

Hair Falling?

You certainly cannot lose your hair and keep it, too. Which shall it be? Lose? Then do nothing. Keep? Then use Ayer's Hair Vigor. That is about all there is to it. Ayer's Hair Vigor is also a splendid hair-dressing and hair- tonic. It keeps the hair soft and smooth and greatly promotes its growth. It does not color the hair. Consult your doctor freely. Doctors are studying these hair questions much more than in former days.

Why the Farmer Should Oppose The Rural Parcels Post.

The advocates of the rural parcels post claim that this system of merchandise transportation would enable the farmer to have small packages of merchandise delivered at his mail box quickly and cheaply.

No one disputes this—but there are two more sides to the question. Here is one:

Every rural delivery carrier is now authorized to carry merchandise parcels weighing over four pounds from your farm to town or from town to your farm—and you, or the town man, pay the carrier whatever you agree is right. The proposed postage charge would average much higher than what you would pay under the present system of local delivery. Now there is no maximum weight limit for the carrier can take anything for you that he is able to carry, but it is proposed to limit the weight to eleven pounds only. This would greatly curtail the delivery privileges now open to every farmer who desires to use them and make delivery cost him more than under the present method.

Here is another side of the question—the side seen by your good friends, the home merchants:

Big-city merchants of all kinds would be quick to seize the rural parcels post as a delivery outlet, through the use of local agents, to whom parcels would be shipped in large quantities by express or freight for deposit in the local postoffice and delivery by rural carriers. There is absolutely no way, in which this could be prevented.

The opportunity thus afforded these mail-order houses for the development of a gigantic trust is a most serious menace to the farmer's welfare. Every necessary of life could in time be monopolized through this government postal subsidy, taxed against all the people and applied for the sole benefit of the mail-order trust. Already Wall street sees the trend of events and "big business" has become interested in fostering and financing the parcels post agitation. Its appetite has been stimulated by the results of the past few years, which have enabled one mail order house to pay an annual dividend of 7 per cent on its many millions of capital, and recently to declare a special dividend of 33 1-3 per cent. What farmer can ever hope to equal that record?

The big-city mail-order merchants pay no taxes of any kind—direct or indirect—in your community. They do not help maintain your schools, churches, libraries, hospitals and other public institutions. They do not help you build and maintain good roads. They do not give you credit and they give you neither sympathy nor help when misfortune comes. These big city merchants have absolutely no interest in you, excepting to get hold of as many of your dollars as they can and give as little return therefor as possible.

Furthermore, the big-city merchants do not help in any way to maintain and build up the home market for your products that enables you to get spot cash or its equivalent for everything you have to sell. Your location near such a town increases the value of your farm and makes that farm easy to sell at full value whenever you desire.

You appreciate the fact that the farmer trade keeps up the country towns and that any system—such as the parcels post—which will divert the farmer trade from the country town to the big city will ruin the country town.

If the country town is ruined, the farmer's home market will be destroyed or at least very seriously impaired. Property values in the country towns would certainly depreciate as store after store was forced out of business and greater burdens of taxation would be placed upon the farmers' overburdened shoulders. Lack of funds raised by taxation would curtail the schools of the country towns. Churches now so largely supported by the home merchants could no longer be kept supplied with ministers, unless the farmer members heavily increased their contributions. Public spirit would be destroyed, public institutions would suffer and public improvements become a thing of the past.

The plain fact is that the interests of the farmer and the home merchants are mutual. They are partners in the business of production and distribution—in the upbuilding and maintenance of the best possible home market. And the best home market is one that buys everything the farmer has to sell at top market prices and sells him everything he needs at fair competitive prices.

Therefore, Mr. Farmer, stand by your home merchants now as you would expect them to stand by you. In doing this you are conserving your own best interests.—Omaha Trade Exhibit, Omaha, Neb.

HEED THE WARNING

Many Lexington People Have Done So.

When the kidneys are sick they give unmistakable warnings that should not be ignored. By examining the urine and treating the kidneys upon the first sign of disorder, many days of suffering may be saved. Sick kidneys expel a dark, ill-smelling urine, full of "brickdust" sediment and painful in passage. Sluggish kidneys cause a dull pain in the small of the back, headaches, dizzy spells, tired, languid feelings and frequent rheumatic twinges.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only. If you suffer from any of the above symptoms you can use no better remedy.

Lexington people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. P. Stromberg, 1819 Bloom St., Lexington, Mo., says: "I had occasion to use a remedy for rheumatic troubles which had bothered me for quite a long time and I took Doan's Kidney Pills. They gave me relief and have my recommendation. They are a reliable remedy. I procured them at Crenshaw & Young's Drug Store and give them my praise."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
