Judge Jackson Says Kansas City Attorney Will Be Credit to State.

ENDORSEMENTS ARRIVING

City and State Shows Activities in Behalf of His Candidacy.

Probably no more interesting endorsement of William S. Cowherd, who has announced his candidacy for the nomination for governor at the hands of the Democracy of Missouri, has been made than that given out by Judge A. M. Jackson, of Winfield, Kan. Judge Jackson's remarks on Cowherd are the more significant as he is what might be termed a disinterested spectator, who by virtue of the fact that he served with Cowherd in Congress is well fitted to pass judgement on his worth.

"The Democrats of Missouri have always been so kind and generous in giving advice to the Democrats of Kansas, which has been so appreciated by us, that we like to reciprocate whenever we can," said Judge Jackson at the Baltimore hotel today. "We are conscious that as a rule the Democrats of Missouri behave so well that they do not need any outside advice, but when we see the name of W. S. Cowherd of Kansas City mentioned for governor, we can't resist saying to the Democrats of Missouri, 'make it unanimous.' It would not only be a credit to the great state of Missouri to have Cowherd as governor, but a credit to the Democracy of the nation.

"While, as governor, he would only deal in state affairs, yet every party must assume the responsibility and answer for every man it places in office. An incompetent and inefficient Democratic governor in any state is hurtful to the cause of Democracy everywhere. If Cowherd was nominated for governor, it would make us across the line more active and energetic if such a thing is possible. He is a great man; great in heart and mind. He possesses the true Jeffersonian qualification; he is honest and capable.

"We keep posted on your men, and measure them from an unprejudiced view. We are not connected with your factions, therefore, when we speak of your men, it is not from a local view, but national.

"Cowherd's service in congress endeared him to the Democracy of this country. In the halls of congress he gave ample proof of his statesmanship and devotion to the people. While he lives in Missouri, and is connected with your local organization, yet the Democracy of the nation is deeply interested in him because through such men we expect our cause to triumph. He believes the people have rights which should be respected. He is distinctly the product of the common people, those who believe in honor and integrity in all dealings. His administration would be clean. The boodler and grafter would have to fold their tents and move to a more congenial climate. He would have economy in all things, and parsimony in nothing. Civic righteousness would reign without ostentation, and predatory wealth would be made to respect the law without flaring of trumpets and beating of cymbals.

"Nominate him, elect him, and mark Kansas' word the people of Missouri irrespective of party, will, at the end of his term, say, with one accord, he is honest, he is capable, and we are proud of his record."—K. C. Post

Interest in Other People's Money.

To the November American Magazine Ernest Poole contributes a most interesting article on "New Readers of the News." In the course of the article Mr. Poole tells many stories. One is of a baker on the East Side in New York. Mr. Poole says: "Rarely did the jolly little man come up to earth. Mixing and kneading and baking, down in his hole, with his good frau to help him, this all day and part of the night was his life of the body.

But the spirit of Max roamed far and wide. Never have I seen so omnivorous a reader of the news. Not one, but three papers a day, not to mention occasional 'Extras.' He read them all. And his boundless, unfeeling delight was to hear what money can give, the marvellous ways in which these Americans spend money.

"'Dey don't care vot dey spend!' This sentence I have heard him utter over and over, with all kinds of changing inflections; now softly chuckling, bending far over the paper spread out on his white aproned knees; now musingly, between puffs on his cigarette; now explosively, pounding the table with his fist; and again wearily leaning back, his round sides aching from laughter.

"The bakery walls were a gallery of extravagance, with glaring prints from the Sunday editions; on one wall steamed a great ocean liner equipped with cafe and palm garden; the 'Twentieth Century' train rushed by on the opposite side; and beneath, a two-million-dollar hotel, a charity ball and a Newport fete champetre; while on the third wall, superb climax to the whole panorama—the great Waldorf kitchen at the dinner hour. It was here that his son Herman was already a rising young chef, a specialist, a soup virtuoso. It was from this son and his table of famous dinners and suppers that Max took his ideas of America.

"'Dey don't care vot dey spend!' It was amazing the ecstasy of delight and pride which he threw into this comment, recounting how other people eat dinners."

A New County Officer.

Beginning with January of next year, each county is allowed and authorized by the legislature to have a new officer—that of county highway engineer. He will be appointed by the court every two years and will receive a salary not to exceed $2,000 per year. His salary is fixed by the court, and may at the discretion of the court be made as low as $300. The new officer will have supervision of all the roads and bridges in the county, and must put in all his time looking after those things. Here is an important work and a good job for the right man who should be well qualified for the work.—Odessa Democrat.

It is now being bruited about that Hon. W. S. Cowherd is the candidate of some "machine," says the Columbia Tribune. If there is one distinguished characteristic of Mr. Cowherd it is his integrity and his unimpeachable character. Should he become Governor of Missouri he will wear no man's collar and no machine's collar. The word "machine" is a bogey man that has been worked over-time in Missouri. If the rumor that Mr. Cowherd is the candidate of one of these terrible Ku Kluxes could be traced to its source, it would be found emanating from person or persons who know they can not use W. S. Cowherd to further their own schemes for preferment and advancement.

Things as They Are Seen.

Things are only as you think you imagine; you see them. If a quarrel were to have ten sides each side would be both right and wrong.

Little Ills of Children

Mothers and all others who have children about the house cannot do their families a better service than to learn of simple and reliable remedies that correct children's ailments. Many grown people are suffering today for the ignorance or negligence of those who had charge of their bringing up.

Children are prone to constipation, and if it isn't corrected early, the bowels get in the habit of not working normally and soon chronic constipation results that may last off and on all through life. Then children eat almost continually and as a consequence indigestion sets in soon followed by worms, or stomach pains, or diarrhea, or any one of a dozen other troubles. To say that it will right itself is putting altogether too much faith in chance. It is trying with the child's present and future health.

A better way is to give the child a dose of something intended to cure that very trouble, and nothing better for the purpose is known than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It never grips but acts gently and as it has a pleasant taste the child will not refuse to take it. Buy a 50-cent or $1 bottle of your druggist and save the child from sickness. You should remember that a child whose stomach is in good working order is not likely to catch colds and fever diseases.

Mrs. Curry, of Trowbridge, Ill., attributes the remarkable health of her child to Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which she gives regularly in these disorders. Mrs. Eversole, of Hinsdale, Ill., is frank to say that the present good condition of her five-year-old boy is entirely due to this wonderful remedy. Try it in your own family and see if you cannot share these opinions. Every bottle is guaranteed to do exactly as we claim, and the purity of ingredients is also vouched for.

FREE TEST Those wishing to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin before buying can have a free sample bottle sent to their home by addressing the company. This offer is to prove that the remedy will do as we claim, and is only open to those who have never taken it. Send for it if you have any symptoms of stomach, liver or bowels disease. Gentlest yet most effective laxative for children, women and old folks. A guaranteed, permanent home cure. THE PUBLIC VERDICT: "No Laxative So Good and Sure as DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN." This product bears purity guarantee No. 17, Washington, D. C. PEPSIN SYRUP CO. 119 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill.

No other food deteriorates so rapidly as the oyster. Its habitat is the ocean. It requires coolness and absolute freedom from exposure to the air in order to retain its delicate flavor and its wholesomeness.

SEALSHIPT OYSTERS

are brought directly from the choicest beds of America. They are shucked into porcelain-lined cases, sealed and packed in ice, which never comes in contact with the oysters. The use of Sealshipt Carriers is the secret of their superiority.
