Crookston, April 11.—Jos Lobsinger, northern Pacific cashier at Grand Forks, was run over and killed by an east bound train in the north part of this city Thursday morning at 5:45. All Not Lost When Youth Has Gone.

Youth may not believe that there is something left in life when youth is past. The "frowsy old frumps" on whom wits and caricaturists expended their shafts are now exceptions. The bright old lady, keen of wit, active in mind and cultivated of spirit, has replaced her. She is bound by no hard and fast conventional rules of dress or conduct. Like the people who do away with fires on a certain date and resume them on another are the women who "begin caps" at thirty-five and wear "dowager dresses and mantles" at fifty. Far more sensible are those who wear what is comfortable and do what is permissible in the way of travel in far lands, when home ties drop away from them, as they are likely to do at sixty or seventy years.—Ladies' Pictorial.

Spring vigor demands that the winter dirt be cleaned up. Back yards, gardens, lawns and the house from basement to garret all need the great annual house cleaning.

It is surprising how weather beaten the spring sun makes that old paint look. Brighten up the old place. You will be surprised at the good results if you use Minnesota Paints and Kyanize Varnishes.

For other helps we have lots of lawn and garden rakes, hoes, shovels, forks, wheel barrows, fence, poultry netting, mops, mop wringers, washing machines, clothes wringers, ironing boards, sad irons, curtain stretchers, step ladders and everything needed in the great clean up.

We will store your stove and insure it. Call us up and we will send good efficient men to get your stove.
