A NEW CALENDAR. "Why not adopt a new calendar?" asks Rev. H. P. Hames, a Spokane minister.

"Nothing doing," say we, "the old one is hard enough to keep track of." But to show that a new calendar is not an idle question, Rev. Mr. Hames has figured it out carefully and proposes that on January 1, 1922, the world (by common consent of the inhabitants) adopt one he has made up.

His unique proposal calls for 13 months of 28 days each, the unlucky one to be termed "Holiday" and to be sandwiched in between June and July. That would accommodate 364 days of the year. The extra or 365th day is not counted in any month, but precedes the first day of January as New Year's day.

He also has arranged to take care of the extra day on leap year. He would have this fall in the new month of Holiday, between Saturday, Holiday 14th, and Sunday, Holiday 15th, and he proposes to call it Leap Year day and treat it just as New Year's is treated. Under the Hames perpetual calendar system each month would begin on Sunday and end on Saturday.

Some of the advantages which he ascribes to the system are: Each month has the same number of days—like a school month. The same date in each month falls on the same day of the week. A printed civil calendar for each month are identical with those of the first month.

The calendar is good for all time to come, and, like Bill Nye's Railway Guide, "will be just as good two years ago as it was next spring." Holidays, anniversaries, etc., are easily fixed or transferred. It will facilitate business calculations. A month will mean 28 and not 29; 30 or 31 days. Wages by the week, fortnight and month are readily adjusted without even referring to the calendar, which is easily committed to memory.

This calendar could, by general consent, be adopted Sunday, January 1, 1922, without disturbing in the least the present calendar.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS. Infantile paralysis is spreading rapidly throughout the state. Data compiled by Dr. A. J. Chesley, director, Division of Preventable Diseases; State Board of Health, shows there have been since the first of the year, 27 deaths and 309 reported cases.

Cases and deaths are increasing rapidly. During the past month 262 cases have been reported and there have been 17 deaths; 45 of the 86 counties of the state have had cases. The present epidemic caught the Division of Preventable Diseases of this state in a seriously handicapped condition. There have been only enough funds to employ two experienced field workers for the entire state. Although an emergency appropriation has been granted at best it is but a make-shift.

Dr. I. J. Murphy of the Minnesota Public Health association comments upon the present predicament as follows: "This prosperous state should leave at the disposal of the Division of Preventable Diseases a fund large ten field workers permanently. Then the state could be districted and some one man could be held responsible for the sanitary condition of a certain group of counties. This is the plan in force in New York and Massachusetts where real effective public health work is being done.

"Our Division of Preventable Diseases has done remarkably well with its present small staff. Its director, Dr. A. J. Chesley, is considered the best man in his line in the whole United States. He can do the work of several men but he can not do what should be done by a dozen. He should be provided with at least ten district supervisors."

REMEMBER MAINE.

"The way Maine goes the country goes," is an old political saying. And it is for that reason that the eyes of the country are on the outcome of the Maine election, which takes place on Sept. 11. Republican managers profess to be extremely optimistic regarding the outcome of the election. Two senators, a governor and four members of the house will be chosen. The Republicans base their optimism largely on the fact that the combined Republican and Progressive vote in 1912 exceeded Mr. Wilson's vote by 24,000 votes, and the further fact that before the outbreak of the European war Maine industries were suffering severely from the effects of the Underwood tariff.

AN EXPLANATION.

There have been many inquiries as to whether Governor Hughes voted for the woman suffrage amendment in the New York election last fall. A dignitary of the supreme court states that Justice Hughes did not go home to vote, and says that it is a traditional practice of the justices of the supreme court not to participate in their state elections, even to the extent of voting. Only one, Justice Moody, has gone home to vote within the memory of the present members of the court.

The Central Minnesota Jefferson highway has perfected its organization and is already maintaining its share of the road. It is time that the Northern Minnesota association gets

WOMAN DECLARES IT TO BE SUCCESSFUL BUT OTHERS FAILED

Mrs. Boyd, Minneapolis, Says Tanlac Brought Relief Many Remedies Couldn't Produce.

"CERTAINLY IS A GRAND MEDICINE," SHE ASSERTS

Minneapolis, Minn., August 18.—Another interesting statement that glistens and glows with a real concern for others was given on June 5, by Mrs. D. Boyd, of 4423 Minnehaha avenue, this city. "My system was just all run down," Mrs. Boyd said. "I had stomach and kidney trouble. I suffered an attack of paralysis three years ago and never have been the same since that time. My kidneys were extremely weak and irregular. Gas would form on my stomach after eating, due to indigestion and my appetite was very poor. I have taken three bottles of the medicine now and I have not been bothered with the kidney trouble for some time. The gas formations no longer appear and my system generally is in good order. I am gaining strength rapidly. Tanlac certainly is a grand medicine. It helped me where other remedies failed and I recommend it to all."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and the like and has proven a fine reconstructive tonic. Tanlac is now being specially introduced and explained in Bemidji at the Barker Drug company.—Adv.
