The Senatorship.

The state legislature which meets in January will elect a successor to Senator Clapp, and it seems certain at this time that that successor will be the senator himself. Moses E. Clapp has made a good senator; he has given general satisfaction, and while there is no very active demand for re-election, aside from politics, most people feel that it is better to re-elect a man who has been tried and proven true than to choose an unknown. Moreover there is the undoubted advantage to be gained by continuing good legislators in office. Time gives them greater and greater influence and makes them more and more valuable to the state.

There is, however, active opposition to Senator Clapp. Politics have so shaped themselves that the senator will have strength in the legislature out of all proportion to his personal strength. Various factions have been driven by reasons of policy into supporting him. But there are at work two very powerful factions, who desire Senator Clapp's retirement. Minneapolis will never cease trying until she has a senator. Minneapolis has not yet agreed on Tom Lowry although a desperate attempt is being made to make his election a possibility. Joel Heatwole is also a self confessed candidate. Senator Clapp has the whip hand now, but he must have care if he would keep it.

WHEN you see a thing in the twin city papers you do not know whether it is so or not. For downright deception and deliberate, persistent attempts to deceive the people of the state on everything that pertains to the state campaign the twin city dailies have outdone anything that has ever before been witnessed in this state, and we hope, in any other. Their statements as to politics are absolutely unreliable. Even as to plain items of political news they cannot be credited for one moment. Their writers and reporters are instructed to artfully pervert even the news so that it may give advantage to the cause they espouse. It will be many years before the statements of these twin city papers will again carry weight in Minnesota.

THE lying tactics resorted to against Mr. Dunn in this campaign are well illustrated by a prominent news item in a twin city daily yesterday to the effect that Mr. Dunn did not appear at the Minneapolis meeting with Speaker Cannon because the state central committee feared he would not make a favorable impression before a Minneapolis audience. Statements of this kind might have some weight where Mr. Dunn is not known, but Mr. Dunn addressed scores of meetings in Minneapolis preceding the caucuses for the county convention and Minneapolis people have abundant opportunity to find whether Dunn "appears to advantage or not."

THE mud batteries of the Minneapolis Journal have fired another broadside.

THE pun is having a lot to do with making Speaker Cannon a big gun.
