Special Bargains.

That Bemidji's big bargain day next Thursday may be a grand success we co-operate with the rest of the merchants of the city in offering special inducements to our out of town customers, and the following price will give some little idea of the great sacrifices we are making on every article in our store:

Our prices on carpets and rugs will be deminished considerably and in fact a complete outfit of house furniture will cost from thirty to fifty per cent. less than ordinarily.

Timber Wolf Pursues a Fawn Right to a Settler's Door—Frightened Away.

It is seldom, even in the woods, that a scene equals that witnessed in the door yard of Jester Shy last Friday morning, one mile east of town. A pretty, panting fawn came panting up to the very door and almost sought protection in the arms of Mrs. Shy, who was standing in the yard, while close behind came leaping a gaunt gray clad timber wolf, which, more timid than its intended dinner, slacked its pace at the edge of the clearing. The deer stopped out of sight of the wolf, which smelled chicken and veered toward the chicken house. Mrs. Shy seeing her fowls endangered, gave a lusty shout and wolf and deer moved off in different directions.

Mrs. Shy was alone at home, else there might have been some effective shooting done. The wolf has been there before.—Big Fork Compass.
