

Don't Look Old Before Your Time

WOMAN'S delicate system requires more than ordinary care and attention—more care and attention than it is given by the average woman. Neglect it and ill soon creep in, and the look of old age, sometimes quickly, sometimes gradually follows.

That backache, so common among women, brings with it the sunken chest, the headache, tired muscles, crows'-feet, and soon the youthful body is no more youthful in appearance—and all because of lack of attention.

There is no reason why you should be so unfortunate, when you have at your disposal a remedy such as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—recommended for over 40 years as a remedy for ailments peculiar to women. We have thousands upon thousands of testimonials on file—the accumulation of 40 years—testifying to its effectiveness. Neither narcotics nor alcohol are to be found in this famous prescription. Regularizes irregularities. Corrects displacements. Overcomes painful periods. Tones up nerves. Brings about perfect health. Sold by dealers in medicines, in liquid or tablet form.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, newly revised up-to-date edition, answers hundreds of delicate questions about which every woman, single or married ought to know.

HIDE THEIR NATURAL BEAUTY

Jewish Women Wear Wigs as a Matter of Duty, According to Ancient Custom.

Among the women crowding about the vendors one sees here and there the wig that every Jewish woman, according to the custom, should wear when she is married. In Russia the bride still covers her pretty curls; in Chicago—one can hardly expect a Chicago girl to do that. It is only the old women who refuse to depart from the habit of years. This odd fashion—you will notice it is always some one's else fashion which is odd, never our own—is an outward symbol of high ideals. The wife dons the wig that all may know her thoughts are not on the vanities, but on the serious things of this world. It must be a great race the women of which through centuries would consent to hide their beauty under a wig of straight, coarse hair. The martyrdom of Jewish beauty follows a remark credited to an ancient woman. Asked what she had done that she should become the mother of two high priests she answered, "The walls of my room have never once seen my own hair." With not a thought to spare on vanity and idleness she had given all to the raising of her sons. She had developed in them such wisdom, such character, that they were fit for the high priesthood. She was taken for a pattern and the race of Jewish women thenceforward imitated itself and lived up to the ideal insofar as at least as the wig. But, oh, what a strength of religious enthusiasm it must have taken at times!—Chicago Post.

LIQUID FOOD

Kind Lady—What is your favorite health food?
The Tramp—Whisky or beer, mum.

EXPERIENCED EFFORTS.

"So your friend who is such an accomplished fisherman, is going to move into the suburbs?"
"Yes."
"Then he can put his skill to use catching trains."

RATHER MIXED.

Wife—Hubby, how do you like my new trouserette costume?
Hubby—The taste that defends a style like that hasn't got a leg to stand on!

ONE FORM OF PRIDE.

"What sort of fellow is Bronson?"
"He's the sort of fellow who would rather stay away from Europe all his life than not go across in the biggest boat."

NOT AN IMPROVEMENT.

Bacon—And has your neighbor done anything to improve the neighborhood?
Egbert—I should say not. He's just bought his son a cornet.

TRIMMING FOR HATS.

"I see Burbank has perfected several new fruits. He's a useful man."
"No doubt, in his way. But what a man milliner he would have made."

CLUES.

"What made you suspect the prisoner was a man trying to escape?"
"Because I noticed he wore a slouch hat and a cutaway coat."

FAST MANUFACTURE.

"Did that slick swindler make anything by his game?"
"Yes. When the police got on to him, he made tracks."

WITHOUT "HELP" OF LAWYERS

People's Courts in Germany and Kansas From Which Legal Technicalities Are Barred.

Germany has a system of people's courts from which lawyers are barred. The object is to insure prompt and cheap justice for the poorer elements of the community. The procedure in these courts is businesslike and free from technicalities and red tape. Now Kansas has followed the example of Germany and established by law a system of lawyerless courts. City or county commissioners are empowered to appoint a judge for a debtor's court from which lawyers are excluded. The plaintiff must tell his own story, as must the defendant. There are to be no technical pleas, and no legal jargon. The judge may, all witnesses, examine them in his own way, or otherwise investigate the case. A few such laws and experiments as this may cause the average lawyer to take some interest in law reform, in the movement for efficiency, sanity, and simplicity in our courts of justice, says the Chicago Record-Herald. Business men, too, will take notice and ask why they, though not poor, should pay for delays, meaningless technicalities, verbiage and professional tricks, whether ethical or low. Law reform is waiting for the ax and Kansas has made a beginning.

RAIL RECORD NOT IN DANGER

According to This Story, the Speed of the Train Left Much to Be Desired.

It was a cruel thing to say about a nice railroad whose chief aim was the speedy transportation of its passengers, but the conversation had turned to lightning expresses, and Wallace Irwin, the author, simply could not help it.

"On the road in question, as Mr. Irwin related the story, a train stopped one day and the passengers were told that a cow had gotten on the track and had to be driven off.

Up the road a few miles farther the train stopped again, and once more the explanation was given that a cow was on the track. Two miles, perhaps, of continuous going, and then came another stop. This time a passenger glanced wearily toward the end of the car.

"Mr. Conductor," he called out in yawning accents, "could I speak to you a moment?"

"Certainly," answered the conductor, moving down the aisle, "what is it?"

"Do you really mean to say," returned the passenger in a voice that was almost a sigh, "that we have caught up to that cow again?"

RIGHT, ALL RIGHT, BUT—

Dr. Talcott Williams, the very successful head of Columbia's school for journalism, said the other day in New York:

"Newspapers should never steal from one another. If a paper copies a news item, an anecdote, or an editorial, it should give suitable credit always.

"Right, eminently right, at least in spirit, was that young Nolla 'Chuck' editor, who copied in his paper a poem beginning 'Full fathoms five thy father lies,' and at the poem's end put these words of credit: 'William Shakespeare in the New Orleans States.'"

FOR CAMPERS.

Take a card of the largest size horse blanket pins. Ordinary blankets, doubled lengthwise, and pinned at the foot and up the side make as comfortable a sleeping bag as one could desire.

CAUGHT.

The Foolish One—Just wait! She'll catch her husband flirting some day.

The Wise One—That's how she did catch him!—Puck.

SOUNDS LIKE MONEY.

"Here is a poem entitled, 'The Ballad of a Best Seller.'"
"How does it go?"
"It has a jingling sound."

FRIENDLY TIP.

"I wish I knew of some way to make myself solid with you."
"You can easily do that by not being so solid with yourself."

NO DECEPTION.

"Miss Jane looks daggers."
"Yes, and she's as sharp as she looks."

The Remington Club never finds a "bad one" in their metallics.

Are You Going To School?

The Fall Term at the Warrensburg State Normal School will begin Tuesday, September 9th. The catalog will be sent on request.

The State has invested $475,000.00 in this Normal School Plant. The School prepares teachers for all the needs of all the schools.

Every Department is well organized and well equipped. Of the Library Dr. Suzzallo, Columbia University, New York City, said, "This is the best Normal School Library I have ever seen."

The standards of work in this school are high, and the cost to students less than in any other school of same rank. Last year was the best in the existence of the school, but not as good as the next will be. Laws enacted by the last Legislature give the people of Missouri new opportunities in education. Schools will mean more. Teaching as a profession will mean more to Missouri's young men and young women. Crops may fail, and business may fail, but the demand for well prepared school teachers will never fail. Through scholarship and a preparation to do some one thing well is always a sound proposition. That is our proposition.
