

OUR FOURTH ANNIVERSARY SALE.

It starts this morning and its purpose is to celebrate the fourth anniversary of this store's existence in this city. On September 9th, four years ago, we opened the doors of this store, started the elevators and pneumatic cash tubes and began, the first ten minutes after opening, to sell cash bargains. We've been at it ever since. We were an infant industry on that first morning of opening. Now we're a healthy, robust "tot" of four winters. On that fateful morning of our birth, when we first opened our doors and began to "holler" for business, many of our friends shook their heads sadly and said we couldn't possibly live. They said they conceded there was plenty of pluck, but that the odds against us were too great to be overcome. We had the most stubborn faith that the lusty infant would live, and we believed it would grow great. We're not going to tell you how it has grown. You'll see that when you come. We want to say in this connection that this store has not been raised on paregoric and a rubber-neck bottle! Spot cash—yellow gold—is the diet that has made it grow great, and at a lightning gait. If it had been fed on "charge it" and "promises to pay" it would be thin and weakly, with many sleepless nights. Underbidding and underselling for cash is the vigorous diet on which it has been fed.

For five days, up to Saturday night at 10 o'clock this fourth Anniversary Sale will run. We're not going to say more than to predict that you will be sorry if you do not come to the store.

PARK IS CROWDED

MORE PEOPLE AT FAIRMOUNT THAN EVER BEFORE IN ITS HISTORY.

THOUSANDS OF UNION MEN

SPEECHES, GAMES, BATHING AND AMUSEMENT AT THEATER.

L. C. Boyle, Formerly Attorney General of Kansas, Makes an Eloquent Address—Good, Practical Talk by P. S. Brown, Jr.

Fairmount park was a Mecca yesterday for thousands of sons of toil who were eager to take advantage of the opportunity that was afforded them to journey to the beautiful spots among the trees where they could forget everything associated with the hot and dusty streets of a city. From early morning until late at night a steady stream of people flowed to and from the park. A great many went out early, some on the first car. By noon the railway company was taxed to its utmost to provide accommodations for the throng. Officials of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company say that there were more people in the park yesterday than ever before. Every available space on the lawn was occupied by luncheon parties and the dancing pavilion, theater, grand stand at the athletic field and all places of amusement were filled to overflowing. It was a well dressed and an orderly crowd. The guardians whose duty it was to preserve order reported that they had nothing to do. Everybody went out to have a good time and everybody had a good time. It is common to picnic and outdoor entertainments could be found. Early in the day the dancing pavilion was crowded and the dancers, in their eagerness to enjoy themselves, seemed to forget the oppressive heat and danced with as much energy as though it were the middle of winter instead of Indian summer days. The lake was not forgotten and throughout the long day the usually placid body of water was lashed almost into foam by hundreds of small boys, and others who could not be classified as juveniles.

The afternoon programme consisted of speaking by some of the most prominent orators in this section of the country, and in a series of athletic contests held on the field just beyond the lake. The addresses were delivered in the park theater and the building was crowded long before the orators appeared on the platform. Joseph McGrath was master of ceremonies and the list of speakers included such prominent men as Hon. A. M. Doekery, David Ball, Hon. Joseph Flory, Judge James Gibson, James Boston, a representative of the United Mine Workers; Rev. Dr. Stephen A. Northrop and Deputy Coroner J. M. Langsdale.

Doekery Defends the Politician.

Mr. Doekery spoke for some time and took advantage of an opportunity to reply to some statements that had been made by Dr. Langsdale and others, cautioning laboring men to beware of the wiles of the politicians. Mr. Doekery said that the common idea of a politician was wrong, and that much good had been done for the laboring man by legislators. "I do not desire to defend the professional politician," said Mr. Doekery, "but I say that the laboring man has been greatly benefited by men who are servants of the public. Take for instance the passage of the act by congress that provides for the establishment of the industrial commission. This is a body of men whose duty is to investigate the needs of the laboring man, and I believe that they will do much good."

Mr. Doekery cited instances of bills that have been passed by politicians that had been of great benefit to organized labor. Hon. Dave Ball followed with a long speech denouncing trusts, and Joe Flory argued for some time against the department store. Louis C. Boyle, former attorney general of Kansas; Lee Johnson, state labor commissioner of Kansas; Congressman S. Crawford and Frank P. Walsh.

A LABOR DAY POLITICIAN.

but one great stock company and can manage its business to suit itself; whereas, if an agreement looking to the control of prices had been entered into between the very same firms that go to make up this great stock company and their competitors, such an agreement would be illegal. This is the same old story, and the same old story, that has been declared by the proper tribunals. "By indirectness you shall seek direction out, it is being followed to the letter."

"The beneficiaries of these combinations, with a line show of devotion to law and order, gravely admonish the laborer to obey the law. That otherwise they will be punished by their experimental mistakes, and in adapting our own city governments to the new conditions, we will then be in the van of municipal progress. The earning capacity of labor must be increased; the eight hour law is universal and labor has cause for congratulation to-day."

Mr. Boyle made a very eloquent address.
