

YOUR ATTENTION A MOMENT!

LET'S GO-PHER FUN is the new slogan which has been adopted by the Minnesota State Fair, Sept. 4 to 9, in presenting its entertainment features to the public. LET'S GO-PHER FUN! FUN is RIGHT! There never was a bigger, cleaner, more wholesome recreation program than the one offered at Hamline this year. Then LET'S GO-PHER FUN!

SPEED RECORDS WILL BE SMASHED GALORE at the coming Minnesota State Fair. Not only are the Grand Circuit entries in the 4-days' horse racing program the best which the game affords, but the small army of auto race drivers Hamline-bound from all points of the compass is going after dirt track records with a vengeance. More cars and drivers are entered in the auto races, Wednesday, Sept. 6, and Saturday, Sept. 9, than have ever appeared at one meet in the Northwest. The $10,000.00 in prizes has attracted a score of the dirt track speed kings, including Hearne, LeCocq, Endicott, Koetzla, Clark, Raimy, Horey, Hoffman, Kilpatrick, DeCraft, Woodbury, Johnny Mais, Kessler, Kizer, Klem and several others. A 75-mile continuation race, an International State Fair championship race, an Australian pursuit race, several world's time trials, and many short races will feature the big gathering. LET'S GO-PHER FUN!

PLAY BALL! A dozen of the snappiest ball teams in the Northwest are getting ready for the big tournament at the Minnesota State Fair this year. These teams are eating pepper sauce three times a day in preparation for the big series. A big baseball diamond has been laid out in front of the Grandstand, and from 10,000 to 25,000 persons will be given the privilege of witnessing the games each day. Cash prizes amounting to $450 are to be awarded, as well as five gigantic trophies. The Twin City championship is to be decided Monday, Sept. 4, while the teams outside of the Twin Cities will fight it out the rest of the week. Big Bill Brennan, umpire in the National League for eight years, arbiter in two world's series, and Umpire-in-Chief of the Federal League, is to handle the indicator.

IS AMERICA PREPARED FOR WAR! This is the important problem which DeLloyd Thompson, the intrepid birdman, has taken as the subject for an impressive preparedness demonstration each evening of the State Fair. Sweeping in from outside of the Fair Grounds each evening, Thompson, seated in a 300-horsepower war plane, will drop bombs upon the Grandstand, the Woman's Building, and other parts of the Grounds, in a fanciful effort to kill, destroy, and maim. Such contends Thompson, would be the damage which an enemy air fleet would be able to inflict upon New York, Boston, Portland, San Francisco, and New Orleans, should it invade this country unexpectedly. Thompson will also loop the loop, fly upside down, drop in the air, and perform other similar feats twice each afternoon.

SCALDING LAVA is a terrible instrument of death, more frightful and effective, in fact, than a 42-centimeter gun, a Zeppelin, or a submarine. Two thousand years ago an entire city was destroyed by it, inundated, overwhelmed. The destruction of this hapless city is to be portrayed in a mammoth fireworks spectacle each evening of the state fair. Over 300 persons are to take an active part in the Last Days of Pompeii. Three stages of vaudeville will be given in connection with it, as well as an open-air band concert, in which half a dozen of the best bands in the Northwest will participate. It is to be an impressive sight.

OVER 500 PERSONS are to furnish the music at the Minnesota State Fair. Did you ever see 500 persons in one great program? Ye Olde Mille, a roller coaster half a mile long, a mule derby, a dozen shows on LET'S GO-PHER FUN, a circus without a tent, a herd of real elephants—these and many other features are to be shown. The admission is only fifty cents. LET'S GO-PHER FOR FUN!

PRICES IN BUENOS AIRES ARE HIGH

(Continued from Page 1.) has little water power and it has almost no fuel. There is considerable prospecting for oil. If it should be found in adequate quantities, it will be a God-send and ought to make millionaires of the discoverers. In the meantime, manufactured articles have to be brought from a long way off, which costs money.

Finally, internal transportation facilities are primitive and shipping, plying to foreign ports, is in a few hands.

Few Large Salaries.

To a considerable extent, however, it looks as if it is expensive to live in Argentina simply because the people who furnish the necessities of life are able to extort the money.

The average Argentine is not paid for his work in proportion to what he has to pay for his living.

A comparatively small number of men, mostly cattle and wheat kings, make huge sums. There is a fair proportion of rich middlemen. A great deal of the big money the country produces belongs to foreign investors and goes abroad.

A salaried man is considered in possession of a good, round income if he receives $150 to $200 monthly. Of course this does not go nearly so far as it would in the United States.

A first class printer or locomotive engineer may make at high as $175 monthly.

Bricklayers are paid from $2.50 to $3.50 daily but do not have work all the time. A carpenter, who also has periods of unemployment, earns from $1.50 to $2.50 daily.

There is a wide variation, according to season, in what an unskilled laborer receives. At times he gets as low as 30 pesos and others as high as 80 pesos monthly, or, in United States money, from $13.20 to $35.20.

On a farm, it is possible to imagine how a man might live on the latter of these two sums, even in Argentina. How he succeeds in doing it part of the time on $13.20 per month is a puzzle.

It seems to be the consensus of opinion that he can get enough of a poor quality of food but that his shelter is such as would revolt a self-respecting hog in the United States. He wears whatever clothes he can pick up.

DAIRY and CREAMERY

DAIRY HERD MANAGEMENT.

Cows and Calves Should Be Protected From Flies in Summer.

A thing of importance in the summer management of the herd is its protection from flies that abound on all farms during this season of the year, writes a correspondent of Hoard's Dairyman. This may also be handled in a number of ways. Where there is a large labor force the cows are sprayed at milking time with a fly repellent which protects the cows fairly well until the next application. It is a well known fact that flies are much less troublesome in the dark—in fact, in perfect darkness they are not troublesome at all.

In recent years the Ayrshire breed of dairy cattle has come into great popularity. The reason for this, say admirers of the breed, is that milk and cream can be produced through Ayrshires at minimum cost—that is, a quart of milk can be made from the Ayrshire at less cost of feed than from any other dairy breed. The bull shown is an Ayrshire.

The best plan is to keep the herd in the barn where it is cool and dark during the heat of the day and turn them out on pasture in the evening. Under this treatment they are practically free from fly annoyances and the milk flow is materially increased. If it is not practicable to keep the cows in the barns during the day this plan must be modified to furnish them a cool, dark place in the pasture. This can be done by having a small house or shed, or even good shade trees will help.

If all of this is necessary in the handling of the cows it is practically indispensable in the handling of the young stuff on the farm. After being weaned calves should have a pasture of their own, together with their own house, into which they may go throughout the heat of the day to keep away from the flies. If the calves run with the rest of the herd they should be given an opportunity to eat grain without being shoved out of the way by the older cattle. This is best provided for by placing their feed inside of an enclosure the opening into which a calf can go through, but which will exclude an older animal. Their feeding trough must be scrupulously clean in order to keep them in the highest healthy condition and should be cleaned out before each feed and the old grain removed before new grain is added.

FAVORS WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Some time ago, a consideration of our economic conditions and tendencies, of the position of women in gainful occupations, of the nature and course of the demand, led me to the conclusion that the granting of suffrage to women is inevitable. Opposition may delay, but in my judgment cannot defeat this movement. If women are to have the vote, as I believe they are, it seems to me entirely clear that in the interest of the public life of this country, the contest should be ended promptly. I favor the vote for women. —From Mr. Hughes' speech of acceptance.

Blanche Sweet will be seen in the "Secret Sin" at the Grand theater tonight. In this photoplay is the combination of a great star and a great play. "The Secret Sin" is a bitter pronouncement against the drug evil and the trade in opium against which the United States government for years has waged an unceasing battle.

REACHING FOR A HOT ONE.

BASE BALL at the Minnesota State Fair, Sept. 4 to 9, promises to be one of the leading attractions at the exposition. A dozen of the best teams in the state are fighting like hounds for the honor of being called the independent champions of the state. No one has the slightest idea about the outcome of the big tournament, for nothing of the kind has ever been held in the Northwest. Next year there will be a line on the dope, and not so much mystery about the ultimate result.
