

HELD FAST TO THOSE FISH

Indianapolis Man Was Taking No Chances of Losing the Prizes He Had Secured.

Tom Genolin, of the railway mail service, tells a thrilling story of how once upon a time he was tempted and fell; how in the early hours of morning he slipped away to a "posted" stream and drew from thence five of the most beautiful bass ever seen. The climax of his story reads thus: "The glorious day was peeping and creeping through the silent trees when I gathered up my bunch of beauties and started homeward. I had not gone far when I laid them in a clump of grass while I filled my pipe. When I started to pick them up again lo and behold they were gone. A slight stir under a nearby bush brought visions of some prowling thief and I threw myself prone upon the bush and clutched for the place where the fish might be. That is when I awoke and gathered myself up from the bedroom floor where I lay clutching a jangling alarm clock." Mr. Genolin thus ends the story: "The tragic and unbelievable part of my story is yet to be told. The day after the incident related I went to the pool concerning which I had dreamed and there I fished precisely as I fished in my dream and I caught five beautiful bass precisely as I had caught them in my dream and, lastly, I returned home with them, but not once did I lay them down in a clump of grass."—Indianapolis News.

CALL FOR A NATIONAL CRY

Great Need in This Country, 'Tis Said, for an Explosive, Explosive Yell.

American audiences are charged with being unresponsive and apathetic, particularly in patriotic outdoor demonstrations. Americans are not incapable of making loud, loyal noises, and not averse thereto. But rarely is a parade staged in this city that does not move throughout a large part of its course between silent lines of spectators. The result is sometimes so depressing as largely to neutralize the desired effect of the parade.

The will to cheer doubtless arises all along the line, but there is no shout and easily exploded yell known to us. "Hurrah," is the traditional American word for cheer, but no man will venture its use in public, unless in the wake of a cheer leader who prefaces it with a "hip, hip, hup!" Even then the usual response testifies that this method of cheering is getting rusty.

There is no lack of cheering on an American football field, nor at any kind of a demonstration on a college campus. The reason for this is that good, expressive, explosive yells have been devised for outdoor use. And because they do explode, and because they stand for something, the American public likes to use them. They also like to follow a good yell leader. America needs a national yell. The man who can coin one will do the country a great service.—Minneapolis Journal.

Improved Stereopticon.

A recent development of the stereopticon operates automatically, throwing upon a screen a certain number of lantern-slide views, usually 46, but 100 or 200 or more by special adaptation. The apparatus includes a 1,000 candle power nitrogen-tungsten lamp, condensing and objective lenses, and a small motor to be connected to a lamp socket on either a direct or alternating current circuit. The machine shifts the slides automatically, allowing each picture to remain on the screen 12 seconds before being replaced by the next. The outfit with screen, slides, etc., packs into a suitcase, and is especially fitted to enable the traveling salesman to show goods by picture, though also adapted for educational displays, home entertainment and a great variety of other purposes.

Valuable Tree.

A giant kauri tree has been logged by the Queenland forest service and the timber sold for $1,000. It was known as Bell's tree and yielded 17,000 superficial feet of timber in five huge logs, and the logging costs amounted to $500. The net stumpage came to twelve feet 6 inches per 100 super feet. Had the tree been smaller a higher price would have been realized, as few saw-millers cared to handle it. This giant of the forest was offered to a timber-getter for $30 on the stump, being at the rate of less than 20 cents per super feet, twelve years ago.

On Blaker's Day.

Charles had been going to kindergarten about two weeks. During this time the children had been taught the song "When the Sun Wakes Up at Break of Day." The little fellow liked it very much and tried to sing it at home. The children had been told about Mrs. Blaker living above the kindergarten and that she could hear them singing.

This fact, with the words of the song made a deep impression on Charles. When he reproduced the song at home, this is what he insisted was correct: "When the Sun Wakes Up on Blaker's Day."

GOOD EXERCISE IS MOTORING

Physician Seems to Have Made Out a Good Case for His Side of Argument.

Dr. Henry Williams, in an article in Motors, combats the theory that motoring is reducing our opportunities for exercise. He says its benefits are threefold—physical, mental and volitional. The buffeting of winds and the inhalation of large quantities of oxygen stimulate digestion, assimilation and excretion. This is true of the person who merely sits, as well as of him who drives. The latter, however, benefits directly. Doctor Williams says: "When you drive a car 40 or 50 miles over average American roads, or a fraction of that distance in any city, you give your arms and torso a course of purposeful calisthenics that redounds directly to the benefit of your muscles and arteries and heart, and indirectly, but no less significantly, to the benefit of your digestive organs of elimination as well as the nervous system."

"Mark Him Duty."

Wealthy Patient—Oh, doctor, I have such a bad cold. I can't go to the office this morning. Can't you do something for it? Ex-Army Medic (Just out)—Get out of here! Don't you see I'm busy? There isn't anything the matter with you, you gold brick.—The Home Sector.
