A Progess of Year.

THE year of 1905 has been a notable one in the development of Beltrami county. Two new roads into new territory have been built, opening for settlement some of the finest lands in the state of Minnesota, covered with hard woods and of a rich rolling soil, easily drained, and once cleared, destined to become among the most valuable agricultural lands in the northwest. New towns have already been platted along the lines of these new roads and that section of Beltrami county between Bemidji and the great Red Lake will quadruple in population within the next eighteen months. These two roads, in addition, help to make Bemidji the most important railroad center in north central Minnesota, and the proposed road from this city to Detroit will make Bemidji a division point on more than one railroad and a railroad town of the first importance in northern Minnesota. Development of the resources of Beltrami county has hardly begun. We have been too busy cutting off pine, When the pine is all gone Beltrami county will have made a good start toward permanent growth and its progress from that time on will be steady and rapid.

Gaining Headway.

THE meeting of the executive committee of the state drainage league at St. Paul, Saturday was well attended and attracted general attention, so much so, that it constitutes another long tride toward the speedy solution of the drainage problem.

The one great obstacle to the carrying out of a comprehensive policy of drainage has been the ignorance, and consequently the indifference, of the people of the state as to what drainage means and what it will accomplish. The state drainage league has already done a great work in stirring the state to a realization that drainage means more to the state as a whole than has been supposed. The Crookston meeting of the league, the meeting with the Duulth Commercial Club and last week's meeting of the executive committe of the league have done much for drainage.

At the meeting Saturday a committee was appointed on education and the work of this com mittee, which will issue bulletins from time to time, will go a long way toward convincing our representatives, both state and nation, of the need of systematic aid from the government.

every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and prepares the system for the more serious diseases, among which are the two greatest destroyers of human life, pneumonia and consumption.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

has won its great popularity by its ailment. It aids expectoration, re-lieves the lungs and opens the secretions, effecting a speedy and permanent cure. It counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia.

THE COUNTRY

The oyster has his day again.

Eastward the march of woodsmen takes its way.

Ada's saw mill, after a stunt of 8,000,000, quits for the season.

The Wadena cracker is in pretty much everybody's mouth.

The Mizphah Message opines that John D. is the "feller" who has the "rocks."

The Sentinel loves the charter alright—almost as much as it loves the Pioneer.

"Pat Crowe has been called in from circulation," is a good one by the Crookston Times.

There are many mouths to feed and the demand for north country flour is enormous.

Pe ham will build a city hall when it can find a contractor who can do it with eight thousand dollars.

Fall is that season of the year when housecleaning days fall with awful weight upon the unhappy head of the house.

The secretary of the state drainage league protests that he should not be suspected of draining the league's money into his own pockets and declares there is not much to drain anyhow. Probably not-now.

Maybe the Indian would waste his substance in riotous living did the government give him own once for all. Maybe the need to earn his bread by the sweat of his brow would make a man of him afterward.
