Daily Fashion Hint

PARTICULARLY CHARMING FROCKS

Gray silk crepe de chine, so extensively used for ultra-smart daytime frocks, is suggested for the first of the models illustrated. It is a slip-over design, the short kimono sleeves being cut in one with the side-fronts and side-backs. Skirt and blouse are trimmed with fine gray silk braid and the sash is of self-material.

Satin, pussywillow taffeta or crepe de chine may be employed for the second design, which is trimmed with tucks, to which are stitched very tiny frills. The waist has an oval neck and short sleeves, and is held in with a sash of its own material. Medium size requires 5 1/2 yards 36-inch material.

First Model: Pictorial Review Dress No. 9479. Sizes, 34 to 44 inches bust. Price, 35 cents.

Second Model: Dress No. 9415. Sizes, 34 to 48 inches bust. Price, 35 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Skoogland were business visitors in Bemidji Thursday.

Mac Jones, who visited friends at Red Lake for a week, was in Bemidji Thursday en route to his home at Warren.

Mrs. O. Daniels of Crookston, who visited her son, Roy Daniels, and brother, A. R. Erickson in Bemidji for a few days, has returned to her home.

E. C. McMahon has been spending a few days at Swatara installing a Delco lighting system in the new consolidated school. He is expected home tomorrow.

Mrs. Leo Saunders of Three Rivers, Quebec, who has visited her mother, Mrs. Wm. Elliott of Deer River for a month, was calling on friends in Bemidji Thursday.

Mrs. A. D. Johnson and little son, Victor, left this morning for Pillager and Brainerd to visit relatives for a few days. Mr. Johnson and Kermit will motor there Sunday and return with them.

Little Bobby Garlock, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. V. Garlock, was operated on yesterday for the removal of his tonsils and adenoids, and is reported to be getting along nicely this morning.

Sheep With Many Horns.

In their wild state all sheep were furnished with a pair of horns, but the number never exceeded two until some curious specimens were discovered in several isolated sections of Asia. These species had from four to six horns, the upper set being graduated with the smallest ones just above the eyes. Curiously enough, the two lower sets always curve upward, while the large pair curl downward.

Special Attention.
"I am a great believer in specialists," said Ethel. "When I have trouble with my nose I go to a nose specialist, and when I have trouble with my heart I go to an expert on hearts." "Them's my ideas," said old Lady Gunbusta. "And that's why when my nephew, Jimmie, had his tonsils cut out I took him to a regular tonsorial artist."

Trade Routes Through Lhasa.

By the trade routes that pass through Lhasa, caravans of sheep, mules, ponies or yaks, laden with wool, hides, cloth, tea-bricks or salt, come and go, arriving generally in December and departing in March before the spring floods. Better caravan animals than these hardy mules and the small, tough, shaggy horses that also serve as beasts of burden are the yaks. For they can live, if need be, on coarse, stiff pasture, they carry heavy loads, are sure-footed on frozen surfaces and seem not to mind the cold, even when icicles cling to their long black coats and bushy white tails. Then, too, yaks are blessed with horns, on which especially devout Tibetans cut the sacred "Om" formula. As another precaution against attack, the caravan is provided with prayer-wheels and accompanied by nomad dogs. But the owners of the mastsiffs are not unfriendly to a stranger of good intent. When they meet one, they pull off their caps, push forward their left ears, put out their tongues and bow politely.—Marietta Neff, in Asia Magazine.

Society

TO HOLD FOOD SALE

TOMORROW AFTERNOON

The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church will hold a food sale tomorrow afternoon, October 1, at 2:30 o'clock in the Battles Hardware store.

ENTERTAIN AT DINNER

Through some error, the article in last night's Pioneer, stating that Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Greguson entertained Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Olson at six o'clock dinner, was incomplete and should have included the names of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Thompson, who were guests also.

SWENSIDES SURPRISED

Mr. and Mrs. George Swenside were given a farewell surprise at their home in Fifth ward last evening by about 35 of their friends and neighbors. Music and social conversation were enjoyed, and the guests presented them a double roaster, silver meat fork and coffee percolator, which were greatly appreciated. Mr. and Mrs. Swenside leave soon for their new home at Leonard.

LARSONS ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Larson entertained at a dancing party at their home at Waville last evening. A two-piece orchestra furnished the music. Cards were also played during the evening. The house was very prettily decorated for the occasion with autumn leaves. At midnight a bountiful lunch was served by the hostess. The guests include Messrs. and Mesdames H. Mosen, P. Barnel, A. E. Webster, A. Benson, Al. Hanson, Charles Campbell, S. A. Cutter, H. Rasumssen and A. Thompson; J. Doran, Mrs. J. A. McDonald, Mrs. Mabel Young, Mrs. P. Larson, and Miss Vera Cutter.

Possible to Train Crows.

The search for food is the crow's chief business, although his love for glittering things causes him to wander from his ordered road when attracted by the gleam of some object at a distance. If this object of his curiosity can be transported, he takes it. The crow is easily tamed, but the process demands patience. Many crows talk as distinctly as parrots. Pliny the Elder notes a case where a crow alighted in the Forum and saluted Emperor Tiberius and his two sons, "calling them by name."

Varro's Aviary.

Varro, author of a famous book on agriculture, lived in the Ciceronian age. He built model aviary, with fish ponds, and duck houses enclosed by blue gut nettings. Similar netted spaces housed blackbirds, nightingales and other song birds. A little channel furnished fresh water, and food was introduced beneath the nets.—Scientific American.

R-revenge.

Indignant Arizonian (to busy boot-legger)—Hey, I've just been bitten by a rattler. Gimme a quart of your cheapest stuff.

Busy II—Better take some of the high-priced stuff, pardner.

I. A.—Not on your life. This is for the rattler.—American Legion Weekly.

WOULD GET JOBS FOR MEN

State President of Oregon Women's Auxiliary Plans to Out Women Who Do Not Need Work.

A movement to oust from employment all married women who are not forced by necessity to work has been started by Mrs. W. A. Elvers, Portland, Ore., recently re-elected state president of the Oregon department of the Women's Auxiliary, the American Legion.

Mrs. Elvers speaks from first-hand information. As trained nurse and more recently as superintendent of the Emergency hospital in Portland, she has been doing a big man's work for years—but her husband has been an invalid for years.

"Women got started in men's work during the war, when it was necessary and laudable," Mrs. Elvers declared. "They are keeping it up now. Those who have husbands supporting them have no right to keep needy men out of employment. They are willing to work for less, too. They are breaking up our homes, all because they want extra pin money. It must stop, and it's going to in Oregon, at least."

Peculiarities of Human Body.

A curious instance of the care and minuteness with which the human body is now studied, in the effort better to understand its powers and functions, is noted in a paper read at a meeting of the Royal Society in London on "The Rapidity of the Nervous Impulse in Tall and Short Individuals." Even the difference in time required for a "nerve telegram" to traverse the bodies of different persons is regarded as a matter of scientific importance. A series of observations has shown that the length of the nerves does affect the velocity with which an impulse passes between the brain and the extremities, and consequently that more time is needed if the path is long than if it is short. It follows that a short man should feel a step on his corns quicker than a tall man, but the difference is so slight that the offender has no better chance to escape in one case than in the other.
