JAMES B. CECIL, of Ezel, sends us word that he will be a candidate for the democratic nomination for the legislature from this district, it being Morgan county's time to name the man, and that he will formally announce next week. We will then tell the people more about him. Time and space alike this week prevent a more extended notice.

WILLIAM H. HOLT, of Frankfort, former chief justice of the Kentucky court of appeals, was appointed by President McKinley United States district judge, of Porto Rico, on Monday, June 4th. The appointment of Judge Holt to that exalted position has given general satisfaction throughout the state.

SINCE we suggested Hon. James D. Black as the most available candidate for the democratic nomination for governor a few weeks ago, that gentleman has formally announced his candidacy and is now canvassing in the lower part of the state. THE HERALD advocated his claims in the last gubernatorial campaign, and the editor had some private correspondence with him, with the result that he had about concluded to make the race, when matters political became so complicated that he thought it best for the sake of harmony to withdraw from the race and did so. But now he is in to win, and will make a thorough personal canvass of the state. Jim Black, in our humble opinion is one of the brainiest men in Eastern Kentucky if not in the state at large, and a gentleman who could come nearer healing the wounds in the democratic ranks than any man we know. Not only that, but he would restore to Kentucky the honor that the recent bad behavior on the part of pot house politicians and poltroons have caused to be trailed in the dust. None but a first-class man in all the word man signifies should be called upon to head the democratic party this fall. Not only because none other is likely to win, but when the race is won we want a man that can restore the proud name of the old commonwealth to its wonted place, and that place is and has always been at the top of the list in the calendar of states. Hon. James D. Black will fill the bill.

THOUGH he has not made formal announcement of the fact it is generally understood that that sterling democrat, Hon. James M. Benton, of Winchester, will make the race for appellate judge in this district, and in the opinion of the leading democrats with whom we have talked he will make it warm for our young friend O'Rear. Mr. Benton is one of the best equipped lawyers in Central Kentucky, and no man stands higher than he with the legal profession throughout the state. He has been eminently successful in his practice, and if elected to the position to which he aspires he would reflect credit upon the district and prove the peer of any man from Eastern Kentucky who ever held the place. He not only has all the qualifications for the position, but he is a democrat among democrats, and Wolfe county will give him every vote she can muster in both convention and election. THE HERALD thinks him the strongest man the democrats could name for this place, and will take pleasure in doing all it can to see him nominated and elected.

HOOD vs. HOOD.

C. I. Hood & Co., Victorious in Important Cases—Injunction Against Dr. J. C. Hood.

Important suits have just been decided in the U. S. circuit courts involving the right to the word Hood or Hood's. Messrs. C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass., proprietors of Hood's Sarsaparilla, began suit for infringement against Dr. J. C. Hood of Louisville, Ky., who was putting up what he called "Dr. Hood's Sarsaparilla." After a hearing in the U. S. circuit court at Louisville, Judge Evans on April 12 granted a temporary injunction in favor of C. I. Hood & Co., and restraining J. C. Hood from using the word Hood in any way or form on any preparation of sarsaparilla. Messrs. C. I. Hood & Co., also began suit against a retail druggist in Indianapolis, Louis H. Kenkert, who was selling Dr. J. C. Hood's Sarsaparilla. Dr. J. C. Hood employed counsel and made a defence, but Judge Baker of the U. S. circuit court granted an injunction which on April 23 became perpetual.

These two decrees establish the exclusive right of C. I. Hood & Co. to the word "Hood's" and decide in effect that no other person can put a Hood's Sarsaparilla even if his name is Hood, nor can any retail druggist sell or offer for sale any sarsaparilla bearing the name Hood or Hood's other than that prepared by C. I. Hood & Co.

These decisions will be gratifying to every fair minded person. No manufacturer should object to fair competition, but when an attempt is made to steal or infringe upon a business which has been established by great skill, labor and expenditure, justice cannot be dealt out too quickly. Nor should "substitution" be allowed, when a standard article is called for. Therefore, when you go to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla you should be sure to get "only Hood's."

THE POOR MAN'S FRIEND.

My wife, she bought a cookin' book that tells folks how to save
Th' remnants uv a simple meal—here's one receipt it gave:
(Th' dish is called "The Poor Man's Friend," which intimates that it is people short on money th' receipt had oughter hit.)
Th' meat f'r th' foundation—jest a scanty ounce'll do—
That does th' job th' nicest is th' kind from Irish stew.
(N' these small remnants that th' poor man allus throws away,
His wife kin use ez corner-stones f'r countless wealth some day.)
Then take some fine spring chickens—this receipt'll call f'r three,
(Which any poor man's larder kin supply "at sight," y' see).
A pound uv homemade butter, 'n' some thyme 'n' celery too, (F'r y' got to kill th' flavor in that ounce uv Irish stew).
Y' place it on th' electric range, inside a silver pail,
Drop in a terapin 'r two, a partridge 'n' a quail;
Then flavor it with celery salt 'n' epicure's bouquet,
'N' it's ready f'r th' table when it's simmered half a day.
Y' serve it 'n' a golden dish, ef one is kickin' round,
'N' garnish it with lotus buds—they add a charm perfound—
'N' workin' men sh'd thank th' stars that this here book wuz writ
On household economics, fer th' case its made to fit.
FRED J. EATON, in Truth.

Biggle Berry Book, being No. 2 of the Biggle Books, is all about berries. A whole encyclopedia of berry lore, boiled down after the manner of Farm Journal. Tells about varieties, and planting, growing, cultivating, picking and marketing. It gives practical pointers from the pens of scores of leading berry growers from all parts of the country who have contributed to its columns. It has colored representations of berries true to size and color, thirty-three portraits of practical berrymen, and 35 other illustrations, handsomely bound in cloth. The price is 50 cents, by mail; address the publishers, Wilmer Atkinson Co., Philadelphia.

To The Afflicted.

I am now in spurs and saddle again day and night. I am at the service of those who have always paid me for my services. Those who will not pay, I will not treat, so you need not call on me, for I can get paying practice enough to occupy my time. If not, I had rather rest in the shade than work for nothing. So those who owe me must come up and settle, for I am paying interest on money and getting nothing. You can pay me in anything from beans to cord wood and money—anything that I can use will be taken on debts. I am determined to pay my debts and you may expect to pay.

FINE SHOES,

I have just received the finest line and greatest variety of

LADIES' AND GENTS' BOOTS AND SHOES

ever brought to the mountains, and having bought them before the recent rise in leather, I am prepared to save my customers money on every purchase they make. I want the ladies, especially, to examine my stock. For the price, I can show them a front-lace shoe that is a world-beater. It is, indeed, a beauty, and to the touch makes one feel that the shoemaker got hold of the kid-glove stock.

Respectfully,
JOHN M. ROSE.

RESTORED MANHOOD DR. MOTT'S NERVEINE PILLS
The great remedy for nervous prostration and all nervous diseases of the generative organs of either sex, such as Nervous Prostration, Failure of Lost Manhood, Impotency, Nightly Emissions, Venereal Eruptions, Mental Worry, excessive use of Tobacco or Opium, which lead to Consumption and Insanity. With every $5 order we give a written guarantee to cure or refund the money. Sold at $1.00 per box, 6 boxes for $5.00. DR. MOTT'S CHEMICAL CO., Cleveland, Ohio.

QUINN'S OINTMENT FOR HORSES
stands at the head of all veterinary remedies. Such troubles as Spavins, Curbs, Windpuffs, Splints, Bunches have no terrors for a horse if the master keeps and applies Quinn's Ointment. All well known horsemen speak of it in the highest terms.
Miller & Sibley of Franklin, Pa., owners of St. Bel, brother of late Bel Boy, write, "We have used Quinn's Ointment with great success and believe it fulfills all claimed for it. We cheerfully recommend it to our friends." For Curbs, Splints, Spavins or Bunches it has no equal.
Price $1.50. Smaller size, 50c. Sold by all druggists or sent by mail.
