

JAPS NEED THE MONEY

Man From Japan Passed Through City Last Night Enroute to San Francisco.

WILL SOLICIT FUNDS TO CARRY ON THE WAR.

Says Japan Is Not Bankrupt, But Will Accept Coin From American Japs.

A. Odana of New York city passed through the city last night enroute to San Francisco, where he will solicit funds from Japanese residents of that city which will be turned over to the Mikado as an aid to carry on the present war between Japan and Russia. He will visit all the coast cities where former citizens of Japan abide and will take all the cash offered him for the good of the cause. He has already made visits to the leading cities of the United States and has met with much encouragement, having turned over several thousands of dollars to the Japanese government.

Mr. Odana is very well educated, having attended the common schools as well as several colleges in New York city, and speaks English fluently. He said that he was confident of Japan's success in the struggle now in progress and that he thought the war would be over inside of six months providing the winter does not prove too severe. "Everywhere sympathy is with us," said Mr. Odana, "and during my travels through the large cities of this country I have not heard a word against Japan. We are in the right and should win." He has already remitted several large sums of money to the Japanese government officials which have been solicited by him from American sympathizers.

SCHMIDT IS JOHNNY WISE

Northome Man Who Disappeared in St. Paul Visited the World's Fair.

WAS IN ST. LOUIS WHILE FRIENDS SEARCHED FOR HIM.

Will Return to Northome and Devote His Attention to the Homestead.

Otto Schmidt, the "Northome sixteen-thousand-aire," is in Minneapolis safe and sound. While his friends were fearing that he had been foully dealt with by Minneapolis thugs, who were after his $16,000 he was in St. Louis, watching the windup of the world's fair.

A Minneapolis tailor made two suits of clothes for Schmidt and another suit was for a friend of Schmidt's who had stood by him in earlier days. As soon as the suits were ready they went to St. Louis. Two days ago they returned to Minneapolis. They have been there since.

Schmidt is stopping at one of the hotels. He reported at police headquarters yesterday afternoon, after learning through the papers that he was believed to have been the victim of foul play. He had heard that the police had arrested a man on the charge of spending his money.

"All this talk about my throwing my $16,000 away is foolish," said Schmidt. "I'm going to put a lot of it into my claim up near Northome. I spent about $200 in Northome the day after I got the money. I don't deny that I drank. Then I came to Minneapolis, ordered some suits. I am going to Chicago and then I will go back to Northome."

"Don't be afraid of me flashing any rolls around Minneapolis. I'm Mr. Wisentein with the dough. It won't do any good to hit me on the head, for I don't bear the coin. And it won't do any good to coax, because I'm a stony-hearted jailor."

First Dance.
The Bemidji orchestra has arranged to give a grand ball at the city hall on next Thursday evening, Dec. 15, and bills have been posted announcing the event. The feature of the occasion will be the music, which will furnished by a five piece orchestra.

JABE HINES STILL BUSY

Minnesota Dowieite Secures Options Upon Blackduck Village Real Estate.

WILL CARRY DOWIEISM INTO CONFINES OF VILLAGE.

Options Hold Until Jan. 1, When Purpose of Company Will Be Known.

The mysterious company which is represented by Jabez Hines, the Blackduck Dowieite, is still securing options upon lands near that village, and the latest reports are to the effect that Mr. Hines made a deal for the purchase of a large amount of real estate situated within the limits of the up-line town, and that Dowieism will be carried into the heart of the village. It is known positively that he has made overtures to several citizens of Blackduck for the purchase of their realty holdings in the village, and it is stated upon good authority that he has secured options upon several of the business institutions.

What purpose the company has for purchasing real estate within the village limits of Blackduck can only be guessed at, but in view of the fact that Mr. Hines is such a radical exponent of Dowieism, it is believed that a colony of many hundreds of people will make its home near Blackduck.

Secured Wolf Bounty.
L. W. Aldrich of the town of Eckles was in the city this morning and secured payment from County Auditor Moon of a wolf bounty upon a large male wolf which he killed some time ago. Mr. Aldrich applied for the bounty last week but was refused on account of an irregularity of the certificate of the town clerk which is necessary to secure the bounty.

Meetings Grow Larger.

Mr. Peterson is a very fluent speaker and his sermons are listened to with great interest by all those who attend the meetings.

According to advices received yesterday by sheriffs throughout northern Minnesota, the murderer of Sheriff Harris of Eau Claire, Wis., is still at large. Want Court Commissioners.

A petition is being circulated among settlers in all townships in northern Minnesota which contain homesteads asking the department of the interior to allow them to transact their land business before the United States commissioner as they were privileged to do before the new ruling went into effect. Under this ruling, they are compelled to go to either Duluth, Crookston or Cass Lake, or other points far away, which means a trip of over 1,900 miles by rail. If the petition is allowed, the settlers will be greatly benefited.

Bagley Is Good.

P. C. Bjorneby came in from Bagley this afternoon. Mr. Bjorneby says that a large amount of logging will be done in the vicinity of Bagley this winter and lumbermen have erected camps and made other necessary arrangements for a heavy winter's work. As a result the town is booming and much business is being transacted by the merchants.
