STATE WANTS DREDGE; THINGS ILLEGALLY BUILT

J. A. O. Preus, state auditor, is searching for a dredge and flatboat operated by Johnson and Baun, near Baudette. He alleges that some of the timber cut on state lands by Miller brothers was used in the construction of the dredge and flatboat. John Miller is serving a sentence in this county, charged with the alleged illegal cutting of timber. Mr. Preus says the dredge and boat will have to be seized and held until Johnson & Baun pay for the lumber.

CONGRESSMAN STEENERSON TO OPEN G. O. P. CAMPAIGN AT THE CITY HALL TONIGHT

The Republican national campaign in Beltrami county will be opened tonight at the city hall by Congressman Halvor Steenerson who will give an address on the issues of the campaign.

Chairman, will preside at the rally tonight.

Congressman Steenerson, who has been a member of congress since the 58th session, knows conditions and will point out the failures of the last Democratic administration.

Congressman Steenerson is not a stranger in this vicinity. At one time, up to the time the district was changed, he was the representative in congress from this district. He has many friends in Bemidji and it is believed that the city hall will be crowded tonight.

Congressman Steenerson's home is in Crookston.

He delivered an address at Blackduck last evening before a large crowd.

County Attorney Graham M. Torrance, G. O. P. Beltrami county

EUROPEAN MAD KING DIES SUDDENLY; AGE 70

(By United Press)
Copenhagen, Oct. 12.—King Otto of Bavaria, known as the European mad king, died suddenly today at Castle Furstenreid where he was confined. He had been insane for years. He was 70 years old and was declared incapable of ruling Nov. 18, 1893, when he first showed symptoms of insanity. During the Franco-Prussian war he ordered a squadron of cavalry to charge a stone wall. The wall, he declared, was a body of French infantry.

WIVES OF STRIKERS PARADE N. Y. STREETS

CROWDED HOUSE GREET'S FIRST LYCEUM NUMBER

A crowded house greeted the MacPhail string quartet, the first of the lyceum entertainments given under the auspices of the Woman's Study club last evening.

Miss Nordgarden, who accompanied the quartet, gave a number of pleasing readings. The quartet is composed of William MacPhail, first violin; Carlo Fisher, second violin; Clarence Graves, viola, and J. K. Bauer, cello. It gave a program of string quartets, violin solos, cello solos and trios with piano accompaniment, which was pleasing to all lovers of good music.

William MacPhail, who heads the company, has spent four years in the leading musical centers of Europe, and it was studying in Sprague, Bohemia, that he secured an old Cremona violin made in 1706, which instrument he played last evening. The violin has a commercial value of $1,200.

Selections were given from Beethoven, Schumann, Greig and Dvorak, and were played by a quartette of artists.

JURY OUT 24 HOURS DISAGREE; 7 TO 5

The jury in the case of Lucy Pettit, as administratrix, against William Fellows, after being out 24 hours, disagreed and was discharged by Judge C. W. Stanton of the district court. The jury stood seven to five. Action was brought by the administratrix, alleging that Leonard Pettit, a 14-year-old boy, died as a result of being struck by an automobile being driven by the defendant near Tenstrike, June 15, 1914. A coroner's jury found that death was due to kidney trouble. The district court is today taking up tax cases.

AMERICAN RIGHTS MUST BE RECOGNIZED THROUGHOUT WORLD SAYS CHAS. HUGHES

Republican Nominee Outlines His Policy Toward Maintenance of Rights.

STANDS FOR DEVELOPMENT OF THE AMERICAN NATION

Has No Understanding, Has No Agreement or Intrigues With Anyone, He Says.

Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 12.—Charles E. Hughes in his 12-hour campaign through West Virginia yesterday outlined before audiences of American rights, declaring that in stating his rights he had "no agreement with anybody." He referred to the United States as being "before the world," a great neutral nation, to vindicate the integrity of international law the rights of neutrals.

No Threats Made. "We have no threats to convey," he told an audience in the big Chamber of Commerce hall at Huntington. "We simply insist that life, property and commerce of American citizens throughout the world shall be accorded privileges recognized in international law, and that as a great neutral nation vindicating the integrity of international law, we shall maintain those rights without fears as respects all nations."

To an audience at Parkersburg Mr. Hughes said: "I stand for the development of the American nation, according to the genius of its institutions; for the honor of our country in the protection of American citizens and with respect to every American right on land and sea, for its firm enforcement."

Great Neutral Nation. "We are before the world, a great neutral nation, to vindicate the integrity of international law and the rights of neutrals, and I stand unflinchingly for the maintenance of the rights of American citizens with respect to life, property and commerce."

In repeating the statements here last night, the nominee coupled with them a statement made earlier in the day before an audience at Parkersburg. "I have no understanding, no agreement, no intrigues with anybody," he said. "But I stand for the interests of the United States and the protection of American lives, American property and American commerce throughout the world."

BOBBY LARSON IS INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Bobby Larson, formerly of Bemidji, now operating a garage at Brainerd, was injured recently near Brainerd when he turned his automobile into a ditch to avoid striking a farmer's team. The farmer mistook his signal and turned in front of the car. Larson sustained four jammed ribs. Five men in the car were thrown out, but all recovered with the exception of Arnold Dalland, whose spine is reported to have been fractured. He may be permanently paralyzed.

BOSTON DEFEATS BROOKLYN IN LAST GAME OF SERIES BY SCORE OF 4-1

"Old Timers" Unable to Come Back; Lose Four Out of Five Games.

BOTH SCORE IN SECOND; BOSTON SCORES TWO IN 3rd

Two Teams Split Largest Sum Ever Fell to Players; Get Proceeds of First Four.

By H. C. Hamilton. (United Press Association)
Boston, Oct. 12.—Boston this afternoon defeated Brooklyn in the fifth game of the world's series and won the world's title.

This is the third world's championship brought to the Massachusetts city by the Red Sox, having won the title last year, and in 1912 when the Red Sox, led by Jake Stahl, won from the New York Giants.

The Red Sox won four out five games.

The props were knocked from under the "old timers" who won the National league title and they were unable to come back.

The score this afternoon was 4 to 1. Ernie Shore pitched a three-hit game for Boston. Shore is a recruit from college ranks, first being a member of the New York Giants, with whom he signed when fresh from Guilford college at Fayetteville, N. C. He played with Baltimore before joining the Red Sox in 1914.

The summary:
R. H. E.
Brooklyn ..... 1 3 3
Boston ..... 4 7 2

Get Big Money. Boston and Brooklyn will split the largest sum that has ever fell to players. Players share only in the first four games. The sum is $162,927.45. The percentage is sixty and forty. The highest previous record was in 1912 when the total was $147,000.

The scene of the world's championship battle was moved backed to Boston today, with Boston in the lead, having won three out of four games. The sun shone brightly, the air was snappy and overcasts were in evidence.

The crowd was happy and before the teams warmed up the band played "Tessie," the well known marching song and paraded around the field.

Both teams played snappy ball in warming up. The manner in which the Boston team tore into Brooklyn yesterday left no doubt as to their intention of ending the series as quickly as possible.

Shore and Pfeffer. Shore and Cady were on deck for Boston and Pfeffer and Meyers for Brooklyn.

Neither side scored in the first inning. Brooklyn scored in the second inning and Boston scored on a hit and an error. Boston scored two in the third inning on two hits and two errors. Boston scored again in the fifth inning on two hits. The score at the end of the fifth inning was 4 to 1 in favor of the Red Sox. Dell replaced Pfeffer in the seventh inning.

The attendance today was 42,620; receipts $83,873; commission's share $8,887.50; each club's share, $37,742.

First inning—Brooklyn, no runs, no hits, no errors; Boston, no runs, no hits, no errors.

Second inning—Brooklyn, one run, no hits, no errors; Boston, one run, one hit, one error.

Third inning—Brooklyn, no runs, no hits, no errors; Boston, two runs, two hits, two errors.

Fourth inning—Brooklyn, no runs, no hits, no errors; Boston, no runs, no hits, no errors.

Fifth inning—Brooklyn, no runs, one hit, no errors; Boston, one run, two hits, no errors.

Sixth inning—Brooklyn, no runs, no hits, no errors; Boston, no runs, one hit, no errors.

Seventh inning—Brooklyn, no runs, one hit, no errors; Boston, no runs, no hits, no errors.

Summary end of the seventh inning—Brooklyn, one run, two hits, three errors; Boston, four runs, six hits, two errors.

Eighth inning—Brooklyn, no runs, no hits, no errors; Boston, no runs, one hit, no errors.

Ninth inning—Brooklyn, no runs, one hit, no errors.
