OFFICIAL COUNTY AND CITY RECORDS

WELCOME FEDERATION

To the women of the State Federation we extend a most hearty welcome, and feel highly honored to have in our midst so many notable and lovely women. It has been the custom of Bemidji to turn over the keys of the city to all conventions, and Mayor Garlock is particularly delighted to do so to this splendid body of the state's human flowers.

Visitors have told us that we have attained a reputation of which any city may well feel proud, and it will be our purpose to convince you, one and all, that we have been deserving of our reputation.

The good times one has in visiting a strange city depends also upon the visitor. If you will accept our hospitality in the same spirit that it is given, we know that you, too, will be made happy while within our gates.

You will find the people of Bemidji, as a whole, a most hospitable, wholesome, cordial host. They have no secrets to keep from you and, after spending the week as guests of Bemidji, you are glad you came, our good people will not object to your mentioning the fact to your friends and neighbors at home.

The Bemidji women you will meet have all come here from some other section of the state or the United States. Very few, if any, have lived here a lifetime. This you must realize when you know that Bemidji is but twenty-five years of age. Please do not construe our thought to indicate that all of our women are more than twenty-five, because most of them are not. They will readily admit this fact.

Those who were here when Bemidji was born have moved to other climes—while in the making, Bemidji has seen hundreds come and go. Those who have come since Bemidji was acquiring its enviable reputation are our hostesses and, with you, make up the flower of the state.

We realize that each of you come from the very best city in the state, and from the very best state in the Union, and it is not our desire to have you ever change your opinion that yours is the best garden and that you are the "pick" of the flowers—but we sincerely trust that you will go away with the impression that the next best "flower garden" to your own is Bemidji, and that her "flowers" are equal to any in the bouquet.

THAT WORD "DIVERSIFIED"

The seed being sown by the Minneapolis Tribune throughout the country press on Diversified Farming is beginning to crop out almost spontaneously. Farmers everywhere are welcoming the idea, and realize now more than ever before that it is the safety valve to successful farming.

Bumper crops are a fine thing, provided the price isn't of the bumper variety.

It has been called upon to pay its pledge to the fair association, send the band boys to the state fair, pay the Ten-Thousand-Lakes pledge, entertain conventions—and as a result its coffers are cleaned.

All budget pledges made in the early spring campaign are now past due, and if all were paid the association would have plenty of funds to continue its good work for the year.

The work of the association has been of the nature that would make any city feel proud. You have helped by your support in the past and those of you who have been unable to pay your pledges, or have perhaps overlooked paying them, can help materially by sending your check in at once. The cause is worthy and you have a right to be considered a leader and not a trailer.

MISINTERPRETED

An objection has been raised by a party in a recent automobile accident as to the intent of that portion of an editorial appearing in Monday's issue, which read as follows:

"One of our doctors was smashed into by two drunks driving a car the other day."

It is doubtful if the writer, now out of the city, had in mind the accident to which the objection has been raised, since it seems clear that the driver in the accident in question is a working man, had just completed his day's labor and was on his way home when the accident occurred. Consequently, the condition of the driver could not be questioned in that case.

It is believed that the writer spoke of some other incidents and did not refer to the accident which the objection refers to.

The government is doing everything possible to tie up the country to the city, and vice versa. The parcel post innovation makes it possible for a far larger traffic in farm and dairy products toward the city. The yearning of urbanites for country-grown products should be more fully realized, according to the Department of Agriculture. As a result, a pamphlet entitled "Parcel Post Business Methods" in the series of Farmers Bulletin, No. 922, gives full instruction in the matter of obtaining customers, methods of carrying on business, packing, addressing, etc. Farmer folks who could be induced to enter upon a parcel post business should write the department for the bulletin.—Northwestern Advocate

The "bum" is becoming obsolete. At least this is apparent in open-air work in the city. The ragged whiner who hung on the edges of the crowd and importuned the evangelists for "a dime for a cup of coffee" is not in evidence. In any open-air meeting well-dressed, intelligent appearing men are the audience. If the speaker has something to say they will stay. If he is "tedious and tasteless" they will move on.—Northwestern Advocate

The Republican papers blame the Democrats for LaFollette's landslide in Wisconsin, and the Democratic press calls it a "Harding Revolt." Now what do you think of that?

Hiram Johnson and Bob LaFollette will be delighted to meet Ex-Governor Frazier from North Dakota in the United States Senate. Frazier will need them to lead him around.

It's getting so that the farmers are afraid of raising bumper crops for fear of getting bumped themselves, advises the Crookston Times.

Polish up the keys of the city, Mr. Mayor, and present them to our guests on a silver platter.

If you haven't any weeds in your own back yard, step over into your neighbor's. Take a scythe with you.

kindness be repeated indefinitely.

All Must Have Their "Bit"

If there are four ranks of men between you and a beefsteak on the hoof it is going to cost you a good deal of money before you get it.—Exchange

Value of Boarder Cow.

Saving $55 or $60 worth of feed for a boarder cow added to what she'll bring as dressed meat means maybe a hundred dollars in the pocket, which isn't a bad price for a cow that's no good anyhow.

BOY IS FATHER TO THE MAN

"Boys will be boys with their racket and noise"
Is an adage both ancient and wise;
Boys will be men when we meet them again,
And the difference chiefly is size.

The years change the scene in form and in men,
In stature and also in station;
But "boys grown tall" are the same after all,
As the lads they were by creation.

The boy turns man, during life's little span,
But the spirit is still as of old;
Though ripened with age and with wisdom sage,
His cast is the original mold.
