Lightning Kills Few.

In 1905 lightning killed only 169 people in this whole country. One's chances of death by lightning are less than two in a million. The chance of death from liver, kidney or stomach trouble is vastly greater, but not if Electric Bitters be used as Robert Madsen of West Burlington, Ia., proved. Four doctors gave him up after eight months of suffering from virulent liver trouble and yellow jaundice. He was then completely cured by Electric Bitters. They're the best stomach, liver, nerve and kidney remedy and blood purifier on earth. Only 50 cents at Crenshaw & Young.

Hair Falling?

You certainly cannot lose your hair and keep it, too. Which shall it be? Lose? Then do nothing. Keep? Then use Ayer's Hair Vigor. That is about all there is to it. Ayer's Hair Vigor is also a splendid hair-dressing and hair- tonic. It keeps the hair soft and smooth and greatly promotes its growth. It does not color the hair. Consult your doctor freely. Mr. Venable is one of the oldest watchmakers in the western country. He handles the best grades of American make and if you get a watch from him and chance to drop it on the sidewalk of Calcutta, Leipzig or Lexington, pick it up and take it to him, he will recognize it as an American make. He won't fumble and fiddle-dee-dee and squint at it through a little black dingus and ask a lot of questions you can't answer, but will repair it at once as he is familiar with all the parts and jewels. His prices are reasonable.

PLEA FOR "OLD BLACK JOE"

How William Alden Smith Induced Senate to Keep Aged Negro on Its Payroll.

There was something intensely human in the action of Senator William Alden Smith urging the senate to retain on its payroll the name of "Old Black Joe" Jones, the former bodyguard of President Jefferson Davis. Senator Smith made the air ring as throwing back his head he rolled out "Sirs" in the good old Patrick Henry fashion. "Sir," he declared to the chair, "the southerners have cared for their wounded and suffering, they have asked no pensions from the government against which they rebelled. With a solicitude which we may well emulate, they have bound up their own wounds, nursed their own sick and dying and cared for their dead, rebuilt their devastated states and voluntarily burdened themselves that we might pension our heroes and house them in comfort in their declining years. I think it is little less than pusillanimous to object to a simple recognition for an aged negro."

There was a rollecall, and by a vote of 37 to 18 "Old Joe" was retained on the payroll of the senate. One senator averred that the word "pusillanimous" carried the day for William Alden. But the senator from Michigan only smiled, and after the merry war he strolled down the senate corridor in front of the marble room whistling the refrain of "Old Black Joe" at lively tempo. —Joe Mitchell Chapple in National Magazine.

THE REASON.

The City Man—What! Fifteen dollars a week! Why, rooms and board ain't scarce about here!

The Countryman—I know, but boarders are.

SMALL WORKING MODELS.

Whether tiny working models of machinery are worth the labor they cost or not, such a collection of marvels as British amateurs have brought together in the London exhibition of engineering models is at least highly instructive. For the most part, such products seem to represent the diversion of persons engaged in employment very different from machine making. At this exhibition about one hundred entries were made by many varied trades—a working steam engine, small enough to stand on a threepenny piece, being one of the eight smallest engines made by three Scotch miners; a complete working model of the Mauretania, the work of a bricklayer of sixty-seven; and a little traction engine, including water tubes, boiler and superheater, the result of a Surrey gardener's spare time efforts.

CAPACITY FOR LABOR.

By actual tests two horses weighing 1,600 pounds each can pull 3,750 pounds, which is 550 pounds more than their combined weight. One elephant weighing 12,000 pounds can pull 8,750 pounds, which is 3,250 pounds less than its weight. Fifty men, aggregating 7,500 pounds in weight, can pull 8,750 pounds, which is the score of the elephant. It will be observed that the men also pull more than their own weight.

RICHES OF ALASKA.

Alaska has proved to be a bonanza in fisheries and a treasure house of gold, coal and copper. There are agricultural stations within seventy-five miles of the arctic circle. At some points, indeed, vegetables are grown north of the arctic circle, close up to the shores of the Arctic ocean. Stock raising is progressing in Alaska and its islands, while wheat, oats and barley flourish under the stars of the north.
