Resolutions of Respect.

LEXINGTON LODGE, No. 157, }
KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS, }
GRAND DOMAIN OF MISSOURI. }
LEXINGTON MO., Sept. 26, 1901.
P. P. xxxviii.
Whereas, William McKinley, President of the United States, a worthy Knight and Past Chancellor of our order, has met with an untimely death, most foul, strange and unnatural, struck by the bloody hand of treason, in the midst of his career of usefulness as a public servant;
We, the officers and members of Lexington Lodge No. 157, Knights of Pythias, hereby tender to his bereaved wife, family and friends our heartfelt sympathy and condolence in view of their irreparable loss. We should ever guard the peace and purity of his household as we would our own. The true Knight, champion and defender of helpless humanity, always and everywhere, must feel his sympathies go out to this, the foremost family of our county, now of all the most afflicted. The members of this lodge will always cherish the memory of our departed brother and hold his widow and his family in our fraternal regard. And when they reach the beautiful unknown shore may they be reunited to him they loved and honored, for an eternity of bliss.

Resolutions of Respect.

It is with sad hearts we are called upon to announce the death of one of our members, Annie E. Woods, who departed this life August 1, 1901.
What a terrible shock and grief the community felt when the news came flashing over the wires of the untimely end of Annie Woods. Annie was a general favorite. None knew her but to love her. She was of a delicate constitution, but she always bore her sufferings with a smiling face.
She sought her Savior in her childhood and lived a consistent Christian life; was at the time of her death a member of the Cumberland Church and also of the Endeavor Society. We hope to meet Annie in the better land where sorrow and partings never come.
Resolved, First—We, the members of Edenview Endeavor Society, extend our sympathies to the bereaved family in this their hour of sore affliction and point them to Him who alone can heal the broken hearted.

Resolved, Second—That while we cannot understand why all these heart-aches, God has said, "My grace is sufficient for thee." And "that all things work together for good to them that love the Lord." May God bless and comfort the grief-stricken father and mother, brother and sisters and reunite them in His own good time.

Resolved, Third—That these resolutions be spread on our minutes and copies be sent to our church papers and to the family.

By order of COMMITTEE.

Lee's Statue Full of Honey.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 1.—In the western portion of Richmond stands an equestrian statue of General Robert E. Lee of heroic size. The parted lips of the latter and the open nostrils of the animal he bestrides render ingress and egress easy to small insects. This fact became known to a swarm of bees temporarily without a home. They investigated the interior of the giant figures, and found an ideal place for a hive. All through the summer they have been toiling filling their bronze dwelling with sweetmeats. Today the fact became known, but it was also discovered that it would be impossible to secure the honey without injury to the splendid statue, so the bees will not be disturbed.

Letters Granted.

Letters of administration on the estate of Mary E. Hagood were issued on Wednesday of this week to Charles Hoefler, of Higginsville. The estate consists of 160 acres of land and $5,500 in cash. Mrs. Hagood was shot down in her own yard only a few days since by some one whose identity the coroner's jury could not get at.
