Advantages of Buying Advertised Goods

Merchandise that is advertised moves much faster than that which is not, and therefore the stock is kept new and up-to-date. There are no shopworn, slow sellers to be disposed of in the store that keeps the advertising columns at work selling goods.

And you can always depend upon the quality of advertised articles. The merchant's reputation is back of his merchandise and he cannot jeopardize it by misrepresenting his goods even the least bit.

Furthermore, the dealer's newspaper announcement usually offers money-saving bargains, and every thrifty person should take full advantage of such opportunities. Read the advertisements today.

* MME. PETROVA AT *
* GRAND TONIGHT *

Mme. Petrova, the great emotional actress, will be seen on the screen here at the Grand theater tonight in "The Eternal Question," a five-part Metro wonderplay produced by the Popular Plays and Players.

This is easily the best production in which Mme. Petrova has ever been starred, on either the stage or screen. She is given an opportunity, for the first time since she has been in America to display her remarkable versatility.

In the early chapters of the story she is seen as a princess in royal surroundings. Next she is an immigrant girl, playing a hand organ in the streets of New York, and soon afterwards as a society woman.

I. W. W. WORKERS MAKE DEATH THREAT AT CASS LAKE VILLAGE

Ashland, Wis., Aug. 17.—Rodney McDougal and Olaf Erickson returned to Ashland following a fruitless attempt to reach the harvest fields of the Dakotas. Because they were not members of the I. W. W. they were held up at Cass Lake by a gang of that organization, who threatened them with death if they attempted to reach the harvesting without joining the "I Wont Workers."

According to the young men, they stopped over night at Superior. They were arrested by the police on suspicion of belonging to the I. W. W. Although both denied the charges, they said they were haled into court the next morning and fined on charges of vagrancy.

Desiring to put as much room as possible between themselves and the authorities there, they boarded a train at once, intending to go to the harvest fields without loss of time. They reached Cass Lake without trouble, but when the train stopped there, and they went onto the platform to stretch their legs, they were approached by four individuals who demanded they show the red card that gives the right of the I. W. W. to travel around in the United States.

Both attempted to argue, claiming that the United States was a free country and they could go where and when they pleased. One of the gang, who seemed to be leader, informed them that while certain sections of the country might be open, they were in a restricted section at the present time. One of three courses was open to them: Join the I. W. W. and proceed; give up their quest of work and turn back, or proceed without a card and lose their lives. The pair turned back.

FARGO OPENS ITS CAMPAIGN FOR FEDERAL LAND BANK

Fargo, N. D., Aug. 17.—With a conference of the Federal farm land board set for September 1, the Fargo Commercial club has opened a campaign for the establishment of one of the proposed banks in this city.

Fargo's claim as a shipping center will be the plea about which the city will build its case for the location of a bank here.

There are many things in our stock, many people wonder where to buy. If it's for the office, we believe we have it. At any rate, it will not take long to get it for you. That's part of our business also. The Pioneer Office.

CUTTING CLOVER.

When farmers learn to handle clover so as to make the best quality of hay they will appreciate its value more and less frequently remark that they prefer timothy. Clover should be cut when in full bloom. The mower should be followed by the tedder to loosen up the swath, letting in the air so that it can cure evenly. The clover should not be left to burn up in the sun, but should be raked up as soon as nicely wilted. The aim should be to cure the hay in the wind-row or pile rather than to let it lie too long exposed to the sun. If it lies overnight in the wind-row it is advisable to go along with forks and turn the wind-rows over the next morning as soon as the dew is off.

Two or three men can in a short time turn over a good sized field, and in a little while the hay is ready to haul in, although something always depends on the season as to the time it takes to cure the clover. If the season is a wet one and the clover heavy it will take twice as long as when the season is drier and the clover lighter and less sappy. —Farm Journal.

THE NATION IS SHOCKINGLY UNPREPARED.

It is apparent that we are shockingly unprepared. There is no room for controversy on this point since the object lesson on the Mexican border. All our available regular troops (less, I believe, than 40,000) are there or in Mexico, and as these have been deemed insufficient the entire National Guard has been ordered out; that is, we are summoning practically all our movable military forces in order to present bandit incursions. In view of the warnings of the past three years, it is inexcusable that we should find ourselves in this plight. For our faithful guardsmen, who with a fine patriotism responded to this call and are bearing this burden, I have nothing but praise. But I think it little short of absurd that we should be compelled to call men from their shops, their factories, their offices and their professions for such a purpose. This, however, is not all. The units of the National Guard were at peace strength, which was only about one-half the required strength. It was necessary to bring in recruits, for the most part raw and untrained. Only a small percentage of the regiments recruited up to war strength will have had even a year's training in the National Guard, which at the maximum means one hundred hours of military drill, and, on the average, means much less. Men fresh from their peaceful employments and physically unprepared have been hurried to the border for actual service. They were without proper equipment; without necessary supplies; suitable conditions of transportation were not provided. Men with dependent families were sent; and conditions which should have been well known were discovered after the event. And yet the exigency, comparatively speaking, was not a very grave one. It involved nothing that could not readily have been foreseen during the past three years of disturbance, and required only a modest talent for organization. That this Administration while pursuing its course in Mexico should have permitted such conditions to exist is almost incredible.—From Mr. Hughes' speech of acceptance.
