Corner Stone Laying.
The corner stone of the hospital building at the Confederate Home was laid Wednesday with imposing ceremonies. The ex-confederates of this city attended in a body. In the copper box that was put into the corner stone, Lexington camp put a beautifully engraved silver plate 3x3 inches, the work being done by Geo. P. Venable, of this city. The engraving is set in plush and is a thing of beauty. It is as follows:
Lexington, Mo.,
Camp 648 U. C. V.,
J. Q. Plattenburg, Com.
G. P. Venable, Adj.
August 14, 1901.
