Fall Orchard Work.

General orchard pruning will come later, but remove the dead, diseased, or broken limbs at once. Ragged wounds left where branches have been broken down by fruit, or by ladders used in picking, leave opening for cankers and other diseases. They should be pruned back to the living wood so as to leave a smooth wound which may be painted to keep out diseases.

Make cider, vinegar, or dried apples of culls. Those that are not good enough for this purpose should be fed to the hogs, and the worthless or decayed fruit which clings to the tree should be taken off and destroyed in some way because it usually contains either codling moth, or the germs of such diseases as bitter rot and scab.

Grass, weeds, and litter should be removed from the base of each tree. If mice can find nesting material against the tree they are likely to girdle the tree during winter. Any decaying plant growth makes a good winter cover for orchard land, but precaution should be taken to prevent fire from spreading to the orchard if this cover is abundant.

Drains the low places in the orchard which are likely to collect winter rains or melting snow, for water standing in the orchard is likely to do damage.—J. C. Whitten, University of Missouri, College of Agriculture.

Missouri Strippings.

Clean milk is obtained only by a clean dairyman.

Only green feeds contain the carotin that makes butter yellow.

"Raise your heifer calves" is the slogan for 1915-16.

Raise calves on clean, warm, sweet, skimmed milk, fed regularly.

Do your cows pay? The scales and Babcock test should be used to answer this question.

The hollow-clay-black silo is excellent where the tile can be secured without long, expensive shipment.

To keep up the milk flow, use rye with clover or vetch, to furnish fall and spring pasture.

A change to the right dairy ration and proper care may make "two streams of milk flow where but one flew before."

The concrete silo keeps silage perfectly, is almost indestructible, and may be built very cheaply where sand and gravel are available.

The Gurler silo is the cheapest satisfactory silo for many parts of Missouri. Station Circular 67 tells how to make it.

Missouri Chief Josephine produced about 13½ tons of milk in a year at the Missouri Agricultural Experiment Station and narrowly escaped making a new world's record.

We are prepared to do better work and more of it than ever. Why half mix your concrete the old way? Let us mix your concrete the up-to-date way. We have the best mixer on the market. Your concrete does not rot you as much as it did the old way. Yet it is a hundred per cent better, because when we mix it, it's mixed. That's all.

HE SOON LEARNED HOW TO FARM IN CALIFORNIA

Louis L. Norton, who had been in the mercantile business "back East" for many years, came to Santa Clara County, Calif., four years ago, absolutely ignorant of farming. But he soon found that perseverance and pluck meant success. He has a fine fifteen-acre prune and apricot orchard that is bringing in over $2,500 a year and this year expects his land to net him over $150 an acre.

Are you doing as well? Are you clearing $150 an acre? If you want to know how Louis Norton succeeded, and how hundreds of others are succeeding in the beautiful Santa Clara Valley, get out your pen and paper and write us a letter right now. Don't put it off until you have forgotten it. Clip this advertisement and simply send us your name and address with it. We will send you ABSOLUTELY FREE a splendid sixty-four page beautifully illustrated book describing the great Santa Clara Valley, the Garden Spot of California. Address
