TO SELL THOUSANDS OF ANIMALS. WHY SHOULD WOMEN VOTE? WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE FROM THE VIEWPOINT OF LEADING FARMERS.

Farmers interested in the purchase of better live stock will have an excellent chance to buy pure-bred horses, cattle, sheep and swine at the great public livestock market which is to be held at the Minnesota State Fair, Sept. 6 to 11. Most of the noted herds, stables and flocks in America will be represented.
There are indications of unusual interest in the cattle and horse shows, a large local entry in all breeds being promised. There have been times when the exhibit of dairy cattle has been better than that at any other show in the country. The fact that special emphasis is being placed on the value of the cattle show as a place for the sale and purchase of breeding animals would indicate that a big show will result.
Horses in Demand.
The European war has created such a demand for good horses throughout the country that it is probable that more horses will be raised in the near future than ever before. Especially is this true of the Northwest, where good brood mares are employed to such an extent in doing the farm work. Breeders of good horses all over America are being urged to attend the Minnesota State Fair this year, and not only compete for the $13,215 in cash prizes but interest the buying public in their sale animals.
Farmers are being urged to visit the Minnesota State Fair for the purpose of buying good pure-bred stallions and mares for breeding purposes. As practically all the leading stables doing business in this part of the country will be represented some excellent bargains may be obtained. Attention is being called to the excellent opportunity afforded of studying the best types so that it may be easier to pick a good stallion in the raising of colts. Horses and cattle entries close Aug. 12.
Swine and Sheep.
The public markets for swine and sheep will be emphasized as much as those for horses and cattle. There is known to be a need for more sheep in the Northwest. Last year 200 sheep were sold at private sale at the Minnesota State Fair, and it is probable that a much larger number will be disposed of this year.
The twenty-three nominations for the Poland-China futurity show insure one of the largest swine shows ever held at Hamline, despite the fact that each successive year has been a record-breaking one. As usual a large sale of surplus hogs will be made to farmers in search of breeding stock. Entries for sheep and swine close Aug. 26, giving ample chance to enter within ten days of the fair.
Persons interested in the livestock show will find the earlier part of fair week more interesting than the latter part, since all the judging is generally ended by Thursday.
Harvey Johnson, principal clown with the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus, which comes to Bemidji Friday, August 13, for two performances. For fifteen years Johnson was a past master of the blue prints in his Chicago office. He was very successful and he drew the plans and superintended the construction of many buildings. One day a circus came to Chicago, and, like hundreds of others, he thought he would have to go and carry the children. He watched the clowns and underneath their makeup he saw the seriousness with which they worked. It impressed him. He then studied the art and secured a job. His work was successful from the start. It is a very difficult act that Mr. Johnson cannot get a burlesque of some kind on. Some of his stunts for this year are: "The Suffragette Parade," "Mutt and Jeff," "The Atlantic City Boardwalk" and "Broadway After Dark." Mr. Johnson has forty-nine clowns assisting him in his work.

It has been arranged to give the participants of "Billy in Japan" a trip up the lake next Sunday.—International Falls Press.
Last week an article in the Pioneer mentioned that certain bathing suits worn by girl swimmers were being observed with criticism by some, so little comment being aroused as the result, and the following from the Louisville Courier-Journal is not so bad: Bathing suits are one-third off this week. Next week, though, they may be one-half off. "Then buy now," suggested her husband, "one-third off is bad enough."
Mrs. Alvin Mattson and little son, Donovan, who have been the guests of Mrs. Mattson's cousin, Albert Worth, and wife for the past several weeks, have returned to their home. Why should women vote? That is the question that is ringing from ocean to ocean and reverberating from the Canadian boundary to the Mexican border. It is the mission of a newspaper to give the news and the action of the Texas Farmers' Union in opposing woman's suffrage when that question was recently before the Texas legislature is significant as representing the attitude of the organized blowmen. We reproduce in part the argument presented by Hon. W. D. Lewis, president of the Texas Farmers' Union, in opposing the bill:
"It is gratifying to note that it is not the farmer's wife who is clamoring for the ballot. She is too busy trying to make happier homes, molding the minds of future citizens and sharing with her husband the cares of life to indulge in political gossip. The ballot will give her no relief from drudgery, give no assistance in clothing the children or bring to the home additional comforts, conveniences or opportunities in life. It is, as a rule, the city woman promoted to idleness by prosperity, who is leading the suffragette movement.
"From many standpoints, perhaps a woman has as much right to vote as a man. So has she as much right to plow as a man; she has as much right to work in a factory as a man; she has as much right to shoulder a musket as a man, but we would rather she would not do so from choice and we regret that necessity oftentimes compels her to earn a living by engaging in gainful occupations. We do not consider misfortune a qualification for suffrage or a business accident a reason for granting franchise. We are opposed to woman at the ballot box the same as we are opposed to woman in the field, in the factory or in the army and for the self-same reasons. We had rather see her plant flowers than sow wheat; gather bouquets than pick cotton and rear children than raise political issues, although she may have as much right to do one as the other.
Opposed to Unsexing Humanity.
"Sex qualification for suffrage may have its apparent inconsistencies. No general rule admits itself perfectly to all conditions. It is a favorite argument advanced by the proponents of woman's suffrage that many cultivated and noble women are far more capable of intelligently exercising sovereignty than a worthless negro, but the South never was anxious for negro suffrage, and while culture and refinement, and even morality, are desirable virtues, they are not the only qualifications for franchise.
"The primary, inherent and inseparable fitness for suffrage is supporting a family. The plow handle, the forge and the struggle for bread afford experience necessary to properly mark the ballot. Government is a great big business and civilization from the very beginning assigned woman the home and man the business affairs of life.
"There has been much freakish legislation enacted during the past decade that no doubt appeals to woman's love for the ridiculous, but to undertake to unsex the human race by law is the height of legislative folly and a tragedy to mankind.
"We are opposed to the equal rights of woman—we want her to ever remain our superior. We consider woman's desire to seek man's level, the yellow peril of Twentieth Century civilization.
"Woman is the medium through which angels whisper their messages to mankind; it is her hand that plants thoughts in the intellectual vineyard; it is through her heart that hope, love and sympathy overflow and bless mankind. Christ—the liberator of woman-kind—was satisfied to teach the lessons of life and He was a man. He chose to rule over human hearts and refused worldly power and men followed after Him, women washed His feet, little children climbed upon His knees and the Ruler of the universe said that in Him He was well pleased. Can woman find a higher calling?"
