

Bryan's London Interview.

The first suggestion of a reception for me at New York came prior to the action of any of the state conventions and before there was any discussion of the next campaign. It came from the Commercial Travelers' league, of which Mr. Hoge is president. I assured him I should be pleased to meet the members of the league suggesting that the reception be characterized by simplicity. Now that the actions of some of the state conventions have raised a question as to the political significance of the reception I am glad to say that it must not be regarded in the light of an indorsement for the presidential nomination.

While I appreciate the compliment paid by the various state conventions, I do not regard their expressions as binding upon them or upon the party of their states. I shall not prosecute them for breach of promise if they transfer their effections to another; I will not even publish their letters. To allow the reception to be regarded as an indorsement would be unjust to others who may be candidates.

I have seen the names of several mentioned as possible candidates, among them Congressman Hearst, Senator Bailey and Governor Folk. All have rendered conspicuous service to the party and the country and their claims should be considered. The party is entitled to its most available man, and the question of availability cannot be determined so far in advance. Circumstances and issues may strengthen the claims of some one of the gentlemen mentioned, and the list should be an open one until the time comes to choose.

I may add that it would not be just to me to put me in the attitude of avouching my candidacy or admitting the certainty of my being a candidate. It is two years before the convention meets and I am not willing to sit on a stool and look pretty that long. I prefer to be in a position to say what I think ought to be said, write what I think ought to be written and do what I think ought to be done. I am advancing in years and cannot spare two years out of my life at this time.

I shall be glad to return to America, although every day of my trip has been enjoyable. I shall be glad to meet my friends in America, and after I have met them they will be just as free as before to do what they think best of issues and candidates.

Corder's Annual Picnic July 28.

Higginsville Leader:
The annual Corder picnic given every year by the business men of the place will be held Saturday, July 28. This year the committee has gone farther in the way of making preparations than any previous year, and the people will find nothing lacking in the way of amusement. In the way of attractions there will be present some of the state's most prominent speakers, music will be furnished, and a good ball game played by two of Lafayette county's best teams. Refreshments will be in abundance and other numerous amusements will be in order. A night fireworks will be the attraction, which feature has been given special attention. Everybody is cordially invited to partake of the hospitality extended.

Higginsville Advance: Died at his home south of Bates City, Friday, June 29, 1906, after an illness of six years, William Harp. Anilville Items in the Higginsville Jeffersonian: Died—In Kansas City, June 28, 1906, Mrs. Minnie Rowe, aged 35 years, daughter of Uriah Ferrell of near this place. The remains were buried here Saturday, where a large concourse of friends had gathered to pay the last tribute. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Coil of Higginsville.

Motor Chair for Seasickness.
Anybody who has had a good case of seasickness must have felt that he would welcome the electric chair as a relief. Now an electric chair for seasickness has been tested in an English channel steamer and an ocean liner. You sit in a snug armchair. A motor under the seat is connected with the ship's electric current. You sit and take vibratory treatment. Up and down and crosswise you are shaken. Most sitters need but one treatment. Their tendency to seasickness is vibrated out of them. Some need a second sitting. A few are seasick as soon as their treatment ends. It is a preventive, mark you, not cure. The theory is that seasickness is essentially a nervous malady, and that vibration reduces the nervousness.—Everybody's Magazine.

Contempt for the Town Kicker.
The kickers on the farm are not so hard to get along with as those in the towns. On the farm there is the kicking cow and our long-eared friend, the mule, while in town there is the old mossback who wants all the privileges of municipal living without paying for them, and block, so far as he can, every municipal improvement. The cow may be sold for beef and the mule traded for a shotgun, but nothing but a funeral will get rid of the town kicker.
