Kill More Than Wild Beasts.

The number of people killed yearly by wild beasts don't approach the vast number killed by disease germs. No life is safe from their attacks. They're in air, water, dust, even food. But grand protection is afforded by Electric Bitters, which destroy and expel these deadly disease germs from the system. That's why chills, fever and ague, all malarial and many blood diseases yield promptly to this wonderful blood purifier. Try them, and enjoy the glorious health and new strength they'll give you. Money back, if not satisfied. Only 50 cents at Crenshaw & Young.

Escaped With His Life.

"Twenty-one years ago I faced an awful death," writes H. B. Martin, Port Harrelson, S. C. "Doctors said I had consumption and the dreadful cough I had looked like it, sure enough. I tried everything, I could hear of, for my cough, and was under the treatment of the best doctor in Georgetown, S. C. for a year, but could get no relief. A friend advised me to try Dr. King's New Discovery. I did so, and was completely cured. I feel that I owe my life to this great throat and lung cure." WOULD HAVE CAUGHT TRAIN

If There Was Some Law About Clocks In Public Places Running Correctly.

"It seems to me," said a man who has just missed his train, "that there ought to be some law about clocks in public places. The man who sets up such a clock, which he does primarily for his own benefit, really takes upon himself at the same time a duty that he owes to the public; it is his plain duty to keep the clock right. If I could have my way about it I would let no man set up a clock in a public place without first getting permission from the public authorities, and I would require as a condition of this permission that the clock's owner should give a guarantee, with a heavy forfeiture attached, that he would keep the clock running correctly. Then I would have public inspectors who should regularly inspect these clocks and see that they were kept so running. In case of failure I would have the penalty rigidly enforced. This seems so simple that I wonder we haven't had such a law long ago. If we had one now I wouldn't have missed my train."

EUNICE WANTED TO KNOW

She Wondered If the Lady Would Have Died If She Had Only One Berucolosis.

Following is sent in by R. G. Caldwell of Yuma, Ariz.:

Six-year-old Eunice was overheard discussing with her brother the death of a lady in the neighborhood. She said:

"Brother, what did the lady die with?" She was told tuberculosis.

"Is tuberculosis very bad?" she asked.

"Very bad," said her brother.

"Do people always die when they have tuberculosis?" she queried.

"Nearly always," replied her brother.

After a few moments she said:

"Brother, I wonder if she would have died if she had had only one berucolosis."

ONE ON FATHER.

Herbert, aged 4½, had annoyed his father until that individual finally lost patience. Thinking to get rid of him for a few minutes by a simple ruse, he said:

"Hurry, son, to the window and see the big parade!"

The little lad ran to the window and climbed upon a chair, while the father smiled at the success of his little lie.

The smile was still on his face when a tug at his coat tail and a "Hurry, papa, quick!" caused him to start toward the window.

"What is the matter?" he asked.

"Come and see the elephant in the parade!" said the boy.—Metropolitan Magazine.

SPRINGS FROM FOUNTAIN.

One of the natural marvels of France has recently been made generally known. It is the fountain, or source, of the Coulomp, a small river in the department of the Basses-Alpes. Out of a mighty limestone wall about 4,600-feet high springs a fountain of water, yielding even in the driest times about 300 gallons a second, and forming a full-born river, which begins its career with a series of leaps aggregating 100 feet of descent. It is thought that the water must pass under the mountain by subterranean channels at least a mile in length.

SOME NEW DANCES.

Paris society is reveling in several new dances that promise to be as popular as was the famous cakewalk in its day, says the London Daily Mail. They are the tango, an adapted Argentine dance, something like the once popular matcheiche; the feria, built on a Spanish dance, but essentially French, and the kenac, founded upon a Canadian step, and a Spanish polonaise.

SOFT AND HARD PULLS.

The painless dentist gave a mighty yank and the tooth of the bleeding patient clattered upon the floor.

"I thought you said you could pull teeth without pain?" yelled the victim.

"I can pull them without pain," said the dentist, gently, "but when I do I don't pull them hard enough to make them come out."

Off For the Woods.

John Chamberlain, Dr. G. W. Fredendall and F. T. Wilson left Sunday morning for a month's outing at Rainy Lake, Canada. They were joined in St. Paul by Luther Crenshaw of St. Louis, F. J. Wilkins of Mexico, and Abe Fredendall of Columbia. Later on Dr. J. Q. Chambers of Kan-City will join the company.

Reunion Assured.

Col. Geo. P. Venable, adjutant of the local camp of Confederate veterans, received a telegram Monday from Gen. Geo. M. Jones, of Springfield, Mo., State Commander, announcing that the reunion would be held here.

LET'S SETTLE THIS MATTER RIGHT.

One Missouri newspaper says that 2½ million dollars is too much money to be used in rebuilding the state capitol; another paper says that it's too little—and there you are. What are we to do, boys? Shall we squabble over this matter for a dozen years, being without a state home all of this time? Would it not be better to get together in a spirit of concession and go ahead and rebuild at once? Let's not lose the fine inspiration that comes from a patriotic duty promptly done. Let's not give our enemies an opportunity to pillar Missouri in the pitiless columns of ridicule as the capitolless state for a decade. We must have a new capitol; why not get together and vote to rebuild, the first dash out of the box? Come on, boys; let's settle this matter for all time to come. It's the wise, practical, sensible, economical, patriotic thing to do.
