

VICTIMS OF RAILROAD CROSSING

Car Wrecked and Two Men Seriously Injured.

Friday night on the return from the Good Roads meeting in Kansas City, a car containing Judge John F. Larkin and Emmett Burgess, driven by Henry Carter, all of Wellington, was run into a train at the Fifteenth street crossing and completely demolished. The occupants of the car with the exception of Mr. Burgess, who jumped in time to save himself, were very seriously injured. Mr. Carter was quite seriously injured. Judge Larkin, while painfully bruised, is not considered to be in a dangerous condition. Mr. Burgess was only bruised about the knees.

Soon after the accident other cars came up, and the injured ones were taken to a police station for emergency treatment, and against the advice of the more level headed, they were then loaded into a car and brought to their homes in Wellington, instead of taking them to a hospital.

When the injured arrived at the police station, the officers in charge of the station were more intent in getting their statements than they were in giving them medical attention. This brutal procedure was stopped on the arrival of others who had heard of the accident and hastened to lend their assistance.

Deputy Sheriffs Joe Waddell and H. B. McDowell drove to Bates City Monday night and returned Tuesday morning with T. T. Dean in custody. Dean is charged with selling whiskey without a license. He was convicted at the last term of the criminal court on the same charge and paroled. Breaking his parole will no doubt put him in seclusion for some time.

Death of Phillip B. Marshall.

Phillip B. Marshall, a widely known citizen of this city, died Wednesday morning at 3:30 o'clock at his home, 1721 Main street, after a brief illness. His death was due to complications resulting from adhesions in the abdominal cavity. Mr. Marshall was taking his annual vacation, and was not taken seriously ill until last Saturday, when his condition became alarming. All efforts on the part of his physician to bring about a condition when an operation would be possible were unavailing.

Mr. Marshall was born on a farm near Lexington, February 26, 1866. His whole life had been spent in this community, where he was well known and respected. He was appointed a rural carrier July 14, 1899. He was the second rural carrier appointed in the United States, and was the oldest in point of service. He was careful and painstaking in the performance of the duties pertaining to the service, besides accommodating to the patrons on his route whenever such accommodations did not conflict with his duties. He was honest in all his dealings and bore the good will of all who knew him.

Mr. Marshall was married April 15, 1903, to Miss Marie Coss. Besides his wife he is survived by one son, Clovis; his mother, Mrs. Minerva Marshall; three sisters, Mrs. James Catron, Marshall, Mo., Mrs. Ed Earl, Kansas City, Mo., Mrs. W. A. Eastbrook, Lexington, and Miss Fannie Marshall of California; three brothers, Fred of St. Louis, John of Chicago, and Charles of Kansas City.

Mr. Marshall was a member of the Methodist church of this city, and of the Woodmen of the World.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Methodist church. Rev. R. N. Allen assisted by Rev. S. O. Hall and Rev. H. M. Myers conducted the services.

Miss Elsie Weber went to Kansas City Sunday morning for a visit.

John Chamberlain, E. T. Stier and H. T. Phillips left yesterday for a few days' outing on the Cole Camp creek.

The sixteenth street sewer was accepted.

From Dr. Milford Riggs.

Editor Intelligencer:
It is with a great deal of pleasure that I have learned of the decision of my friend, Geo. G. Riggs, to become a citizen of Lexington and pastor of the Baptist church of your city. You will find in him a genial friend and a cultured, scholarly gentleman. I predict for him great success in the pastorate of the historic old church of Lexington. I am enjoying life in the most scenic spot in the state as pastor of the Baptist church in Ironton and superintendent of the Missouri Home for Aged Baptists located here. Long live the Intelligencer.

MILFORD RIGGS,
Ironton, Mo.

He's a "Neutral."

Deputy Sheriff H. B. McDowell Friday morning took Alfred Curtis, colored, to Kansas City, Kansas, hoping that said Alfred would make said city his future home. Curdy's mind is unbalanced and is therefore a charge on the community, and in taking him to Kansas, he, no doubt, will find congenial souls, and live happy ever afterwards. Wyandotte county, Kansas, is believed to be his native abode.

Warrensburg, Mo.

To the Lexington Intelligencer:
The Lafayette County teachers met Tuesday afternoon, June the twenty-second, at three o'clock and organized a Lafayette County Club. In this meeting, it was found that there were fifty-eight students enrolled in the Normal from our county and of this number, twenty-two were from Lexington.

In spite of the fact that all buildings, except the gymnasium, were burned in March, nearly twelve hundred students from all parts of the state are enrolled. This speaks well for the school and the "Faculty." It shows what high estimation is placed upon the work done in school. The classes are being held in churches, in public schools and in residences, all of which are within a radius of about four blocks. In addition to the regular course of study this summer, a short course in physical culture is given between classes, in which every student participates. As a result of this course, all should be renowned pedestrians.

All of us are having an enjoyable as well as a profitable summer. At the time of this writing, the club is planning a picnic to be held at the home of our former superintendent, Mr. C. A. Phillips.

A Lexington Committee.

W. T. Tutt went to Marshall Wednesday to spend the day on business.

Gibbons-Phetzing Wedding.

The Evening Mail, Stockton, California, gives the following account of the Gibbons-Phetzing wedding, Wednesday, July 7, 1915:

Miss Anna F. Phetzing of Lexington, Mo., became the bride of Murray Francis Gibbons of Purcell, Okla., at a pretty wedding at the German Methodist church last evening at 7:30 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Kurt Franz of St. Louis, an uncle of the bride, assisted by Rev. J. G. Vogel, pastor of the local German M. E. church, in the presence of relatives and a few friends.

The bride was attired in a handsome embroidered grass linen dress which came from the Philippine islands, having been brought over by the groom who was stationed in naval service there for some time. The conventional veil of tulle completely covered her and was fastened to the hair with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and ferns. Miss Agnes Franz, cousin of the bride, and Miss Margaret Gibbons, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids. They were attired in white and carried large bouquets of pink rosebuds.

The groom was unattended.

The church was beautifully decorated for the affair with Shasta daisies and palms. An archway completely covered with the white blossoms was erected at the altar beneath which the couple plighted their troth. The aisles and chancel rail was banked with the same flowers combined with large masses of greenery. The church parlor was decorated in a color scheme of red and green, the effect being carried out with geraniums and ferns.

Miss Elsie Vogel, who is a talented pianist, played the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin for a processional and as a recessional rendered Mendelssohn's wedding march.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held in the church parlors after which the happy couple and their relatives went over to the parsonage where the bride's cake was cut. The ring fell to Miss Agnes Franz who also succeeded in catching the bride's bouquet. Mrs. U. G. Phetzing, mother of the bride, secured the thimble, while a tiny silver wishbone was won by Mrs. Gibbons, mother of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibbons left at 9 o'clock by automobile for Sacramento, where they will spend a few days and then go on to San Francisco to visit the exposition, after which they will go to Purcell, Okla., to reside.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Phetzing of Lexington, Mo., and is a talented musician, being the possessor of a splendid contralto voice and is also an accomplished pianist.

The groom is a graduate of the naval academy at Lexington, Mo., and had served four years in the United States navy, being stationed part of the time in the Philippines. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gibbons, who have extensive farm holdings in Oklahoma over which young Gibbons is the superintendent.

Dr. Kurt Franz, a former Stockton pastor, and his wife and family who have been guests at the Hotel Sutter for the last few days will leave soon to visit the exposition before returning

ELKS FROLIC ON THE DIAMOND

Leans Romp Home with a Good Lead. 18 to 13 the Verdict.

"The errors of our brothers we write upon the sands, their hits upon the tablets of love and memory." O, you sands!

The Elks yesterday after many postponements by order of the weather man, had one of the few rainless days of the summer for their day and nite frolic. The frolic, yes, we believe that is the correct word, consisted mainly of a base ball game between the transparent and opaque members of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, Lexington, Mo., U. S. A. The game was lots of fun yesterday; but today, perhaps, many who participated, incline to a reversed opinion.

The players gathered at the club rooms and with the Concordia band leading, marched to the ball field. There were players enough for seventeen teams and most everyone had an opportunity to show their wares. The game started with the leans at the bat and ended the same way. There were hits a plenty and errors ditto. The comebacks were many, noticeable among them was Albert Gilen, who accepted seventy-two chances without a bobble. His record yesterday was unique and will be a mark for comebacks for centuries to come. He hit 'em a mile and ate up the paths a la Cobb.

Theumps was attired in an immaculate suit of Palm Beach and his umping was as spotless as his suit. He was heavily armed and whenever the security of position was threatened, he did not hesitate to "draw" to restore the belligerent to a proper frame of mind.

Features of the game: The long walk out to the grounds in the boiling sun, the "beefing" of Captain Graddy, the fielding of "Less" Wilson, the stealing of third by "Fuzzy" with that station already populated, the base running of "Bill" Wernwag, "Jim" Forester's uniform, the many paid admissions, the popularity of the autos on the return trip, the bath tub afterwards, Otto's pitching, the pop "Westy" consumed, etc., ad infinitum.

At night the festivities were transferred to the Elks Club, where there was music, dancing and eating. The Concordia band, which by the way, is without a peer in the state, gave a concert of popular music from the front porch. This was enjoyed by a large number of people. Refreshments of ice cream, ices and cake were served. Everybody apparently had a good time, which was really the most essential thing besides the money.

to their home in St. Louis. Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Phetzing, who came out from Missouri to attend the wedding of their daughter, are the home guests of Rev. and Mrs. J. G. Vogel. Mrs. Joseph Gibbons and daughter, Miss Margaret Gibbons, mother and sister of the groom, have been in Stockton for a few days and are stopping at the Hotel Sutter, where the rest of the bridal party were also entertained. Miss Agnes Wilson of Lexington, Mo., a close friend of the bride, who is visiting the exposition came up from San Francisco last night to attend the wedding and returned to the metropolis today.

Two Barns Destroyed by Fire.

Friday night about 9:45 o'clock fire was discovered in the barn on the place occupied by Rev. Otto Schultz. Before the firemen could reach the scene the fire had gained such headway that nothing was saved. A barn across the alley belonging to Wesley Kroeck also caught and was consumed. Both barns were used principally as store rooms and many articles of value were lost, among the lot was an automobile belonging to Rev. Schultz. The automobile was insured. Mr. Kroeck had some insurance on his barn.
