THEIR INVASION OF CAPE COLONY CUTS UNSTEADILY.

PREPARING TO MEET BULLER

BRITISH PLAN OF CAMPAIGN BEGINNING TO UNFOLD.

Three Advances to Be Made, to Lady-smith, to Burgardorp, to Kimberley and to Ladysmith—Brief of Kimberley to Be Difficult.

LONDON, Nov. 21. A. M.—The reports of heavy fighting at Ladysmith last Wednesday have not been confirmed. On the contrary the most reliable advices from Esturt indicate that there was nothing more than a desultory cannonade. Probably a rumor of a serious engagement grew out of the fact that the Boers threw a few harmless shells late Tuesday night, leading to the supposition that an attack was imminent. Nothing, however, happened Wednesday. Beyond the fact that the Boers are daily receiving fresh reinforcements and supplies, there is practically nothing new from the front.

The Boer invasion of Cape Colony continues steadily and rapidly. There are 1,200 Boers at Oesburg, and news has reached East London that Ladysmith, near Alvalha North, has been deserted by the British and is not in the hands of the enemy.

A Pretoria dispatch announces the arrival there among the British prisoners, of Major Iddine, Lieutenant Broche and Lieutenant Hallway. It also declares that the British on Sunday made two unsuccessful attempts to oust the Rustenburg command from a position near Mateking, and that severe fighting took place.

From Elago bay comes reports of the arrival of German officers and artillerymen who have volunteered to serve with the Transvaal forces.

The war office semi-officially asserts that all news received from Africa has been published with the exception of demands for the renewal of stores, war material and the like. There is an unconfirmed rumor that most troops have been ordered from India to Cape.

The plan of operations on both sides is slowly unfolding itself. General Joubert is evidently moving south to prevent, if possible, the junction of the British and Boer forces at Esturt and Ladysmith, while on the Orange river border the Boers are believed to be concentrating at Donkerpoort opposite General Buller's advance. It is said 6,000 Boers have already lugged at Donkerpoort.

The English plan seems to be a three-fold advance from Durban to Ladysmith, from Orange river to Kimberley, and from East London by way of Queenstown, to Burgardorp. General Buller has wired the commanding officer at Ladysmith, announcing the despatch of General Gatacre, with the first battalion of the Seventh brigade to East London. This was the place from which it was originally intended that General Gatacre's column should start. Thus it starts, that General Buller's first plans have suffered less modification than some have supposed.

The popular anticipations here regarding the relief of Kimberley appear too sanguine. The British force is not yet ready, and when it starts, it will have a dangerous road to follow, every foot of which will probably be contested if the British attempt direct advance. So, it is said, possibly instead of pushing directly for Kimberley, the British will advance from the front in the direction of Blomfontein, which may thus be threatened. This, it is claimed, would draw off the Boer's forces and enable the railroad to be restored.

At the Marquis of Lansdowne's suggestion the queen has decided that her Christmas present to the troops in South Africa is to take the form of a tin of chocolate for each man.

The Standard publishes the following from Ladysmith, dated Sunday, November 16: "The arrival of the relief column at Esturt has completely modified the plans of the enemy, and General Joubert has moved to the south in an effort to prevent the junction of the two British forces."

ENGLAND'S BEEF SCANDAL.

Three Pounds of Meat Served Instead of Twelve Pounds.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—A dispatch to the World from London says: "There is every indication of a big scandal about the meat supplied to the troops sent to South Africa. One of the Sunday weeklies publishes the following new complaint in a letter from 'Vincet' to-day every soldier of the 1,500 on board complained to the officers of their companies that their dinner of three pounds of beef was putrid. Colonel Pagot, with the doctors and quartermasters, inspected the messes and found the food to be unfit for use as being unfit for human food."

Sixteen men are allowed twelve pounds, on which the twelve pounds of meat is divided in many cases only three pounds, and at the most under six pounds. Fancy sixteen hungry men sharing three pounds, including internally staked briquet bones, and the whole ration was thrown overboard."

A HEARTY GOD-SPEED.

Enthusiastic Sendoff Given to the Forty-first Regiment at New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—With flags flying and soldiers cheering and with the band of the Forty-first regiment playing "The Girl I Left Behind Me," the United States transport Logan steamed down the bay to-day and out to sea on her way to the Philippines. It is not often that such a sendoff is given to a regiment.

The government gave its aid to the regiment by sending a number of trucks to follow the transport down the bay and care for the people who had come down to see the soldiers off. The color was well carried out.

From the time the Logan left her anchorage in the upper bay at 7:30 a. m. she passed out of Sandy Hook and was well on her way, she was accompanied by a flotilla of gunboats. Some government tug boats and some had been privately chartered, but all of them were loaded with mothers, fathers, relatives and friends of the departing soldiers. They cheered and waved all the way down the bay, while the strains of "The Girl I Left Behind Me" and "The Star Spangled Banner" came in answer from the vessel. The vessel had weighed anchor and was on its way when the tug boats were still on board.

CROWD HAD A ROPE.

John Sterling Paroled by a Mob, Intent Upon Securing the Proceeds of a Mule Sale.

John Sterling, who is employed at the horse market, near Fifth street and Grand avenue, had what he considered a narrow shave yesterday evening. During the day he was approached by Walter Smith, who had a pair of mules belonging to his mother, to sell. He offered Sterling a commission if he could find a purchaser. Before long he had a customer and the mules were shipped to the city. The amount was paid by a check, and when the latter was cashed Sterling received the amount agreed upon.

He repeated to a neighboring saloon, where he became the envy of some of his competitors by reason of his good luck. It was also said that he had a roll of money and several men whose names are unknown attempted to get it. They chased him from the saloon down several streets to the alley near Fifth street between Walnut and Grand avenue. Sergeant Flannery happened to be in the vicinity and Sterling, all out of breath, rushed past him, followed by a mob of twenty-five or thirty persons, who were taking to the police station, where Smith put in an appearance and explained matters and Sterling was released.

He lives in Paola, Kas., and he and his family are travelling over the country in a covered wagon selling horses and mules.

EVERYONE WANTS DIAZ.

He Wants to Retire from Presidency of Mexico, but Public Will Not Permit It.

CITY OF MEXICO, Nov. 20.—Reports received by the Liberal party general committee from all over the republic show many demonstrations on the part of the people in favor of the re-election of President Diaz, and he will be the unanimous choice of his party. The report telegraphed abroad that he intends refusing a renomination has only the basis of his natural disinclination to continue in office and his desire to take a well earned rest, but in fact, when the Liberal party renomination is almost irresistible, coming not only from the leaders of the Liberal party, but from many eminent men in the conservative party, who are anxious to see change.

The whole mass of manufacturers, bankers, and merchants and minor industrial plants unite in saying that no change should be made in the executive office. In fact, when of political good fortune in this country, but the only man whom the diverse elements can rally in harmony is General Diaz, and some naturally are able that he will have to yield to the general pressure upon him, although he feels that he should be allowed a rest from the labors now prolonged for many years.

TRUST FIGHTING ITS TAXES.

Douglas County Sues to Collect $4,320 Assessed Against Abandoned Wire Mill.

TOPEKA, Nov. 20.—(Special.) Douglas county has commenced suit in the federal court against the hard wire trust to collect $4,320 taxes assessed against the abandoned hard wire plant at Lawrence. When the assessor asked the trust to make out a schedule of its personal property in Lawrence, it refused to do it. He then assessed it at $150,000. The board of equalization raised these figures to $25,000. The trust refused to pay the taxes, on the ground that the assessment was excessive, and is moving all of its personal property away. The county brought suit and attached what personal property remains. A few days ago the trust filed suit to enjoin the county from collecting the alleged exorbitant taxes.

Miss Ruth Nollard Sues. Miss Ruth Nollard brought suit in the district court, Kansas City, Kas., yesterday against the Metropolitan Street Railway Company to recover $1,000 personal damages. She alleges that on November 2, last, she was in the act of alighting from one of the company's cars at the corner of Thirtieth and Summit streets, Kansas City, Mo., when the conductor slammed the car door shut on her hand, crushing it in a most painful manner.

IS BUYING MULES

ENGLISH ARMY OFFICER INSPECTING LOCAL PRODUCT.

500 TAKEN FROM KANSAS CITY

HALF WILL BE PACK MULES AND REST LARGER ANIMALS.

Latter Will Be Used for the Transportation of Ordnance—Qualities Which the Purchasers of War Mules Prize Most Highly.

Missouri mules, and especially those to be had in Kansas, are being bought as rapidly as the British government can handle them. Captain S. M. Smith, an officer in the British army, a skilled veterinary surgeon, is again in the city inspecting mules for shipment to the Transvaal. He said yesterday that he intended to buy 500 of the little pack mules here, the same number in St. Louis and 400 in Texas for immediate shipment. As soon as he has these on his hands, he will buy the same number of the larger animals fifteen hands high and higher. These will be used for the transportation of ordnance. Queen Victoria's warriors are also waiting for the larger animals, and the orders will be rushed as speedily as possible. Captain Smith says that the Missouri mule is all that is claimed for it, which is a great deal, for the reputation of this animal for endurance and strength is unequalled. Even experts are in doubt as to why the animal bred in this state should be so much superior to the ordinary animals of his species, but that the superior quality exists has long since been established.

The qualities which Captain Smith and other British army officers, who are now in this country on the same mission, prize most highly are hardness, docility and power of traveling long distances with little food, but docility is the least of these. Experts say that all mules are subject to fits of stubbornness, and even Captain Smith cannot gauge his purchases with accuracy when it comes to this quality. A mule may be as docile as a lamb one day and the next he may be possessed of a cyclonic temper.

To be acceptable to the government a mule must be between the ages of 4 and 7 years, of good moral character, and fit for heavy work, about fifteen hands high, for pack work about eleven. It takes the expert eye to judge the quality of the animal, and the status of each animal and the accepted standard of the British army. The rejected ones to another. The English have a peculiar method of branding their mules, but that the superior quality exists has long since been established.

During the month of October nearly 3,000 mules were shipped from this country to South Africa and from present appearances the shipment this month will exceed that of the month of October. The British have a very difficult time in overcoming the mule's reluctance to be loaded with heavy loads. Prices here have advanced lately and the mule's reluctance to be loaded with heavy loads is a very painful one to both the mule and the operator. This method has been adopted by the English for many years, and the brand is eradicated after a few years, so that no trouble is experienced in using the mule again. The greatest trouble with the Missouri mule is his patriotism. Many are found who are as patriotic as the mule and will be taken along as conscripts. But he makes up for this in the toughness of his hide, and the strength of his legs, and the tenacity of his teeth, so deadly to horses.

WAS READY FOR THE MOB.

Kentucky Sheriff Had Twenty Deputies Who Fired on Would-be Lynchers.

COVINGTON, GA., Nov. 20.—A masked mob of about seventy-five men attacked the jail here at 11 o'clock to-night, in an effort to secure William Collins, a white man. Sheriff Anderson, in defending the prisoner, ordered his deputies to fire upon the mob. The mob was scattered, and the sheriff says he saw one man carrying a rifle, who was shot and killed. The mob was broken up, and the sheriff, at the instance of Miss Kirkus, father, before the mob got to him, and lodged him in the jail.

To-night a mob of between seventy-five and 100 men, presumably from the Porterdale mill, came to Covington with the intention of lynching Collins. Sheriff Anderson, who had been apprised of the mob's intention, had twenty deputies armed with Winchester rifles inside the jail. The leaders of the mob, on hearing the jail door slammed, ordered the mob to fire. The sheriff's answer being greeted with a volley of shots from his numerous visitors. This was answered by Winchester rifles from the jail, and a fusillade ensued. Seeing that the sheriff was prepared for them, the mob was not far from the jail when his men fired, and he believes there were several fatalities. He was unable to see the extent of the damage, and says: "I saw only one man, who I carry away one man. The jail was strongly guarded for the night."

Michael Kane Dies From the Effects of an Early Sunday Morning Run.

Michael Kane, who was shot during a burglary in the barroom of McConville's boarding house, corner First street and Kansas avenue, Kansas City, Kas., early Sunday morning, by James Morris, the bartender, died at Bethany hospital yesterday morning shortly before 10 o'clock. Sunday afternoon after it was determined that the man could not recover, Assistant County Prosecutor B. S. Smith took a statement from Kane, in which he told of the trouble and the shooting. He made the statement, knowing that he could not live. The prosecutor refused to make known the exact contents of the ante-mortem statement.

The body of Kane was taken to Daniel Bros' morgue, on Kansas avenue, where Coroner Tracy held a post mortem examination. It was ascertained that the man was shot three times. The bullet that caused his death passed through his abdomen, puncturing several of the intestines. The bullet entered the man's back, and he died shortly after. The case will be thoroughly investigated.

Morris, who gave himself up to the police at a station directly after the shooting, held at the police hold over since. He refuses to give any of the details of the shooting, but says that he attempted to assault him and he shot in self-defense.

As near as the authorities can learn the trouble, Kane was in the joint alone at the time of the trouble. Kane had been in the joint all night and had been drinking. Morris had been drinking, but not to excess, so he states. The examination to-day will be held at 2 o'clock. The body will be placed in the receiving vault at Woodland cemetery with Masonic honors.

The mandamus case of Bruce M. Nisely against the grand lodge of the Knights and Ladies of the Firebrace to compel that body to reinstate the plaintiff as secretary of the lodge, was argued before Judge Allen, of the district court, yesterday. The case was argued by Nisely, who was formerly secretary of the lodge, and by the grand lodge officers. He alleges that no charges were filed against him, but that the association will meet again this morning at 9 o'clock to make arrangements to attend the funeral. All members have been requested to be present.

A Sure Cure for Croup.

Mr. T. Gray, who lives near Amnion, Dutchess county, New York, says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best medicine I have ever used. It is a fine children's remedy for croup and never fails to cure." Among the many thousands who have used this remedy for croup, we have seen the croupy cough has developed, it will prevent the child from being taken to the hospital and in many households it is the sole reliance. When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, and even after the croupy cough has developed, it will prevent the attack. This should be borne in mind and a bottle of the Cough Remedy kept at hand ready for instant use as soon as these symptoms appear.

GRAND AVENUE TRACKS

COUNCIL GRANTS PERMISSION AND WORK BEGINS TO-DAY.

Electric Cars From Five to Thirteen—Manufacturers' Letter Referred—City to Take Fire House No. 15—Rourke's Business.

The resolution granting permission to the Brooklyn Avenue Street Railway Company to lay temporary tracks on the east side of Grand avenue between Eighth and Ninth streets, was adopted by the council last night. The tracks will be used by the Northeast electric and the Tenth street trolley.

"I shall begin work to-morrow," said General Manager Conroy F. Holmes last night, after the adoption of the resolution. "In fifteen days I expect to have cars running along Grand avenue from Fifth to Thirtieth streets."

The present tracks will be laid between the present tracks of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company and the lines that surround the city government building. The electric cars will just clear the city.

The ordinance to turn over to the city the fire house No. 15, which was vacated for seven years, passed the upper house has been run by the stock yards company and was referred to the fire committee in the lower house. There are two lots, two sets of harness and 2,500 feet of hose at this fire house.

A communication from Secretary Winthrop, of the Manufacturers' Association, was referred to the board of public works. In this communication Mr. Winthrop asked on behalf of the association that the city buy all possible supplies from Kansas City manufacturers and that copies of all requisitions for supplies be furnished the association by the city.

This is the second time this request has been made. On the former occasion the board of public works authorized the letter stating that the city was already purchasing supplies from Kansas City manufacturers and that it would not be possible to furnish copies of requisitions, but that it would be possible to furnish copies of requisitions, and make copies of them itself. The board having declared itself formerly, the resolution to the board of public works means that the result will be the same.

While the tree ordinances were before the upper house Alderman Park asked a question to the quality of many of the trees he had seen. City Forester Timmick was called upon and said that he had not yet inspected those trees and that they would not be accepted unless up to standard. The trees cost from $2.50 to $2.50 each.
