones THE HERALD sends condolence, and points them to Him who alone can console.

Japanese Oil is said to be the most wonderful liniment for external application that scientific chemists have yet been able to compound. Hundreds and thousands testify to this, as it has saved both life and expense. Sold at this office at 50 cents a bottle. Try it, as it is a household necessity and always "a friend in need."

Indited in Iowa.

DOW CITY, IOWA, Dec. 29, 1895. Editor HERALD: Dear Sir: At the request of W. A. Baber; and for the benefit of all friends and relatives who are readers of THE HERALD, I send the following sketch of the late sickness of William A. Baber, of this place.

He was taken sick with inflammatory rheumatism, and from the fore part of May until the fore part of August was very sick, having to be turned on sheets for about one month and suffering much severe pain. He is now able to be about but is somewhat stiff in the joints, but is in hopes of complete recovery soon.

Would like to see a letter every week from Laurel in THE HERALD. Happy New Year to all. Please find enclosed $1 for subscription for one year. Would have sent it before if it had not been for sickness.

Your truly,
JAS. L. WHIRRY,
Pastor Baptist Church.

Enrath For By Cracky.

T. J. Stephenson (By Cracky), writing us from Salem, Morgan county, under date of Dec. 23, says: "Will you permit me to say to my esteemed friend, H. F. Pieratt, that the woods are full of 'ama.' A short time since there was as fine a boy baby born at my house as ever I ever had, and I will bet my interest in Swift's silver mine that he will put his shoulder to the wheel of Democracy and ever be found voting for the grand old party that has stood the test when everything has failed. Salem, my precinct, failed at the last election to vote the ticket, as she always used to do, but there has been a big meeting, and the call for backsliders was a part of the sermon every day, and I predict that the next election will be all O. K."

Wanted.

500 bushels of good Wheat. Will pay 20c per bushel on notes and accounts, or in merchandise, including flour, (S. P. Kerr brand) wheat to be delivered at my store in Hazel Green. J. T. DAY.

The city of Berlin, Germany, had 100 cases of suicide during the year 1894. No cause is assigned for this wholesale "shuffling off the mortal coil," but the probability is that the beer was bad or the limburger not laid enough for their oily organs.
