Mean Levels

We heard a couple of our bright and shining lights talking about mean levels recently, but not being close enough to hear all of the conversation we are at a loss to know just what they meant. But when it comes to talking about "mean" levels, how about the height of fashion. That's mean, we'll say.

—On the Blind—

From the Country

A couple of Bemidji men, so it is reported, traveled to the Twin Cities in their horseless carriage and soon after arrival were accosted by a patrolman because they failed to display a license number plate. One of the "birds from the country" told the cop that he was sending for one, and right away the cop told him not to get too fresh. Isn't it strange what lack of proper environment will do?

—Some Don't Call It That—

Just for Practice

A suggestion has been made for some of the once notorious "Reds" that like to play with dynamite by hurling bombs—let them come up to northern Minnesota and make use of their "art" by assisting in the stump blowing. You might call that a little constructive criticism.

—Or Destructive—

Picturesk

"More Bull"

The above picture is still a different kind of bull than that shown in this column Friday. Still another kind of bull Monday.

—Have Plenty Left—

Looking Before Leaping

A stranger in the city noticed one of our bow-legged clothing merchants standing on a street corner a few days ago and acting rather suspiciously. After watching him for several minutes, he approached the clothing dealer and said, "Go ahead and jump, if you want to." Isn't it funny what an impression bowed legs will give a stranger?

—And Also the Owner—

Even Admit It

The Little Falls Transcript says that the Elks put on a wonderful minstrel show there this week. And, as is customary with the order, the Elks even admit that they were good. This was where Mr. Kidwell, the traveling man, sang.

—Mr. Kid Well—

Why Not Storage?

"And that's what we are paying rent for," exclaimed an angry user of the telephone as he heaved the receiver back to its ornamental position after endeavoring for at least five minutes to get the party he wanted. Why not just call it storage?

—It Costs the Same—

The Auction Barker

Belg is another list of items added to the "auction sale" as they appeared in an Otter Tail county newspaper recently:

"Poultry—One Republican rooster, has pep; one Democratic rooster, he doesn't crow like he used; 4 dozen hens, with eggs; 40 spring chickens, coming six years old; one single comb hired girl (some chicken), 7 old hens, can vote.

"Machinery—1 rolling pine (Mrs. Jiggs' style), separator, with mortgage attached; narrow toed corn cultivator; 2 bull rakes; 1 cow rake; sulky wife; DeLaval hay loader with 40 rods of wire; Dear corn planter; Gillette corn harvester; road drag, never used; and International riding saw.

STUDY CLUB BANQUET IS ENJOYABLE SOCIAL AFFAIR

The banquet given by the Woman's Study club Friday evening at the Markham hotel to the members and their husbands was a very pleasant social affair. The tables were laid for about forty guests and a four-course dinner was served, after which Mrs. L. B. Wilson acted as toastmistress, and Rev. L. P. Warford, President M. W. Deputy and H. Z. Mitchell responded to toasts. This completes the club's activities until fall.

TO CELEBRATE ARRIVAL OF SETTLERS IN RED RIVER

The fiftieth anniversary of the arrival, in the Red River valley, of the first settlers in 1871, will be celebrated in an appropriate manner this year. The celebration will be given by the old settlers of Climax and surrounding territory, on June 8, at the Estenson school house. There is to be a big community picnic and program, it is announced. It is expected that Senator Ole Sageng, Judge Grindeland and other good speakers will be present.

SETTING IT RIGHT

An article appearing in Thursday's Pioneer stated that the Bemidji Floral Co. had taken over the Webster greenhouse. The information intended to be conveyed was that Messrs. Peterson and Sykes have rented the greenhouse from Mr. Webster and are operating it. Mr. Webster still is the owner of the property.

Could Dare Anything.

According to an authority, "onions contain more calories than some meats and make an invigorating soup for convalescents." After nibbling at a few scallions, eating onion soup and topping off with steak smothered in onions, the most delicate invalid should have a heart for any fate.

KELIHER SCHOOL NOTES

The following notices appeared on the bulletin board this week: "The Kelihher school offers you a four year high school course. The school is alive and welcomes young people from the surrounding territory, if they desire to enter high school. Come in September and join the classes." Good idea. There is room for more students in the Kelihher school. Miss Bent Stuart, formerly high school principal, was a school visitor this week. With her father, she spent a few days visiting at the home of Charles Wildeman. The pansies for the Senior flower bed arrived and were set out on Wednesday evening. The senior bed is now a thing of beauty. Last Monday evening, after choir practice the young people gave a surprise party in honor of Miss Fossum and Miss Thompson, at the home of Rev. Vinje. The evening was spent in playing games, after which refreshments were served.

Field day was a success. The stores and banks were closed and the town and community all turned out. The contests between the high school teams were spirited and exciting. The teams, led by Lawrence Lindquist, carried off the honors of the day. The ball game with the Blackduck school was won by a score of 15 to 13. The Blackduck Seniors failed to appear for their promised tug-of-war with the Kelihher Seniors. Our class was disappointed, but consider the contest won. The Kelihher band, led by Mr. Armstrong, made its first appearance, and the selections played were very complimentary to the new band. The school appreciates very much the interest and help received.

The class rings and announcements have arrived and are very much liked. The senior picnic which was postponed on account of bad weather, will take place next Saturday. The class will go to Ponemah instead of Itasca park, as formerly planned.

The high school orchestra just organized will make its first appearance on Wednesday night. The members are: David Gwinn, violin; Hilmar Dolgaard, cornet; Edgar Metzinger, trombone; Mabel Miller, piano.

Everybody is invited to the last meeting of the Parent-Teacher-Student association next Wednesday night. There will be a good program. Among the out of town visitors on Field Day were Mr. and Mrs. Norby of Santa. Mr. Norby closed the Saum school for the half day and the teachers attended the exercises at Kelihher, as well as many of the students.

Kelihher commencement program: Parent-Teacher-Student association, Wednesday, May 25; senior class night, Friday, May 27; baccalaureate sermon by Rev. Vinje, Sunday, May 29 at 8 p. m.; Memorial day parade, with city, Monday, May 30; Commencement for eighth grade, June 3 at 10:30 a. m.; high school commencement, June 3 at 8:30 p. m.; R. B. McLean, rural school inspector will deliver the commencement address.

Plans are under way for a summer session, with prospects of a good attendance by high school students.

LEGION EXPLAINS HOW TO RESPECT THE FLAG

In view of the fact that Memorial Day is not far off and that other important holidays are approaching, the American Legion has issued a bulletin for publication explaining how to show proper respect for the American flag. It is as follows: The flag should be raised at sunrise and lowered at sunset. It may be raised at other times but should never be left out over night, except when it is under fire of any enemy. On Memorial Day the flag should be displayed at half-staff from sunrise until noon, and at the peak from noon until sunset.

In raising the flag to half-staff or half-mast, it should always be run to the peak and then lowered one breadth of the flag. In retiring it, it should first be run back to the peak, then retired. It should never be allowed to touch the ground.

When the "Star Spangled Banner" is being played or sung, stand, and remain standing at attention in silence until it is finished. When the flag is passing on parade or in review, if you are walking, halt; if sitting, rise, stand at attention, and uncover.

The flag should never be worn as the whole or part of a costume. As a badge it should be worn over the left breast. In decorating, the flag should never be festooned or draped. Always hung flat. If hung so stripes are horizontal, the union should be in the left upper corner. If hung perpendicularly, the union should be in the right upper corner.

When the national flag and another flag fly from the same pole, there should be double halyards, one for each flag. The flag should never be placed below a person sitting. It should never be used in such a way that it might become soiled. When carried in parade or when crossed with other flags, the Stars and Stripes should always be at the right, the place of honor.

When the flag is used in unveiling a statue or monument, it should never be allowed to fall to the ground, but should be carried aloft to wave out, forming a distinctive feature during the remainder of the ceremony. When the flag is placed over a bier or casket, the blue field should be at the head. If used as an altar covering, the union should be at the right as you face the altar, and nothing should be placed on the flag except the Holy Bible. The flag should never be reversed except in case of distress at sea.
