THE CONSERVATISM OF OUR DAY.

Mr. Rockefeller's recent remarks touching the interdependence of the great coporation and the wage earner and the general consumer would issue with more force from another mouth than that of the creator and chief beneficiary of the Standard Oil Company. Possibly they might have been more convincing even from him if they had been uttered at another time. As a sort of interlude between Mr. Commissioner Smith's two reports what effect they may have had has been distinctly ironic and unintentional.

This crying of "peace, peace, when there is no peace" is and must be futile. Happily the best type of business man and the public at large understand very clearly that these protests beg the whole question, and recognize that while there is grave danger from unwise legislation and indiscriminate prosecution, there is imperative reason for thorough investigation and courageous consideration, for just and expedient legislation, for fearless and effectual prosecution of lawbreaking corporations and individuals.

Happily, too, men of leading in the great activities of the business world have had the candor and patriotism to give their public adhesion to the legitimate work of reform. There should be more of this candor and patriotism, and less of the disingenuousness and willful irrelevancy which characterizes the pronouncement of Mr. Rockefeller.

American history is a great conservative period, an inspired and inspiring period whose unrest is the spirit of righteousness at work triumphantly in the national consciousness. It is not a period in which greed, though it be buttressed by billions, will prevail. It is not a period when the hearts of Americans need falter at the perils and problems which it faces. It is a period full of faith and hope and not without charity; a period which with its renewed ideals will work out the highest, the broadest, most inclusive wellbeing.

If follies and injustices have been and are being committed, the American people and their representatives will know how to correct them. We are a kindly and justice-seeking people and what is finally achieved will be achieved "with malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right."

Confesses brutal murder.
Marselles, Aug. 1.—Vero St. Leger Gould has confessed here that he was the murderer of Emma Levin, a wealthy Swedish woman whose dismembered body was found in the trunks of Gould and his wife upon their arrival here Aug. 6 from Monte Carlo. Gould made his confession to the examining magistrate. He related fully all the details of the horrible crime. He alone had slain the woman, he declared, and it was he who had cut up the body, although his wife had helped him pack it away in their bag-

RECORD TO BE LOOKED INTO

Attorney General Bonaparte Notifies the Court That the Railroad Had Been Promised Immunity Prior to Indictment of Oil Trust.

"The court directed the district attorney to lay before you the evidence respecting the rates charged by the Chicago and Alton Railroad company of certain property of the Standard Oil company. Since this direction was given I have received a communication from the attorney general of the United States, the substance of which is that prior to the indictment of the Standard Oil company the then United States district attorney made an arrangement with the officials of the Chicago and Alton railroad under which it was not to be proceeded against provided it would assist the prosecution, in good faith, with evidence and witnesses in the matter then pending.

Grave Questions Presented.

"In view of this it is the conviction of the attorney general that good faith requires the department of justice to do what it can to make good the district attorney's assurance; and this presents a very grave question, because it is of the utmost importance that no offender should undeservedly escape punishment for crime on any such plea, as well as that even the criminal may not truthfully charge the government of the United States with bad faith.

"What this arrangement was the court does not know, but assumes it possibly may have provided that the Chicago and Alton company should emancipate those who act and speak for it from all obligation to deceive and mislead the jury on the trial lately closed. If this be true whatever officer of the department of justice is charged with the task of determining what shall be that department's attitude must carefully consider the transcript of the testimony of those railway agents in order that he may intelligently decide whether the Chicago and Alton road is entitled to immunity.

"Whether the grand jury acts upon this matter will depend entirely upon the conclusions this official may reach. The jury is therefore at liberty to take a recess until Sept. 3."

The transcript of the record in the Standard Oil case will be sent to Attorney General Bonaparte for examination and if he concludes that the railroad fulfilled its promises in the Standard Oil case the grand jury will not investigate further.

Des Moines Youth Faces Prison as a Result

Des Moines, Aug. 15.—Taking the chance of a long term in prison to discover by his sweating that the money was really a young millionaire, Robert Stevens, nineteen years old, has been stealing automobiles nightly to take the young woman for fast drives into the country. Stevens was arrested just as he was starting out with a machine owned by H. M. Trisler.

Stevens was in the habit of taking the first automobile he could find without the owner, then driving a forty or fifty-mile ride with the girl. After allowing drive Stevens would abandon the machine.

Threatened General Strike on the Harriman Lines Averted.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 15.—The boilermakers of the Southern Pacific are jubilant with the probable happy ending of the threatened general strike on the Harriman lines. At a conference between a committee of the boilermakers and Patrick Sheedy, local superintendent of motive power, it was agreed that all men be taken back, including the discharged boilermakers and helpers. The conference followed the resignation of Foreman Carter of the local shops, whose removal was demanded because of alleged discrimination against the strikers on whose account $69 men from El Paso, Tex., to Portland, Ore., are out on strike. It is expected that the agreement will be ratified by both sides and that the men will return to work over the district. Carter resigned after the boilermakers gave the company twenty-four hours to accede
