Take Things As They Come

When you buy soda biscuit in a paper bag, take them as they come; stale—soggy—spoiled.

Don't blame the baker.
Don't blame the grocer.
Don't blame anyone but yourself.

When you buy Uneeda Biscuit look for the In-er-seal—the famous red and white trade-mark design that identifies the package which keeps them fresh—clean—good.

Credit the baker for baking them.
Credit the grocer for keeping them.
Credit yourself for buying them.

In the Springtime.

When from the south the breezes come
To put old Winter out of plumb,
When gentle Spring is close at hand
And pleasant sunshine fills the land,
Then lovely woman goes about,
With energy to beat the band,
To put the dirt to rout.

Her hair is in an apron tied,
Her dress pinned up on either side;
She dons a faded underskirt
And valiantly pursues the dirt
With dust-rag, broom and mop;
She hasn't even time to flirt;
For gossip she won't stop.

The humble man about the place
Has pressing business or a case
That calls him very far away;
He won't get back till late next day.
He knows that if he'll only wait
There's trash to burn and rags to lay,
And so he pulls his freight.

Oh, when the Spring its lease has signed,
A microbe rules all womankind,
And she must clean her house or die;
No use to ask the reason why
Or of the matter further talk.
So when man sees it in her eye
He takes a walk.

MRS. L. S. ADAMS,
Of Galveston, Texas.

"Wine of Cardui is indeed a blessing to tired women. Having suffered for seven years with weakness and bearing-down pains, and having tried several doctors and different remedies with no success, your Wine of Cardui was the only thing which helped me, and eventually cured me. It seemed to build up the weak parts, strengthen the system and correct irregularities."

By "tired women" Mrs. Adams means nervous women who have disordered menses, falling of the womb, ovarian troubles or any of these ailments that women have. You can cure yourself at home with this great women's remedy, Wine of Cardui. Wine of Cardui has cured thousands of cases which doctors have failed to benefit. Why not begin to get well today? All druggists have $1.00 bottles. For any stomach, liver or bowel disorder Thedford's Black-Draught should be used.
