

Elks' Memorial Services.

The Lexington lodge of Elks held its annual memorial services Sunday evening at the Presbyterian church before a large audience, and the ceremonies were among the most impressive the lodge has ever had.

Excellent music was furnished by the members of the Presbyterian choir consisting of Mr. Conrad, the director, at the organ; Mrs. Tilton Davis, Jr., soprano; Miss Margaret Aull, contralto; Mr. St. Clair, tenor; Dr. Ramsey, bass. The choir sang Shelley's anthem, "The King of Love My Shepherd Is." Miss Emory Todhunter on the violin played a Reverie by Macdowell with exquisite taste, and Mr. St. Clair gave a beautiful rendition of "Jesus Only" by Rotoli.

William Aull, the exalted ruler, presided over the meeting and conducted the opening and closing exercises with impressive solemnity. The invocation was pronounced by Rev. S. Boyd White, pastor of the Christian church. Horace Blackwell added to the occasion by a reading of Bryant's Thanatopsis.

After an appropriate introduction by C. A. Keith, Rev. Frank W. Allen, pastor of the Christian church at Paris, Missouri, and a member of the Lexington lodge, gave the address. Mr. Allen is an excellent speaker and presents his thought in original and telling manner. His delivery was wonderful and he held the undivided attention of his audience through his talk. He spoke on giving happiness to the world, on "making roses bloom in the desert."

"In showing the most honor to our beloved dead," he said, "we can bring happiness to those who are left behind. The Elks, more than any other order that I know of, are engaged in this mission. God bless the Elks."

Mrs. H. C. Sydnor Dead.

Word was received here late Saturday evening that Mrs. H. C. Sydnor had died that evening at 4:30 o'clock. Mrs. Sydnor was taken sick very suddenly Friday night, and only lived until Saturday evening when she passed away.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Sydnor is survived by four children which are as follows: J. W. Sydnor of Lexington, Mrs. A. E. Asbury, of Higginsville, J. R. Sydnor, of Kansas City, and Miss Mildred, who is attending Lexington College.

Laurant Was Good.

The Central-Wentworth lecture course was opened at Murrell auditorium Friday evening by Laurant, the magician, and his company of assistants. The house was packed and the show was exceptionally good.

Laurant had a number of mystifying card tricks, the orthodox materializations of animals and a variation of the cabinet act. His apparatus was new and pretty, and he did his work in a neat, clear cut manner. The audience was highly pleased.

W. O. W. Officers Elected.

Lexington Camp No. 139, W. O. W., has elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

J. C. Graddy, C. C.; M. C. McFadin, advisor lieutenant; W. S. Marrs, banker; Harry Taubman, clerk; Dr. E. J. Kampf, escort; Arthur Bour, watchman; W. T. Price, sentry; Dr. C. T. Ryland, Dr. B. T. Payne and Dr. J. Q. Cope, physicians; D. Ruebel, manager.

Pupils' Recital.

In Murrell auditorium Monday evening the first pupils' recital of the year was given. The program was somewhat long but the careful preparation of each number retained the interest of the audience throughout. The piano numbers showed the precision, accuracy and thoroughness of all pupils under the instruction of Central College piano teachers. The playing of Miss Graves and Miss Milliken deserves special mention.

The four singers were the four seniors in the vocal department, and their numbers yesterday evening bespeak some interesting work from them later in the year.

William Linebach Dead.

William Linebach, who had been in poor health for several months, died Tuesday evening at 2 o'clock at his home in this city from heart disease.

Mr. Linebach was born in Stokes County, North Carolina, September 30, 1843. In 1859 he moved to Missouri where he had resided ever since. Mr. Linebach served in both the Confederate and Federal armies during the civil war. He was in Bledsoe's battery 8 months, and for over two years served in the Federal army.

Besides his wife he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Phillip Galle and Mrs. George Mudd.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home. Rev. C. M. Davenport conducted the services.

Commercial Club Meeting.

Tuesday evening the commercial club met in the upper room of the court house to transact some routine business and elect officers for the ensuing year. Reports of committees in the road campaign were read, a general plan of reorganization was discussed, some desultory talking was done, much was anticipated, and the following officers were elected:

President, E. N. Hopkins; Vice-President, James R. Moorehead; Secretary and Treasurer, Edward Aull.

The meeting adjourned to meet Thursday, December 14. Every merchant in Lexington is urged to attend this meeting.

Dr. B. T. Payne went to Kansas City Wednesday on professional business.

Miss Mary Wilson returned Monday evening from a short visit in Kansas City.

Will Move to the Pacific Coast.

D. Stalling and his family with the exception of his son, Robert, will move in the near future to Walla Walla, Washington, where he with his two sons, Richard and Otto, will engage in the bakery business. Robert, who has bought the interest of his two brothers, will continue the bakery business here.

This family will be greatly missed in Lexington where they have been actively interested in the commercial and social life of the city these many years. The Intelligencer wishes them success abundantly in their new home.

Football Dance.

The old cadets at the academy gave the annual football dance Monday evening at the amusement hall. Some thirty five couples were present and dancing continued until one o'clock. The affair was an enjoyable one in every particular, enhanced by good music and frozen punch.

During the intermission the team met and elected J. W. Jones of Sherman, Texas, as captain for next year. There were then several short impromptu speeches.

Advertiser's Thirteenth Birthday.

Tuesday was the thirteenth anniversary of the birth of the Daily Adviser and all of us hope that it is an omen of the best luck. Sam Williams, the editor, owner, proprietor et cetera, continues to put out a snappy paper, to write poetry occasionally, to make a nice living and to do his share toward rendering the world better. Luck to you, Sam. May you continue to be prosperous and happy.

R. A. Chapter Elects Officers.

Royal Arch Chapter, No. 10, A. F. & A. M., has elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

M. C. McFadin, H. P.; J. O. Coffin, king; G. C. Marquis, scribe; J. C. Shelton, treasurer; H. Sinauer, secretary; O. H. Westerman, C. of H.; W. H. White, P. S.; W. P. Roach, R. A. C.; H. W. McNeel, M. of 3d V.; H. T. Phillips, M. of 2nd V.; Dr. E. J. Kampf, M. of 1st V.; O. O. Crawford, sentinel.

Miss Nellie Ross returned Monday evening to Higginsville after a short visit here.

Wm. Stonestreet went to Kansas City Tuesday to spend the day on business.

Mrs. F. L. Carter and Mrs. T. A. Walker returned Monday evening from a visit in Higginsville.

Something New at the Princess.

The Princess Saturday night will offer to the people of Lexington something new in moving pictures. They have engaged and will show for one night only, Saturday night, December 9, the Army and Navy football game played in Philadelphia, November 25, 1911. Don't fail to see this picture.

A new All-American halfback arrived Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Ardinger. Horace is now offering odds on the annual Missouri-Kansas football game in 1920. He believes from present indications that his son will not only be able to out kick anything Kansas will have to offer, but that he will develop into the greatest line plunger ever known.
