NEW STATUTE MAKES HAVING LIQUOR IN TERRITORY MORE SERIOUS

Hibbing, Minn., June 7.—Con- sideration is now apparent among the former liquor dealers here over information received through their lawyers that a new revision of the Federal statutes which became effective May 18 makes possession of liquor in the territory prima facie evidence of its introduction. Samples are said to have been taken by the Indian agents recently of all liquor destroyed in bar rooms, which samples, it is believed, will be taken before the Federal grand jury in July for the purpose of securing indictments against the liquor men for bootlegging.

When questioned regarding the purpose of sampling of liquor destroyed in local saloons, Indian agents were not willing to discuss the matter: They would neither affirm or deny knowledge of the new constitution of those portions of the Federal statutes as refer to possession of liquor within the Indian territory and state that it is their custom to take samples of all liquor they destroy.

According to the wording of the new revision of the statutes the burden of proof is now switched from the government to the persons having liquor in their possession and the person found with liquor will have to prove or at least furnish some evidence that he got it after its introduction.

The revised wording of the paragraph in the statutes referred to are as follows: "The provisions of section 2140 and 2141 of the Revised Statutes of the United States shall also apply to beer and other intoxicating liquors named in the act of Jan. 13, 1897, and the possession by a person of intoxicating liquors in the country where the introduction is prohibited by treaty or Federal statute shall be prima facie evidence of unlawful introduction."

NEW NORTHERN PACIFIC LITERATURE IS ISSUED

Several of the Northern Pacific railway's latest booklets describing trips to the Pacific Northwest have just been received here. They include late photographs of Yellowstone Park, leading to Gardiner, as well as other scenic places along the line.

More attention is paid to this literature to the Puget Sound country and Alaska than heretofore. Color illustrations and accurate analysis of the region known as the "Land of Fortune" gives the latest efforts of the railway company a dignity and effect that will no doubt cause increased travel and immigration to the Northwest during 1916.

Other literature will soon be issued by the Northern Pacific calling attention to the unduplicated scenic wonders of the Yellowstone, Rainier and other of Uncle Sam's national parks along that line.

CONVENTION CHEERING

Chicago, June 7.—The Republican convention of 1880 was the first in which a woman spectator was "used" to force a demonstration by brandishing a flag and shouting a candidate's name. The same ruse has been used in practically every convention of both parties, since.

History records that the 1880 Republican convention cheered Blaine's name 35 minutes and Grant's 30 minutes. This was the first record.

Demonstrations in conventions since that time frequently continued for 45 and 50 minutes, and indeed, in 1908 at the Democratic convention, Bryan's adherents Nebraska for nearly an hour and a half.
