

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half-a-million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases.

Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. Write without fear as without fee, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Child Legacy.

Education is the child's natural inheritance. It is of more importance than an estate, being the essential upon which self support and the accumulation of wealth is built. It is the making of character, the only lasting principle which makes for a true aristocracy, the aristocracy of American manhood.

Every American child should have an equal opportunity for the best there is in mental and manual development. The children of the soil should have the same advantages as those of the city. That they do not have this advantage in all districts of Missouri is a deplorable fact.

There are many reasons why these opportunities are lacking, but all these stumbling places of whatever nature, could be smoothed out at once with the getting of a permanent fund for the maintenance of the public schools of the State.

Missouri has been somewhat lax in the getting of high grade schools in many of her districts, and those schools and school districts to which one might point with pride are too few. Our pride in schools should not be in the grandeur of beautiful buildings and superior teachers alone, but in the fact that every child, a citizen of the United States in the making, is daily coming into his inheritance, the child of the soil on an equal footing with the child of the city.

There should not be found in Missouri the man, whether of family or not; who is too small of soul to use his right of suffrage in the getting of an equal basis of educational advantages for all the sons and daughters of the State. What father would hesitate between the child's success in life and the surrender of less than the annual cost of some personal indulgence, the tobacco habit, the shows, or what not? Surely the serious problem of fundamental education is as important as these.

A mill tax for the permanent and sole support of the public schools of Missouri will construct a lasting and true legacy equal in value to that offered by the greatest cities in the Union. It is the duty of every man to vote for this feature of the November ballot, that the Missouri child might come into its inheritance, individually, collectively, that the State might stand among the first of the Union for trained intelligence, the highest form of American manhood and womanhood.

Party precedent would seem to entitle Mr. Cowherd to the Democratic nomination this year. When Elliot W. Major, one of the opponents of Mr. Cowherd in this race, wanted the Democratic nomination for Attorney General four years ago, one of his strongest pleas was that he had been defeated four years before by a Republican. Mr. Cowherd stands in that position today. He was defeated, as was said before, by most questionable methods, and naturally desires another chance to win the honor of being Mis-

Missouri's Governor.

If brains, ability, clean political methods, experience and party devotion count for anything among the Democrats of Missouri, and they certainly count for much, W. S. Cowherd will receive their votes for the Democratic nomination and he triumphantly elected at the general election in November.

No word against his honor or his manhood, no intimation of wrong doing or wrong thinking was uttered against him during the entire campaign of four years ago, and the blows he struck for his party and his people were clean and manly ones, without a hint of unfairness, without a semblance of trickery or a tincture of dishonesty.

He was as brave and noble and true in defeat as he ever had been in victory, and fought back the accusations he might justly have made against those who had done him foul wrong. —Flemington Sentinel.

COMMON SENSE SILO

(Covered by Letters Patent)

If You Are Interested In Silos— Do Not Fail To See Us

We Have A New Idea That Builds A

Perfect Ensilage Preserver at the Least Cost of Construction and the Most Substantial Wood Building that can be Erected

The farmer knows that the silo utilizes all the feed value of farm crops and makes feeding a matter of two hours light work instead of a day of drudgery hauling feed.

One acre good corn equals 10 tons silage.
Ten tons silage feeds three head cattle 6 months.
One acre in silo is worth about 3 in the crib.
One ton silage occupies 50 cu. ft.
One ton hay occupies 500 cu. ft.

It will be seen that ten times more space is required for hay than silage and it is not possible to construct even a cheap hay shed, to say nothing of a barn, for the price required to store the same quantity of silage.

The question is what kind of a silo to build. We recommend the Common Sense method of silo construction because:
It is within the means of the smallest feeder, as the height is not fixed and it can be added to from year to year as the herd increases.
The walls are substantial and can not collapse.
No hoops to tighten.
No braces necessary.
Will not shrink or buckle.

It is so simple to construct that anyone can build it.
No door expense. Doors are cut out of the solid section of wall and beveled, making them practical, simple and air tight.
This silo is built with 6, 7, 8, 9 or 10 sides and is made of 2x4's—6 ft. laid like brick flatwise, and lined with acid-proof prepared roofing, making it absolutely air tight.

DID you ever sit around outside your house on a Sunday afternoon, or of an evening, maybe, and watch the paint, and see it go, when it ought to be holding on tight?

Some paints are so poor that you can almost see them as they dry out, and crumble, and powder, and blow away.

Why do they do this? Why does this happen? Something the matter with the materials—too much lead, maybe, or poor oil, or not scientifically ground and mixed—might have been good materials but not balanced right for wear.

At this store we make it our business to KNOW what paint will wear—because it pays us to handle the kind that pays you. And that's why we handle MOUND CITY HORSE SHOE BRAND HOUSE PAINT—made of pure lead and zinc and aged linseed oil, the necessary drier and coloring matter—and nothing else. Every atom of every gallon of it is good paint. Paint that is balanced for longest wear, for finest looks and to spread over the largest surface to the gallon.

So much for the outside of the house, but don't forget there's a HORSE SHOE BRAND PAINT for every use—one for kitchen floors and steps—one for borders around rugs—one for screens—one for buggies, another for wagons, and one for practically every other purpose.

The best place in this town to buy paint is the place where they know most about paint and can help you and advise you what particular paint to use for the purpose, how to get the surface ready, how to put it on, and all that; things you naturally want to know to get the best results. So if you want the best paint and the best paint service (and you do, if you come here,) come here.
