James A. Reed of Kansas City, will formally announce his candidacy for the United States Senate in a speech at Moberly on Saturday afternoon, July 30.

Several hundred dollars worth of water fell Thursday morning.

A Kansas City paper Thursday had the following sentence in its headlines: "Wife, whom youth said was starving, does not bid him goodbye."

The voters of Missouri made no mistake in electing Cornelius Roach Secretary of the State. He is alive to the needs of the office and is administering its affairs in an honest and intelligent manner.

The Kansas City Journal says the insurgents are Democrats. They are all, except at election time, when they will advocate any old reactionary that the Republican party puts up.

But anyhow, taking everything into consideration, no matter what you may think of dope or frame-up, you are driven to admit that Johnson was the best scrapper.

It is announced that the Kansas City-St. Louis trolley line will not touch Lexington. Still we shall refrain from drawing any lessons until we see the cars running.

Just where did these insurgent papers get the idea that Theodore Roosevelt was so extremely progressive? Do you recall anything he ever said about the tariff or any other live issue where there was a strong difference of opinion?

It seems as if those gentlemen who were recently so loud in their efforts to denaturize football should look a little into this aviation game. When it comes to "percentage killed of those who participate" flying has tackled and even swimming lashed to the mast.

Now comes the announcement that David A. Ball is going to run for the United States Senate. Why not? He has been running for something ever since he could talk. And then again the voters would forget that great friendship between Champ and Dave if they were not reminded of it bi-annually.

You can sit around philosophizing on your goods-box seat and figure how you're happy since you got enough to eat and have a soft and easy bed where you can sleep at night and draw sufficient salary to pay rent, heat and light. You figure how an automobile is a pesky thing, a cause of worry and expense, a pleasure with a sting. "Just let me have a good old horse," you say "That's what I mean. He won't get stalled in mud holes nor run out of gasoline." About this time your wealthy friend goes sailing swiftly by in his new 7-passenger, you heave a little sigh. Of course you won't admit, but still you know it's true that right down in your heart of hearts you wish you had one too.

Kansas City is not the only town that is disturbed by unnecessary noises from the automobile drivers. A few of the Lexington artists have the habit of going down a quiet street at night when no other vehicles are within six blocks and waking up all the residents with the hideous sounds of their horns and whistles.

Big Circus.
 Announcement is made that on Monday, July 25, the Barnum and Bailey Greatest Show on Earth will visit Kansas City. This is the best news of the day to those who are fond of the circus form of amusement. For fifty-five years this has been the leading show of the world. This year it comes forth with an entire new equipment which cost the management $3,500,000.

The main performance is given in three rings, on two stages, on an immense Roman race track and in the dome. The climax of the program is the appalling performance of Desperado, a mad Frenchman, who leaps from the dome of the tent and lands on his bare chest. Additional thrills are given by Jupiter, a pure white Arabian horse. It rides to the dome of the tent in a balloon and descends amid a Niagara of exploding rockets and fireworks. Then there is Charlie the First, beyond all question the most remarkable animal that ever came to the notice of scientists. Charlie the First is merely a chimpanzee, but he has become the greatest bicycle rider and acrobat in the world. He does an act on one of the stages that is the wonder of the age.

In the menagerie is found the most remarkable zoological exhibit ever seen outside of the interior of the African jungle. It is Bambino, the first and only baby giraffe ever born or exhibited in America. Only once before in history has the stork visited the giraffe pen of a captive zoo of animals. That event happened over fifty years ago in London, England. The youngster died before it could be placed on exhibition. Bambino is only three feet tall, less than one-seventh of its mother's height. The youngster is worth its weight in gold.

On the list of performers are the names of 400 of the world's most talented performers. The new parade is a marvel of interest. It is a panorama of a thousand wonders. There are three miles of it. Here is an opportunity for the people of Lexington and vicinity to see the greatest circus ever organized. The railroads will lower the rates of fare and special excursions will be run.
