POLICE PENSION FAVORED BY BOARD

ST. LOUIS COMMISSIONERS DRAFT RESOLUTIONS URGING SUPPORT.

HADLEY AND FOLK APPROVE

Amendment Will Build Up Department in Three Large Missouri Cities.

In no uncertain way the members of the Board of Police Commissioners in St. Louis endorse the proposed amendment to the Constitution of Missouri to be submitted to the people in November, granting the cities the right to establish a pension system for old and disabled policemen. And just as emphatic as the endorsement of the police board is the approval given the amendment by Gov. Hadley and former Gov. Folk. This shows there is no political question whatever involved—that it is a humanitarian question, and not one of politics.

Neither the members of the board, nor the present or former governor can have more of an interest in the question than a desire to see the department brought up to its highest efficiency. So eager are the members of the police board for the adoption of the amendment that they have drafted an address to the public on the question. In it they say: "To the Public of Missouri:

"The undersigned, Board of Police Commissioners of the City of St. Louis, respectfully suggests to the voters of this state that an amendment to section 47, of article 4 of the constitution of this state, will be submitted as amendment No. 1, for their approval or disapproval at the next November election.

"The purpose of this amendment is to authorize the legislature of this state to provide, in such manner as the legislature may deem proper, a pension fund for the benefit and relief of members of the police department in cities having 100,000 inhabitants or more, who have become disabled in the public service by casualty, disease or age, from rendering full service in their respective departments.

"We ask each of the voters of the state, without regard to political affiliations, to read the amendment, and we ask that the policemen who come within its purview, or may hereafter come within its purview, may be protected by you by this amendment. It is a most worthy and just object, and the legislature of this state should be permitted to provide by legislation for carrying out just the purposes set forth in the amendment, and we appeal, on behalf of the policemen of this city, without regard to political or religious belief, to the public for its support.

"Matt G. Reynolds, President,
"John A. Laird, Vice-President,
"F. H. Kreismann, Mayor and ex-Officio Member,
"Otto L. Telchmann,
"Hobart Brinsmade."

The approval by the police board merely expresses the judgment of the entire city. It is further expressed by a former governor of the state, who is entirely familiar with conditions in all of the cities, and especially in St. Louis.

Former Gov. Folk says of the amendments:

"Men who serve the public faithfully for years on the small salary police officers get should not be left in the evening of life as the subjects of charity. The certainty of support as long as they live and do their duty will make the officers do better work, and have a tendency to remove them from those influences that tend to improper practice in order to insure a competency against old age or accident. This pension is to be paid by the cities affected, and not by the state, as I understand the amendment, and the officers who will be entitled to the pension will be so few that the burden of it will be lightly felt. The officers so pensioned are to be members of a reserve force for emergency service as far as their disabilities will permit, and thus give value received.

"Such pensions are now allowed firemen. These and police officers by reason of the dangers incident to their duties are in a class different from other branches of the public service, and are entitled to insurance against the disabilities of casualty and the infirmities of age."

Governor Hadley expresses himself briefly and to the point, as follows:

"I favor the proposed amendment to the constitution, giving the legislature authority to provide for a pension system for those police officers who may be injured in the performance of their duties.

"Very truly yours,
"Herbert S. Hadley, Governor."

Approval of the proposed amendment is by no means confined to the police board and newspapers. The citizens generally are in favor of a plan whereby the police may be assisted when they are disabled as a result of their service. Their duties are extremely hazardous and their salaries small compared to their great expense. Notwithstanding the hazardous work the number of men who will be subject to aid will be small compared to the number of men in the department.
