

REPUBLICAN YEAR

KANSAS PROSPERITY NOMINEES CONFIDENT OF VICTORY.

STANLEY'S GENERAL POLICY.

SAYS HE WILL GIVE KANSAS A REPUBLICAN ADMINISTRATION.

Does Not Hope to Be Able to Please Everyone—Thinks There Are Many Offices That Should Be Abolished—Other Nominees Talk.

TOPEKA, June 18.—(Special.) All of the Republican nominees for state office and the members of the state committee are here today. They feel sanguine of Republican success this fall. They all declare that the Pops are on the run.

W. E. Stanley, the Republican nominee for governor, was here for the first time since he was nominated by the Hutchinson convention. During the past week Mr. Stanley has been resting, spending the time in the country with some friends, and, as a result, the hard canvass which he made for the nomination has left no traces upon him.

Even if there were any bitterness engendered or disappointments in not getting votes which he expected, there is no sign of it now, and all day he was kept busy shaking hands with the Republicans gathered here from all over the state.

Mr. Stanley is always cheerful, always courteous and cordial. It comes natural. He is glad to see everybody and makes the man feel it who shakes hands with him.

In conversation with The Journal correspondent to-day he said: "What of the prospect? I don't see how it could be better. In addition to all the natural causes which tend to make votes for us, the issue seems very clear on doing the right thing at the right time to help our ticket."

"What will you say regarding your general policy, if elected, Mr. Stanley?" "I will say that I will give Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"But, if I am elected, I shall do my utmost to use every energy and all the ability I possess to make the Republican party the dominant party in Kansas. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I believe Kansas has a lot of useless offices which should be abolished, and a great saving to the state could be made thereby. There are many reforms which should be made, and I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

NO PROHIBITION AT ATCHISON.

Mayor Donald as Good as Says the Town Will Be "Wet" Under His Administration.

ATCHISON, KAS., June 18.—(Special.)

The publication of Governor Leedy's proclamation wiping out the metropolitan police department of this city came like a thunder cloud out of a clear sky to the people here. In Atchison there was scarcely one man yesterday who believed that the governor would make so sweeping a change. Mayor Donald, in an interview this afternoon, said he intended to collect as much money out of the saloons as possible.

"In reply to the direct question, 'Will Atchison be a wet or dry town under the new order of things?' he said: 'I think we have had a sufficiency of prohibition. I propose to see as much money covered into the city treasury as possible. The city needs money, and I propose to see that she gets it. They have got to pay up.'"

"I am a Republican, and I want to see as many Republicans as can be in public office. The police force is composed of Democrats and Populists now. The police judge is a Democrat. Sheffield Ingalls, a son of ex-Senator John Ingalls, will probably be appointed police judge."

"The police force is composed of Democrats and Populists now. The police judge is a Democrat. Sheffield Ingalls, a son of ex-Senator John Ingalls, will probably be appointed police judge."

"The police force is composed of Democrats and Populists now. The police judge is a Democrat. Sheffield Ingalls, a son of ex-Senator John Ingalls, will probably be appointed police judge."

M'NALL'S WISE SCHEME.

Will Not Disclose Silver Republican Weakness by Putting a Ticket on the Ballot.

TOPEKA, June 18.—(Special.) There will be no free silver Republican ticket on the official state ballot this fall. At Mc-Nall's convention of forty-three, it was decided simply to endorse the Populists and to advance and permit the silverites to vote for the nominees under the Pop head. Mc-Nall's so-called free silverites are a wise set. They know that to put a ticket on the ballot would be to disclose their weakness.

"I believe Kansas has a lot of useless offices which should be abolished, and a great saving to the state could be made thereby. There are many reforms which should be made, and I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

"I feel greatly encouraged over the outlook," said W. J. Bailey, nominee for congressman-at-large, "and I believe in the approval of the people all over the state. I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration. I cannot promise to please everybody, but I will give the people of Kansas a Republican administration."

JIM BAKER, THE TRAPPER

KIT CARSON ALONE WAS BETTER KNOWN IN THE WEST.

He Was One of the Little Band Who Tracked the Western Wilderesses Before Civilization Came.

From the New York Sun.

When Jim Baker died at his home on the Snake river in Wyoming a few days ago, he passed away one of the most famous trappers, scouts and frontiersmen the West has ever known. He was one of the little band who tracked the Western Wilderesses before civilization came.

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

"I wish you would show me the way out of these canons," he remarked to a friend who was with him. "I have been in the mountains for three years and I have not seen a white man. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place. He is the only one I have seen since I came to this place."

APOLLO OF THE 400

EUGENE CRUGER, WHO LEFT PROPERTY TO A PEASANT.

Peculiar Theory Evolved Shortly Before His Death—A Philosophy of Life Constructed From His Experiments.

From Paris Correspondent of New York Journal.

Eugene Guido Cruger, once a brilliant ornament of New York society, a Knickerbocker, the Knickerbockers, a Beau Brummel, an Adonis Crichon and a Don Juan, has just passed away into obscurity here, and bequeathed a strange romance to the world.

"Two beautiful women of high position in American society were once his wives, and are still living. They do not exactly mourn his loss.

"There is still a third woman whose life was bound up with his and who will probably find him in tender remembrance more than any other. She was born of the Russian peasantry. He has left his entire fortune to her. That is not the only reason why she will remember him kindly. She loved him and he loved her more truly than any other woman."

"To summarize the women in his case: Cruger married first Miss Blanche Spedden, of New Orleans, who obtained a divorce and married a poor man, and secondly Mrs. Meta Kane, sister of Colonel de Lancey Kane, and a relation of the Astors, who also obtained a divorce. Finally, he married a Russian peasant girl, Olga Heltze, who is still living."

"Cruger was a cousin of Colonel Stephen Van Rensselaer, the proprietor of the Trinity church and husband of the only novelist in the Four Hundred. Few names in the history of New York are more prominent than that of Cruger. Moreover, it is allied by marriage with the name of another great name of equal antiquity and importance. Since the Crugers kept a little ship chandler's shop in New York for 20 years ago, they have always been eminent socially and financially.

"Eugene Guido Cruger was born and reared in New York. His family derived its name from New York property that is no more than a name. He was born in New York and he was a very thoroughbred, out-and-out New Yorker.

"He was sent to Columbia college and graduated in the most brilliant manner. He was not only in the class, but he was a brilliant member of his class. He shone not only in the classroom, but in his extracurricular life. His exertions in promoting the lighter forms of dramatic art were remarkably successful.

"Cruger was a very Apollo. He bore a considerable resemblance to his cousin, Colonel Van Rensselaer, who is also noted for his beauty. Cruger was six feet high, straight and broad-shouldered. He had a regular features and fine black hair which turned gray early in life.

"Not only a great athlete, he was a very good football player and rowed with great success for the Columbia club. He was a member of the New York Yacht club, and he was prominent in its affairs during the years when England and America excited interest in the sport.

"At the same time he lived in a perpetual vortex of social gaiety. There was no more brilliant man in New York. No dance, no dinner was complete without Eugene Cruger. He was a favorite cotillion leader, and he was a favorite at dinner parties. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance.

"It was not strong enough to stand it. That was the secret of his life. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance.

"It was not strong enough to stand it. That was the secret of his life. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance.

"It was not strong enough to stand it. That was the secret of his life. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance.

"It was not strong enough to stand it. That was the secret of his life. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance.

"It was not strong enough to stand it. That was the secret of his life. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance.

"It was not strong enough to stand it. That was the secret of his life. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance.

"It was not strong enough to stand it. That was the secret of his life. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance.

"It was not strong enough to stand it. That was the secret of his life. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance.

"It was not strong enough to stand it. That was the secret of his life. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance.

"It was not strong enough to stand it. That was the secret of his life. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance.

"It was not strong enough to stand it. That was the secret of his life. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance.

"It was not strong enough to stand it. That was the secret of his life. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance.

"It was not strong enough to stand it. That was the secret of his life. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance.

"It was not strong enough to stand it. That was the secret of his life. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance.

"It was not strong enough to stand it. That was the secret of his life. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance.

"It was not strong enough to stand it. That was the secret of his life. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance.

"It was not strong enough to stand it. That was the secret of his life. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance.

"It was not strong enough to stand it. That was the secret of his life. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance.

"It was not strong enough to stand it. That was the secret of his life. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance. He was always admired and flattered by the women of his acquaintance.

GENERAL MERRITT A "BEAU"

His Tact Enabled Him to Keep Clear of the Older Set.

From the New York Press.

General Merritt's engagement to Miss Wilson, of Chicago, has created a great deal of interest from the Atlantic to the Pacific, not only because he is a man of mark, but because he is a man of mark.

"General Merritt's engagement to Miss Wilson, of Chicago, has created a great deal of interest from the Atlantic to the Pacific, not only because he is a man of mark, but because he is a man of mark.

"General Merritt's engagement to Miss Wilson, of Chicago, has created a great deal of interest from the Atlantic to the Pacific, not only because he is a man of mark, but because he is a man of mark.

"General Merritt's engagement to Miss Wilson, of Chicago, has created a great deal of interest from the Atlantic to the Pacific, not only because he is a man of mark, but because he is a man of mark.

"General Merritt's engagement to Miss Wilson, of Chicago, has created a great deal of interest from the Atlantic to the Pacific, not only because he is a man of mark, but because he is a man of mark.

"General Merritt's engagement to Miss Wilson, of Chicago, has created a great deal of interest from the Atlantic to the Pacific, not only because he is a man of mark, but because he is a man of mark.

"General Merritt's engagement to Miss Wilson, of Chicago, has created a great deal of interest from the Atlantic to the Pacific, not only because he is a man of mark, but because he is a man of mark.

"General Merritt's engagement to Miss Wilson, of