Dr. Pierce's FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

Give it a fair trial for banishing those distressing pains or drains on one's vitality. This prescription of Dr. Pierce regulates all the womanly functions. It eradicates and destroys "Female Complaints" and weakens that make women miserable and old before their time. Every girl needs it before womanhood. Every mother needs it. It is an invigorating tonic for the female system. All medicine dealers have sold it with satisfaction, to customers for the past 40 years. It is now obtainable in liquid or tablet form at drug stores—or send 50 one-cent stamps for trial box, to R. V. Pierce, Buffalo.

regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.
Sugar coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

"Pastor Russell," whose sermons appear in so many country newspapers, has not a very savory reputation, according to some of the secular and religious papers. He is not a "pastor" nor a licensed preacher of any denomination, is a member of no church, and does not preach the sermons reported at various places. His history is a very interesting one and ought to be known by all who buy his books or read his sermons. — Atchison county Mail.

A New Way to Can Fruit.

Following is a little article entitled "A New Way to Can Fruit," taken from the August Woman's Home Companion:

"Within the past year I have become greatly interested in the practical bulletins sent out by the Department of Agriculture. The one which has been of most value in discovering to me a new way of performing an age-old duty is Farmers' Bulletin No. 203, on 'Canned Fruit, Preserves, and Jellies,' by Miss Maria Parloa. It tells how to can fruit by cooking it in the oven.

"This method has in its favor the following points: (1) It is quick and easy; (2) the fruit remains whole, and is exceptionally beautiful in form and color; (3) the goodness remains in the fruit, and the syrup is not too rich.

"The jars are sterilized by boiling them for fifteen minutes. Into them, while still hot, the clean fruit is packed, and over the fruit a boiling syrup is poured.

"For a given and actual amount of cleaned fruit allow half as much sugar, and the same amount of water as sugar, to make the syrup. For instance, if when your strawberries are hulled and picked over you have twelve full quarts of fruit, by measure, then make a syrup of six quarts of sugar and six quarts of water. The water may be poured on the sugar either hot or cold, and it should be stirred until the sugar is thoroughly dissolved. Boil for about fifteen minutes. It is a safe rule to be sure to make plenty of syrup of these proportions; for if any is left, it may be sealed up and used with the next batch of fruit, or it may be boiled down and eaten with pancakes. The syrup may be made on the day before the canning and be reheated while the jars are sterilizing.

"I purchased at a hardware store for thirty-five cents a piece of asbestos cut so that it exactly fits the oven floor of my range. This I slip in just before I begin to fill my jars. When the jars are filled with the fruit, and syrup has been poured in up to the neck of the jar, I set them into the oven, which is fairly hot not covered and not touching each other. The oven is then closed, and they are left in for ten minutes, or until the fruit is soft. The jars are then removed, and, if not full, filled to the brim with boiling syrup and sealed in the usual way."

The Proof Is In Lexington, Almost at Your Door.

The public statement of a Lexington citizen is in itself strong proof for Lexington people, but confirmation strengthens the evidence.

Here is a Lexington citizen who testified years ago that Doan's Kidney Pills relieved weak kidneys and now states the result was permanent. Can any sufferer from kidney ills ask better proof? You can investigate. The case is right at home.

C. S. Mitchell, farmer, Lexington, Mo., says: "My kidneys troubled me and one of our best physicians didn't help me. It was hard for me to control the kidney secretions. Finally I got Doan's Kidney Pills from Crenshaw & Young's Drug Store and since I used them my kidneys have been strengthened and I do not have pains. The testimonials I have given for Doan's Kidney Pills before hold good. The benefit I got has been permanent."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The Cheapest Sort of Love.

A contributor writing an article entitled "The Man of Her Choice" in the August Woman's Home Companion writes, in part, as follows:

"In some cheap localities (forgive me if all this sounds a little cheap as I tell it, for we usually talk of the more refined things and shrink a little from mention of these coarser ones)—in some cheap localities the man a girl marries, or the boy, is sometimes chosen for her by nothing better or higher or nobler than, a mere physical attraction and propinquity, and a lack of something better to do—love-in-idleness. Sentimental buggy-riding, cheap and harmful literature, cheap ideals of love and marriage, sentimental love-making, easy familiarities, and a mushy companionship based on nothing better than ignorance and lack of intelligence; how would you, you who are a more thinking girl and who mean to make your own choice, how would you like to have the one man in your life chosen for you by such things? And how would you like to have one of the most glorious experiences of life selected for you, spoiled for you, made a cheap and unlovely thing by these? Yet this is exactly what happens in the lives of a great many girls."
