

LOYALTY. CHIEF TOPIC OF STATE EDITORS AT ANNUAL MEETING

Will Be Held in Minneapolis Feb. 27 and 28; Judge Stanton Speaker

Minneapolis, Feb. 24.—Loyalty to the United States and condemnation of socialism are to be the principal subjects of discussion before the Minnesota Editorial Association at its 54th annual convention in Minneapolis, Friday and Saturday, February 27 and 28, according to officials of the association. More than 250 are expected to attend the convention, it was said last night.

"What the American Legion Stands For" will be presented by Harrison Fuller, commander of the Minnesota branch of the legion, and "Socialism as It Affects Minnesota and the American Newspaper," by Harry Curran Wilbur.

Mayor to Welcome Visitors. Registration for the convention will begin Friday at the West hotel. Mayor J. E. Meyers will welcome the visitors, and J. R. Landy of the Olivia Times, vice-president of the association, will respond.

Reports of the committees appointed at the last convention will be made Friday afternoon.

To Pay Tribute to Dead. Tributes to Frank J. Meyst, Minneapolis newspaper man, and Collin F. McDonald, another member of the association who have died the last year, will be read Friday afternoon.

The association dinner will take place Friday night. Representatives of the Minnesota League of Women Voters will address the association Saturday on the organization of the newly formed body. Judge F. T. Wilson of the extension division, University of Minnesota, will give an address on "Community and Intercommunity Service."

Present officers of the association are: Asa M. Wallace, Sauk Center, president; J. R. Landy, New Ulm, first vice-president; Phillip Liesch, New Ulm, second vice-president; W. E. Verity, Wadena, third vice-president; H. C. Hotelling, Mapleton, treasurer; John E. Casey, Jordan, secretary; and L. C. Hodgson, St. Paul, historian.

WOMAN EARNED HER LIBERTY

Unlooked-For Suffering Endured by Stowaway Who Was Making Her Way to Freedom.

Gone was the Bosphorus and in its place we saw the leaden waters of the Black sea. From the porthole of Josef's cabin we could distinguish many miles west of us the coast line of the country in which White had spent three years, according to Capt. Alan Bott's "Stowaways, Inc.," in Asia. Feodor soon left us, for he had to bring other stowaways to the light of day. From every concealed cranny of the vessel men and women, almost as light-hearted as ourselves at deliverance from the Turks, were coming into the open.

One of the stowaways, a passportless woman whom the aged captain was taking with him to Odessa, did not rejoice for some time. As hiding place for her the old man had chosen a deep locker in his chartroom on the bridge. There she had remained for the last two days. Now, Rosa, the kitchen wench, knew nothing of the captain's ludy. That morning, not wishing to send her own particular stowaway—a Turkish deserter with coal-blackened face, untrimmed beard and decidedly odoriferous clothes—back to the bunkers, where he had spent the previous day, she thought of the locker as a temporary home. Dumping him inside the locker, she fastened the lid and ran back to the kitchen. The Turkish deserter landed with some violence on the captain's lady and both received a bad fright as they clutched at each other in the darkness. Yet the lid could not be removed from the inside and the woman's screams were unheard outside the little room. The air in the unventilated locker grew more and more stuffy. Finally the woman fainted. The Turk, tired after a long spell of cramped wakefulness in the bunkers and the kitchen, composed himself philosophically and went to sleep.

Had it on Solomon. Mr. Weekend—Yes, my dear; when I come to think of it, it is a pleasure to pack your trunk. Mrs. Weekend—Why the pleasure? Mr. Weekend—To think that I'm not Solomon and have to pack 700 trunks for my wives.

Bearing Up Well. "Can't get much work out of that hired man of mine," said Mr. Cobble. "Maybe he's troubled with dolce far niente." "He may have it, but it don't seem to trouble him none."

Its Agility. "How on earth could my watch have gotten from the side of the bureau, where I laid it, to the other?" "Why, dear boy, have you never seen a watch spring?"

Sizing Up a Town. "I size up a village by its bank and its hotel." "Old stuff. Give the local picture palace the once over."

AGED MAN CLAIMS RECORD

New Hampshire Nonagenarian Still Able to Swing Ax Both Lustily and Expertly.

Friends of Frank Mozrall, ninety, of Franklin, N. H., claim that he is the champion woodchopper of his age in the New England states. Despite his near approach to the century mark he is able to swing an ax with the best of the choppers of the New Hampshire woods, those who know him best say.

Mr. Mozrall was formerly a hotel man. Since his retirement a favorite pastime of his has been to walk a distance of five miles from the home of his niece to a wood lot and there chop wood. It is claimed that he cut almost five cords of wood in a week, which is considered a record for a man anywhere near Mr. Mozrall's age.

Mr. Mozrall helped to build the first bridge path from the Profile to the summit of Mount Lafayette, and was one of the best-known guides in the mountains years ago. He has guided some of the best-known people of the country in their explorations of the White mountains. It is only recently that he has come into fame as a wood-chopper.

Mr. Mozrall's memory is most excellent and his general health is exceptionally good for a man of his advanced years.—Boston Post.
