The Walker Pilot pleaded guilty last week to having left out a number of news items, and took the blame for it. The Sentinel-Blaze could plead guilty likewise every week, but the fault lies with the persons who knew about the news items and failed to phone them in or tell us about what happened at such and such a time. It is such an easy matter to tell the editor about the things that the only excuse that we can accept is that people have not the habit. It will make your local paper much more interesting every week.—Pine River Sentinel-Blaze.

Many patent medicines for stomach, kidneys and liver recommend drinking buttermilk to assist the action of the medicine. Then the cure was in the Buttermilk, not the medicine. Ask the Doctors.—Adv.

M. N. Koll, the well known Cass Lake land man, was in Bemidji this morning enroute to his home from Walker where he has been connected with the Mohler-Kennedy sheriff contest case. Mr. Koll says that Kennedy appears to be the winner in the contest. Mr. Koll expressed himself as being much surprised at the action of Commissioner Hayes, of Beltrami county, in denying an appropriation of $250 to the Northern Minnesota Development association, and said: "In view of the fact that the organization was organized for the development of this section and that Beltrami county has been one of those to be most substantially benefited by it, and will be benefited by it, the Hayes vote is a great surprise to me. I hope that the matter will again be brought up before the commissioners and that the new member of your board will take advantage of the opportunity to join the ranks of the county's boosters, instead of holding back." Mr. Koll has always been one of the most active workers of the association.

TEN POULTRY DON'TS FOR JANUARY

- (C. E. Brown, Poultryman, Northwest Experiment Farm, Crookston.)
- 1. Don't neglect the fowls during this cold weather. It may ruin your chances for a successful season's hatching next spring.
- 2. Don't neglect to ventilate sufficiently to keep the air within the chicken house pure and sweet at all times.
- 3. Don't forget to renew the litter on the floor often enough to keep it in a clean dry condition.
- 4. Don't permit the droppings to accumulate beneath the roosts. Remove them every day if possible.
- 5. Don't neglect to scald the drinking vessels occasionally. They should at least be rinsed each time a fresh supply of water is put in them.
- 6. Don't forget to compel the chickens to take exercise every day by scattering all whole grain in deep litter on the floor.

7. Don't forget to renew the straw in the nests before it has a chance to soil the eggs.

8. Don't neglect to supply the chickens with plenty of green food such as mangels, cabbage, alfalfa or clover hay.

9. Don't forget that laying hens require meat food in some form. Fresh meat, meat scraps, skim milk or buttermilk furnish excellent material for this requirement.

10. Don't forget that hens should be supplied with grit and oyster shell at all times.
