THESE MEN WILL WIN

CANDIDATES PUT UP BY WYANDOTTE COUNTY REPUBLICANS.

NOT A FLAW IN THE TICKET.

EVERY MAN NOMINATED FOR COMPETENCY AND HONESTY.

Brief Sketches of Some of the Men Who Will Manage the Affairs of the County During the Next Two Years - Kansas City, Kas., News.

The Republican party of this county is noted for placing men in office whose records stand as monuments of honest and progressive citizenship. It is true that all political parties have among their enroll-

The truthfulness of this assertion is proved by the fact that nearly every man elected to any office within the gift of the voters of this county on the Republican ticket is honored by a second term. RAPID IMPROVEMENT

Good Advice Heeded and Now All is Well.

"My husband suffered for a number of years with painful sores on one of his ankles. Nothing seemed to do him any good, until a friend suggested that he try Hood's Sarsaparilla. After beginning the use of this medicine he very soon saw an improvement, the inflammation disappeared and the sores were soon completely healed." Mrs. A. L. BEXTON, Mechanicville, Iowa. teemed by the members of his profession and to his high character, during the past two years is certainly sufficient to warrant the people of this county in sending him back for a second term.

On the Republican ticket this fall appears the name of a Representative of the Argentine, the Silver City. This gentleman is James W. Anderson, who was given the nomination for county commissioner from the Third district without opposition. Mr. Anderson is a prominent business man of Argentine and is a native of that country in the county when it comes to local affairs. He is a man of high character, more deliberate, therefore more open to detection; yet he is always confident and independent in his observations, and his attention at the right moments and inviting to him the attention of the people.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA.

There is much magic in magic. If it were not so, the opening of a night as last to witness the opening of the Herrmann engagement. The spell of the elder Herrmann had cast upon a large portion of Kansas City's going public was renewed through the liberal treatment of his name the past week, and many of the friends of the old magician availed themselves of their first opportunity to estimate the powers of his young nephew and successor, Leon Herrmann, who has become a much more potent factor in the new order of things.

Young Herrmann made a most favorable impression. He bears a striking resemblance to his uncle, and his feature and methods. He had performed but a few of his simplest tricks when he was arrested, and said that he was not to be changed by the developments of the evening. He has a number of ingenious tricks and closed the program.

Many of them are familiar, but some of them are new and novel and have never been seen before. The young man's performance was a most successful one, and he has a number of ingenious tricks and closed the program.

It is gratifying to know that the Herrmann name has been preserved in merit, and apparently in popularity. It is unique and affords vast pleasure to many of the people of this city. The young man's performance was a most successful one, and he has a number of ingenious tricks and closed the program.

"The Land of the Living," which opened at the Ninth Street yesterday, was a veritable feast for the "gods," who, with their irrepressible appreciation of things melodramatic, found in the makeup to call forth their best efforts. The form of hisses. The piece is an English play, and it is so thoroughly typical of Harvey's style that a blind man could not mistake it for anything else.
