

Always the Same

Amusements.

Did you ever meet the man that knows it all? Have you ever had to sit and listen to the hot air bleater who from a babe was raised on the bottle of "I'm it."

If you ever have, you remember well the desire that came over you to push him with your foot or otherwise rude to him. Then perhaps he blundered and in his supreme self conceit fell into a trap while the crowd around visibly enjoyed the joke.

Dave Gally, an unassuming young fellow, although a clever actor, had just such an experience this summer and in this instance the knowing one will probably think twice before he talks again on foreign countries and cities. It happened in the Cadillac hotel on Broadway New York. Gally and his friends were in the lobby having a pleasant chat over the past summer vacations. The wise one butted in and in a loud tone gave every one to understand that he had just returned from a three months trip

MR. DAVID B. GALLY IN "WE ARE KING"

over the European continent. He monopolized the whole conversation. It appeared that he had been everywhere, knew everybody and in short was the best traveled man in America. Gally said little, but when the traveller dilated on Germany, the beauties of the Rhine, and the old rathskellers he quietly inquired.

"How did you like Kahnsbug?" Not a bit feazed, the Wisenheimer replied.

"Great my boy. Finest little town I ever struck. More pretty girls there to the inch than flies in the kitchen here."

"That's good," said the actor, "and do you know you remind me very much of the Kahnburg girls."

"Indeed," smiled the traveler very much tickled. Then he got the lemon.

"Yes," said the actor as he turned and walked away "You both lived in imagination."

Later Mr. Wisenheimer discovered that David Gally is the star of "We Are King," the romantic comedy which has its scenes laid in the imaginary principality of Kahnburg, a name which is but a product of the brain of the author, and has no real existence.

All of which goes to show that the wisest of the wise fall.

New Recorder at Nymore.

Fred Hammond has been elected village recorder of the Village of Nymore to take the place of E. E. Beck, who resigned about three months ago. The council has been unable to do any business for the past three months as the vote on recorder stood two to two. Much accumulated business was transacted last Thursday evening, and everything is going along as before.

CONFERENCE AT FRENCH LICK

Members of Committee Guests of the Chairman at His Indiana Resort. Formal Meeting Likely to Be Held in Washington.

French Lick, Ind., Nov. 21.—Members of the national Democratic committee are gathering here to attend an informal conference which will decide upon the time and place for a formal meeting of the committee at which the time and place for holding the next national convention will be selected. About twenty members of the committee are here and others are expected later. Many of the members are accompanied by their families and nearly all will remain over Sunday as the guests of National Chairman Taggart. Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, St. Louis, Louisville, Cincinnati, Atlantic City, Denver and Long Branch, N. J., are applicants for the convention. Chairman Taggart said that the formal meeting of the committee would probably be held at Washington in December. Mr. Taggart favors Washington as the place of meeting. A close friend of Chairman Taggart said that Mr. Taggart would like to be relieved of the chairmanship of the committee, but would still like to represent Indiana on the committee.

C. F. PERSONS PASSES AWAY

Well Known Newspaper Man Dies at Stamford, Conn.

New York, Nov. 21.—Charles F. Persons, until recently vice president and assistant general manager of the American Press Association, New York city, died at Stamford, Conn. Mr. Persons was born in Rushford, N. Y., fifty-three years ago and educated at the nearby schools and learned the printer's trade on the Cattaraugus Republican at Little Valley, N. Y. Later he started the Bradford (Pa.) Era at the time the Bradford oil fields were opened. From Bradford he moved to Olean, N. Y., where for many years he was editor and proprietor of the Olean Daily Herald.

About twenty years ago he became manager of the American Press Association's New York office, was promoted to secretary and assistant general manager and still later became vice president and assistant general manager. He was taken ill a year ago and went to California to recuperate, but the change did not prove beneficial. Three weeks ago Mrs. Persons died. Mr. Persons is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Frederick E. Gwinn, Jr., and Miss Marjorie Persons.

Iowa Central Switchmen Ordered to Resume Work.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Striking switchmen at Oskaloosa, Ia., have been told by First Vice President S. E. Haeblerling of the Switchmen's union of North America to walk back again or lose their charter.

The switchmen, with headquarters at Oskaloosa, who are employed by the Iowa Central railroad, recently presented a new agreement to the railroad for ratification. All the articles were satisfactory to the railroad except the one which required the railroad to pay claims for total disability and the switchmen were requested to eliminate that clause. They refused, the company stood firm and the men walked out.

The facts were immediately telegraphed to F. T. Hawley, president of the Switchmen's union of North America, Buffalo, N. Y., and he in turn instructed First Vice President Haeblerling to go to Oskaloosa and revoke the charter unless the men went back to work at once.
