ANNOVA, CAPT. TODHUNTER'S GREAT 3-YEAR-OLD.

Record 2:13 1-4 on Half Mile Track at Marshall, Aug. 7.

Annona was bred and is owned by Capt. Ryland Todhunter who owns also her full brother, Amatam, 44152, her Dam, Mary Myrick, and half interest in her sire, Ashbrook. She was foaled at Graystone Park in June, 1904. She is chestnut, 15 1-4 hands high, with perfection of form and disposition. Her intelligence is remarkable. Her conformation is decidedly more on the order of thoroughbred than either trotter or racer. Her value, as estimated by prominent horsemen, is in six figures.

William Hackley, of Higginsville, who broke and developed this filly now enjoys the distinction of being one of the best trainers in Missouri.

Annona is recovering nicely from the injury she received in the Marshall race and will soon be on the track again.

Lost in New York.

The thrilling drama entitled "Lost in New York" was started auspiciously Thursday evening at the New Grand. The members of the company have been here rehearsing for the past week and last night's performance was the first of the season. Consequently there was unusual interest locally in the production. The manager, L. Newt Bronson, has been in Lexington a good many times and is pretty well known here. He bears an excellent reputation and is a pleasant gentleman to meet.

Last night's performance augured well for the success of the company this season. Naturally there were a good many rough places in both lines and business; but there is little superfluous stuff in the piece and consequently the improvement of the piece will consist mostly of smoothing and not of pruning. As a matter of fact some additions could be made to advantage. The drama as it stands is almost wholly without a love motive, which makes the climax incomplete. The introduction of a little sentimentality would add interest.

Otherwise the structure of the play is good in itself and well organized. The climaxes are perfectly arranged and, except for the introduction of the inevitable specialties, the piece is unified and coherent.

It would be unfair to make an individual criticism of the actors at this early stage. They all seem to be perfectly capable of handling their parts satisfactorily, although as yet they are not absolutely sure of their lines. The singing could have been improved upon, as it doubtless will be as soon as the company secures the service of a competent musical director. But the specialties, rough as they were took well with the audience.

On the whole "Lost in New York" deserves and should expect a successful season. With a good book, good scenery, good actors and a good manager the production bids fair to be successful. The people in its cast have conducted themselves unapproachably since they have been in Lexington and have many friends. It is to be hoped that Mr. Bronson will see fit to start off his next production from here.

Between the fourth and fifth acts, A. E. Bellows, who plays the leading part, made a brief speech thanking the public and Manager Haerle in particular for courtesies shown.

MOTHER SAVES DROWNING BABE.

Little Girl Unconscious When Parent Plunges Into the Pond.

An intuition that something was wrong with her daughter, Grace, enabled Mrs. Goodbrake of 2820 Sidney street to save the life of the child. Not a second too soon she snatched the struggling child from a stagnant pool. Grace was unconscious for 15 minutes.

Mrs. Goodbrake who is the wife of John T. Goodbrake, a Cherokee line motorman, conducts a little store at 7300 Gravois avenue. In looking after the store it is necessary for her to have the smaller children with her. Wednesday afternoon, while she waited on customers, Grace and Emerson and Ollie played outside. Grace is 2 years old, the others are older. They were expected to look after their little sister, but wild flowers lured them to the adjacent fields and they forgot their responsibility.

Mrs. Goodbrake's heart suddenly fell with an oppressive sense of danger. She ran to the door but none of the children were in sight. She had long dreaded the stagnant pool across the road. She ran to it. Lying on her back struggling and gasping, was Grace. Mrs. Goodbrake rushed into the water three feet deep, but before she reached the child she stumbled and fell and went under the water.

She caught the child and floundered to the bank. Grace was unconscious and blue in the face. The mother's screams brought Ed Bowen and his wife from their store near by. They helped carry Grace to the office of Dr. Williamson. When he worked over her for 15 minutes she began to gasp and cry.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

John T. Goodbrake is the son of Mrs. Margaret Goodbrake and brother of C. F. Goodbrake of near this city and has many warm friends in this county.

A Mild Laxative For Baby's Bowels

The infant or child should not be given salts, purgative waters or harsh pills or tablets when the bowels are constipated, and neither should any medicine be used that contains a narcotic. It is well for mothers to remember that there is no better, gentler or more effective remedy for children's stomach and bowel troubles than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Its purity and mildness make it especially adapted to young people's use. It works gently but surely, and containing, as it does, many tonic ingredients, it not only cleans out the congested bowels, but tones the system and makes the child feel better in every way.

Among the thousands who are using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is Mrs. Spalding of Mayfield, Ky., and she writes that she gives it to her baby regularly and that she would not be without it. She has used it herself for a long time and ought to know.

Mothers will find this an invaluable remedy for old and young in constipation, dyspepsia, liver trouble, diarrhea, colic, worms, and many other ills that afflict the stomach and bowels. It is guaranteed to do what we claim, and by its use a home cure at very little cost is easily brought about.

Children are often troubled with skin diseases, are backward in school, lose weight and do not care to eat or play, when all that is really the matter with them is stomach trouble. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will correct. Go to your druggist to-day and buy a bottle and see how quickly the child gets well again. It is a good thing for the whole family to use in stomach, liver and bowel complaints. A 50 cent bottle has often restored a wretched family.
