

WRAPS FOR WINTER

Heavy Ulsters Have Been Made to Be Really Attractive.

Bulky Garment Now Does Work It Was Cut Out to Do; Good Looking.

The big ulster coat has developed into one of woman's most fetching garments. Once it was a bulky arrangement, designed mostly after the pattern of the man's, to give warmth, and that only. Now it does the work that was cut out to do and is extremely good looking as well.

The materials are of soft texture. There are velours de laine and silk duvetyns which rival the handsomest qualities of velvet. There are beautifully woven English tweeds and Scotch mixtures. Those who manufacture these cloths assure us that they will "wear like iron," and that, indeed, is true.

As for colors in these coat stuffs, they range over the whole gamut. The thick pile fabrics are being made up in gorgeous plaids, and the Parisian designers have made most interesting combinations of plaids and plain materials in the construction of coats. You will see a plain taupe lower section combined with an upper portion of taupe and dull green and brown, making a large-patterned plaid. Another combination uses the plaid merely for a wide facing.

Besides the plaids there are many of these soft materials made in patterns of stripes, and the colors combined in them give a warm look which will take the place of furs, now almost prohibitively high in price. When furs are worn they seem much more lavish than ever before. The coats are big and roomy. Kollinsky is a popular variety of fur and the deepness and richness of its brown tones make it almost universally a becoming shade. Then there are the dyed rabbit skins, which have come into favor not only for deep collars and cuffs used on coats and suits of woolen materials but also for whole coats. The ermine coats for evening are more beautiful than ever and those of sable rival the mantles of queens. Goat skin, long and silky, has been dyed and used for fur trimming. The favorite shade is gray.

The wraps for evening indulge in color to the last degree, and it is here that the metal brocades and the velvet brocades are used to their best advantage. The wraps are cut out of long square pieces and little or no shaping is given to them. All of their style comes in the draping.

HANDY ARTICLE FOR INVALID

Pocket for Books, Letters, Papers, Etc., to Be Attached to Head of Bed.

A very acceptable little present to make for an invalid or anyone who may be confined to bed for a time is shown in the sketch. It is for suspending from the rail at the head of the bed above the pillow, and in it may be kept letters, books, papers, etc., in which position they will be within easy reach of the occupant of the bed.

To make it: Procure a piece of thin board of the shape indicated in the sketch, and cover it on both sides with colored linen. Prior to doing this, however, the pockets must be sewn upon the material covering the front of the board. They are also made of linen, and should be roomy; they are bound at the edges with colored braid. The board is finished off at the edges with woolen cord to match the braid.

For hanging the pockets upon the rail of the bed, procure two hooks, of the nature shown in sketch A, and screw them on at the back of the board in the positions shown in sketch B.

Suitable hooks, with screws for fastening them on, can be obtained for a trifle, but care should be taken to select large enough hooks to slip easily over the bed-rail.

The pockets should be large enough to hold a book or magazine, and a small writing-pad.

Cuts work in half

You can keep your stalls and your cows clean with half the labor—save time and feed, have healthier cows, better milk, more milk and greater profits, if you have your barn equipped the James Way.

Every progressive dairyman should have his barn fitted out complete with

James Sanitary Barn Equipment

Even if you are not ready to buy a COMPLETE sanitary barn equipment, don't hold back on the stanchions. JAMES STANCHIONS, by themselves in any barn, old or new, can be IMMEDIATE money-makers for you, and that is the practical, sensible FIRST STEP toward owning a fine, complete barn equipment.

You are actually wasting money every day you put off the installation of James Equipment, because without it, you pay out the money anyhow in unnecessary expense of barn work and in wasted feed that would be saved by James Equipment. You are paying out the money anyhow, so why not have James Equipment to show for the money spent?

Children Need Butter

For Health, Growth, Strength

There is no substitute for butter. Butter contains the valuable substance known as "Butterfat" or "Vitamines," found only in butter, milk, cheese and eggs, the abundant use of which makes large, strong and healthy children.

Scientists claim that the small physique of the Japanese and other small races is due to the absence of Vitamines from the food they eat. Give your children plenty of butter. It's the cheapest health insurance you can buy.
