

TALL PINE TONIGHT

Congressman Steenerson Will Speak at the Opera House Tonight.

BAND AND DRUM CORPS WILL FURNISH MUSIC.

Local Speakers Will Also Be Heard Campaign Songs Prepared.

Congressman Steenerson, the principal speaker of the day, failed to arrive on the noon train as had been expected but word was received that he will reach Bemidji tonight on the M. & I. from St. Paul.

The meeting at the opera house this evening will be called to order at 8:30 and Congressman Steenerson will be the principal speaker. Mr. Steenerson has been campaigning steadily in the interest of the state and national ticket for several weeks and has spoken in all parts of the state from southern Minnesota and the twin cities to Roseau and no man in the state is more closely in touch with the situation than he.

This afternoon the band got out and paraded the streets and played one or two selections at the opera house. Owing to the failure of Mr. Steenerson to arrive no meeting was held this afternoon.

At the meeting tonight a male quartette will sing a number of original campaign songs. One of them is the work of a local poet and is said to be a work of art.

The crowd in town has not been as large as was expected. The day could not have been more perfect but the failure to secure a special train and the necessity for the people on the north line to stay over night kept many away. At that about 200 people came in this morning on the passenger and the freight from Kelliher while there is a fair attendance on the part of the farmers of the neighboring country. The stores have done good business during the day and the Bargain Day idea has resulted in bringing a large amount of money to the city.

Settled in Full.
A. W. Jones, of the Mercantile Mutual Fire Insurance company, is in the city today from St. Paul and settled the loss of Thomas Newby for the destruction of his livery barn by fire a few ago, in full. The settlement is a prompt one and naturally pleasing to Mr. Newby and T. J. Miller, the local agent for the company.

Eleventh Hour Rallies.
Saturday evening E. F. Crawford and Henry Funkley will address a republican meeting at Turtle River and Monday evening L. H. Bailey and Ed Crawford will speak at Tenstrike, neither point having had any political meetings thus far this campaign.

UNJUST

Thoughtless Criticism Levelled at Members of the Fire Department.

Yesterday's small fire in Carson's addition caused the good people of that part of the city to complain of the fire department for tardiness in arriving on the scene and one or two were so thoughtless as to say that all the boys care about the fire was to get their money out of it.

For some little time—a few minutes yesterday morning—it was impossible for the department to find out where the fire was. As soon as it was located the department was on the spot in double quick time. Bemidji has no fire alarm system and unless the alarm is turned in through "Central" it is difficult to locate the fire, a difficulty which every individual experiences at every fire. As to the charge that all the firemen care about the work is the money they get out of it, the fact that they get but fifty cents for each fire or one dollar when the water is turned on is ample disproof. There are none of the department's critics would do such work for such money.

Bemidji has a splendid volunteer fire department. It is unexcelled in northern Minnesota and is entitled to praise rather than blame.

EXCITING

Double Runaway Which Threatened Serious Results For a Time.

A runaway occurred just at noon today which for a few moments threatened the life of Luther Belke, a farmer living near town. Mr. Belke was unloading wood in the alley near the Hotel Markham and the blowing of the whistle of the Bemidji Steam Laundry for noon frightened his horses. They ran out on Beltrami avenue with Mr. Belke sitting on the hind axle, clinging to the sides of the wood rack and shouting at the top of his voice. Mr. Belke was badly frightened or he might have reached the reins and stopped the team. A single rig stood in front of T. J. Miller & Co.'s office and this horse started to run adding to the excitement, Balke's wood rack collided with a tree on Bemidji avenue near the rear of the Lakeshore hotel and Balke was badly bruised, but not seriously, on one temple and one leg.

STORY OF MURDER

Claimed That Jacob Dyrhaug Was Not Drowned But Murdered.

SAID THAT A MAN WAS WITH HIM IN THE BOAT.

Also That he Had on His Person Money and Checks for Considerable.

A story is in circulation to the effect that Jacob Dyrhaug supposed to have been drowned in Red Lake Sunday night, was not drowned at all but murdered. The story was published in the Crookston Journal this morning but no authority was given and no one in Bemidji, although several people are here from Shotley, know anything of the matter.

According to the story as published by the Crookston paper, Dyrhaug was not alone when he started to row home Sunday night but two men, who have not been seen since, were with him. It is also claimed that Dyrhaug had checks on his person for a considerable amount of money, and that payment on these checks has been stopped. The sheriff's office here, however, has heard nothing to this effect, and A. M. Sivertson, Mr. Dyrhaug's brother, who passed through Bemidji last night from Crookston on his way to Shotley, gave no hint of any suspicion of murder in discussing the matter.

Baumbachs Here.

W. R. and C. W. Baumbach are in the city for a couple days looking after their various interests here. Both gentlemen make their headquarters at Wadena, where Charlie Eastman went play in the G. O. P. backyard because Judge Collins was not nominated for governor and W. E. Verity is sulking actively in the democratic camp because he can't be secretary of the state central committee anymore. The spectacle of these two worthies united in the effort to defeat Mr. Dunn is an interesting one and diddies are going to be done in Wadena county November 8. C. W. Baumbach will leave for the Indian Territory, where he will make his future home, Sunday. Bemidji as well as Wadena is the loser by Mr. Baumbach's removal.

Tipped it Off.

He was not saying a word about it and neither were we but a Crookston Journal man tipped it off like this: Announcement of the forthcoming marriage of Albert J. Stephens, formerly of this city to Miss Lena Cyr of Cass Lake, has been made and the many friends of Mr. Stephens in this city will wish him the best of happiness. He is stationed at Cass Lake with the Iron Range Telephone company and is doing very nicely. Miss Cyr is prominent in Cass Lake social circles. The wedding will be one of the pre-Christmas affairs of Cass Lake. Mr. Stephens denies the story in its entirety.

Had Insurance.

It has been discovered by a diligent search of his papers that John Shalley who committed suicide and was found in the swamp west of town a few days ago carried considerable life insurance. Word has been received from Shalley's relatives at Kewanee, Ill., and the body will probably be shipped there for burial.

HE'S "SQUARE"

C. W. Hastings' Personal Estimate of Hon. Robert C. Dunn.

Bemidji has a distinguished guest today in the person of C. W. Hastings, of Minneapolis, president of the First National Bank of this city, and largely interested in banks in Grand Rapids, Blackduck, Northome and Kelliher.

Mr. Hastings is a dyed in the wool democrat and says that Johnson will be elected but in discussing the situation Mr. Hastings deprecates the nastiness which mugwump republicans and misguided republicans have injected into the campaign. "I have personally known Mr. Dunn," said Mr. Hastings, "for years. He is the best state auditor that Minnesota ever had, and he is an honest man and a good man. The things they are saying about him are not so at all. He is as square a man as ever lived—that is," added Mr. Hastings, "as square a republican as ever lived. I never did see a republican that was quite as square as a democrat."

Mr. Hastings left Bemidji this afternoon. Since his last visit here Mr. Hastings has the great misfortune to lose a leg, gangrene having set in from a case of diabetes. The operation was performed two months ago and Mr. Hastings has recovered as rapidly as would a young man.

HELP THEM

Money Being Raised for The Moran Family, Burned Out Yesterday.

The story of the extremity in which the family of J. J. Moran are placed by the burning of the house in which he lived yesterday as published in the Pioneer last night has aroused a great deal of sympathy for the family which has had more than its share of bad luck this year. A subscription list was circulated among the men at the mill this morning and forty or fifty dollars was raised in a short time. Senator Swedback personally circulated a list in town this afternoon and secured something more than fifty dollars and an effort will be made to supply the family with the necessities of life.

A BIG ONE

Small Boy's Impression of the Exhaust Explosion From Gasoline Engine.

Today two small boys sat on the sidewalk near the Pioneer office when the presses in the press room were all at work and the exhaust from the gasoline engine was making a good deal of a racket. Suddenly there was an unusually heavy explosion from the exhaust and both boys nearly jumped out of their overalls. When they came back to earth and had felt it carefully to satisfy themselves that it was the real thing one of them gasped out:

"Golly, but that scared me, didn't it you?"
"I should say," said the other, "Gee! but they must have printed a big paper that time!"

Cass by 1000.

A. G. Bernard of the Cass Lake Voice, and the man to whom Cass Lake owes more than to anyone else or any dozen else, was in the city this morning. Discussing the political situation in Cass county Mr. Bernard informs the Pioneer that he claims 1000 majority for Dunn in the county and the democrats concede 600. Mr. Bernard says that a vigorous fight is being made on Congressman Buckman but that he will be re-elected by a comfortable majority.
