SENATE ADOPTS CONFERENCE REPORT ON REVENUE BILL

IT WILL BECOME A LAW TO-DAY

VOTE PRECEDED BY FOUR HOURS OF UNINTERESTING DEBATE.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Shortly after 4 o'clock this afternoon, the conference report on the war revenue bill was agreed to by the senate after a discussion lasting four hours. The debate on the measure was without special interest, and was entirely devoid of acrimonious feature. It was a foregone conclusion that the report would be agreed to, and the only question of interest involved was how soon a vote could be reached.

AVOTE ON HAWAII

HOUSE AGREES TO TAKE IT NEXT WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

ON NEWLANDS' RESOLUTION

THE OPPOSITION FILIBUSTERED FOR THREE HOURS.

Gave Up at Last Under an Agreement That Provides for Liberal Debate—Resolutions Are Almost Certain to Pass the House.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The feature of today's session of the house was the securing of an agreement to consider and vote upon the Newlands resolution to annex Hawaii. Beginning to-morrow, the debate will proceed until 5 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon, when a vote will be taken. The annexationists came to-day determined to force consideration, and for three hours the opposition filibustered. Consideration of the resolution today could not have been prevented, as under the rules, a recess until the evening session necessarily would have been taken at 5 o'clock, but it was plain that the annexationists would win their victory to-morrow. Realizing this, and knowing that the resolution would pass and go to the country, involving a prominent issue, the opposition treated for liberal debate and their demands were granted. Eight Democrats voted with the annexationists in the movement to-day to force consideration of the resolution, they being Messrs. Berry, of Kentucky; Devries, of California; Livingston, of Ohio; Brucker, of Michigan; Cummings, Butler and Venable, of New York, and Cochran, of Missouri. It is claimed that at least twenty Democrats will favor the passage of the resolution. The bill to enable winter soldiers to vote at the election is also being considered. The number of minor measures, chiefly of a private nature, were considered.

PECULIAR KANSAS CASE.

Butler County Parents Sued by State of New York for Keeping of Their Idiot Child.

TOPEKA, June 10.—(Special.) The case of the state of New York against Aaron and Betty Etterson to recover $5.00 has been appealed to the supreme court from Butler county. The suit was originally brought in Butler county by the attorney general of New York. In the petition it is charged that Aaron and Betty Etterson have a son who was an idiot; that in 1889 they succeeded by fraud in having him admitted to the New York idiot asylum. The fraud consisted in their declaring that they were residents of New York and that their son was an idiot. In this way they got the state to keep him. Fourteen years later, in 1894, the authorities discovered that the idiot was the child of the Ettersons and that they had never lived in New York at all. The idiot was discharged from the asylum and suit was commenced against the Ettersons in the Butler county district court to recover $5.00 for keeping the idiot fourteen years. The case was thrown out of that court on demurrer and now the attorney general of New York appeals to the supreme court. The Ettersons claim that they are visiting in New York in 1889 and that the idiot was kidnaped from them and that they never knew what became of it.

A CHINCHBUG CIRCULAR.

Chancellor Snow, of Kansas University, Prepares a Report of Ten Years of Experimenting.

TOPEKA, June 10.—(Special.) Chancellor Snow, of the state university, has prepared a circular on "chinchbugs," and the executive department has ordered several hundred copies printed for distribution. The report covers experiments made during the last ten years. Professor Snow says he has demonstrated that, under certain conditions, chinchbugs can be destroyed by spreading disease among them. He has also shown that rain does not always kill bugs. The chief reason why chinchbugs do less harm during a rainy season is that the insects are much faster in the rainy season than when the ground is not. The "Snow" contagion spreads more rapidly when the ground is moist. The chancellor says that bugs have done very little damage in Kansas, but in other states they are doing considerable damage. He is sending out consignments of infected corn to Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri and Illinois.

Under the terms of the bill the secretary is required to allot the bonds to those making application therefor in sums of $50 and upward, the smaller amounts asked for to be allotted first. As the collection of these revenues will be delegated to the army of occupation, all instructions will be sent very soon to General Merritt.

JAPAN ENTERS A PROTEST.

Objects to a Tax of 10 Cents on Tea Without Regard to Grade.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Japan has entered a strong protest against the duty on tea provided for in the war revenue bill. The protest was sent to the state department by the Japanese minister in Washington. Japan, it says, would be subject to a tax of 10 cents according to value. The protest was submitted as a result of instructions sent from the Japanese foreign office.

TO BE CANADA'S GOVERNOR.

It Is Said That the Position Has Been Offered to Lord Wolseley.

NEW YORK, June 10.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says: "The British government has unusual haste in vacating the office of the viceroy of Canada. Numerous candidates for the succession have been mentioned, but no appointment has been made. The good relations now existing between England and America make it important that the viceroy should be a man of high standing and of an official of unique reputation, so as to impress the imagination of the whole English speaking race in America. The appointment has not been officially announced, but it is generally believed that the man who has been selected for this important post. "Nothing has yet appeared in print about it, but it may be stated with the utmost confidence that the viceroyship has been offered to Lord Wolseley. The crown is not in the habit of offering appointments for high places until the willingness of those proposed for preference to accept honors is ascertained. There is adequate reason to believe that Lord Wolseley has been approached and asked whether he will accept the post of governor general of Canada, and that he is now considering the expediency of accepting it. He now occupies the office of commander-in-chief of the army, and is the man best fitted by experience and military capacity for retaining it. He would also be a candidate for governor general of Canada of exceptional prestige and authority, and would be welcomed by the people of the Dominion. The United States as a brilliant successor to the long line of illustrious viceroys. His appointment as governor general would command the attention of Canada and America, and would be of great utility in promoting good relations with the United States. At the same time it would create a vacancy in the office of commander-in-chief, which the friends of Lord Roberts would like to have their special favorite fill. Lord Wolseley is at once a soldier and a diplomat, equal to any work which he may be called upon to perform; but Lord Roberts is a soldier only, and he will retire from the army and devote the remainder of his life to official work as governor general. The year and day on which he will retire, which he has long desired to write.
