BOTH ARMIES ARE RESTING ON ARMS

Mexican Belligerents Awaiting Reinforcements.

Presidio, Tex., Jan. 7.—With reinforcements rushing to the aid of both armies the Mexican federals and rebels at Ojinaga, who have been battling for eight days, rested on their arms.

Federals declare General Benjamin Argumedo, with 4,000 troops, is coming to their relief from Torreon and assert 12,000 other federals are marching only one day behind. Argumedo plans to attack General Ortega's rebels from the rear.

Simultaneously 3,000 rebels have been sent from Chihuahua under command of General Herrera. Argumedo should arrive before the end of the week. His troops are racing, however, with Herrera's to gain La Mula pass, as it is conceded that whichever force arrives there first will have a strong strategic advantage.

Mrs. Lyle will have to respond next Monday and give some reason why an injunction should not be issued to hush the bells at least during the sleeping hours.

FIVE PERISH WHEN HOTEL IS BURNED

Six Others Seriously Injured at Newark, O.

Newark, O., Jan. 7.—Five men are dead and half a dozen seriously injured in a fire which destroyed the Kearns hotel, a second class rooming house and restaurant.

The fire was discovered shortly before 3 a. m. by Patrolman Grossa, who awakened the hotel clerk asleep on the first floor. The latter ran upstairs and aroused the guests. When he attempted to escape he found the stairway choked with flames.

He rushed through the flames and out into the street, his clothing a mass of flames.

When aroused several of the lodgers rushed to the windows and leaped to the ground in their night clothing. Others stopped to dress and five of these lost their lives. They were overcome by smoke in their rooms.

SEVENTY-FIVE MEN PERISH

Drowned When Frail Craft Hits Rock in Frazer River.

Winnipeg, Jan. 7.—Angelo Pugliese, railway laborer, brought word to the immigration department that seventy-five laborers were drowned on the Grand Trunk Pacific railway near Fort George, B. C., a few days ago.

Pugliese was attempting to cross the Frazer river with 100 others in a big barge. In spite of the swift flowing current, something not much feared by the experienced rivermen, the entire party was loaded into a barge. The boat became unmanageable and crashed into a large rock in the center of the stream. The frail craft was dashed to pieces and the human cargo plunged into the river.

Of the 100 men that boarded the boat only twenty-five were taken from the water alive and many of these were more or less seriously injured. Only five bodies were recovered.

M'ADOO OPPOSES THE PLAN

Against Proposed Huge Regional Bank at New York.

New York, Jan. 7.—Although Secretary McAdoo of the treasury department said that he had formulated no views regarding the division of the country into regional reserve districts he gave a strong intimation that he was opposed to the creation in New York of a huge regional bank embracing most of the Northeast and 40 or 50 per cent of the country's banking power.

Such a bank was advocated by New York bankers at the hearing of the federal reserve organization committee, composed of Secretary McAdoo and Secretary Houston of the department of agriculture.

"If we put 40 or 50 per cent of the banking power into a New York district," said Mr. McAdoo, "we would be obliged under the law to divide the remaining territory into seven districts that will be comparatively lean."

the agreements being signed by some of the physicians in villages and cities not to make the tests.

"The physicians who sign agreements not to make the tests, as they are doing in some communities, come dangerously near conspiracy in obstructing the administration of law," said the attorney general. "The signing of an agreement coupled with the refusal to make an examination certainly bears strong indications of a possible conspiracy. Such conditions will be looked into."

LONDON DISPUTES THE CLAIM

Denies New York Pretensions to World's Largest City.

London, Jan. 7.—The Times, in discussing the claim that Greater New York has a population of 5,476,966 against London's population of 4,618,191, points out that this estimate only takes "the administrative county of London, which is not London, but simply a unit for the purpose of self-government. It is hemmed in on every side by other such units with a combined population of nearly 3,000,000."

The newspaper says the registrar general's estimated population of Greater London was 7,411,885 as against Greater New York's 5,476,966. Even allowing that Jersey City and Newark are necessarily offshoots of New York and adding them, Greater New York, the paper insists, is still 75,000 behind Greater London.
