A HOG QUARANTINE

The State Board of Agriculture Adopts Measures Against Cholera Outbreaks.

SHIPMENTS WILL BE LIMITED

Animals Must Be Vaccinated and Held Fourteen Days Before Bringing Into the State.

On recommendation of State Veterinarian Dr. D. F. Luckey, the Missouri State Board of Agriculture on June 14, 1917, adopted regulations for control of stock hogs by freight into this state, and from place to place within this state other than for immediate slaughter. On the same day Governor Frederick D. Gardner issued quarantines to this effect:

Before hogs can be brought into Missouri by freight they must be immune from cholera, or be vaccinated and held fourteen days prior to being brought in as stockers for feeding purposes. The same rule applies to shipping stockers by freight from one point to another within the state. It does not limit the shipping of hogs to market for immediate slaughter, and does not apply to pure bred hogs shipped in crates by express.

From April 1 to June 1 the Missouri State Board of Agriculture has, through its veterinary service, located and placed under control 377 outbreaks in co-operation with the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry. Doctor Luckey estimates that since hog cholera has been found in practically every county that if left uncontrolled the losses this year would approximate five millions of dollars in Missouri.

In the interest of food conservation and the enlargement of the forage supply in Missouri, Jewell Mayes of the State Board of Agriculture appeals to the people to grow more sorghum this year. War has become a reality in every community, and the importance of increased production of food and money crops is coming home to us more and more every day. Sam Jordan says that sorghum grows well on this land, should be planted for molasses by or before July 1, and before August 1 for forage. While seed is high, only 3 to 5 pounds per acre is needed for molasses crop, and for feed you sow from 50 to 70 pounds. Grow more sorghum and thereby produce more food and feed to help win the world war.

WILSON TO CONTROL EXPORTS

President Names Hoover, Lansing, Houston and Redfield to Govern Shipments Going Abroad.

Washington, June 26.—Control of American exports, authorized in a clause of the espionage bill, was assumed today by President Wilson, with the appointment of an exports council comprising the secretaries of state, agriculture and commerce, and the food administrator. An executive order creating the council directs the departments of commerce to administer all details of operation.

A victorious conclusion of the war can come, said the President in a statement tonight, outlining the country's export policy, only by systematic direction of American trade.

"The free play of trade will not be arbitrarily interfered with," he said. "It will only be intelligently and systematically directed in the light of full information with regard to the needs and market conditions throughout the world and the necessities of our people at home and our armies and the armies of our associates abroad."

Members of the exports council will meet tomorrow to organize and to recommend to the President a series of proclamations which will put the law into active operation.

The first proclamation will require the licensing of all coal and fuel shipments, including bunkers, and its purpose is to give the government first a firm grasp on shipping.

The second will provide a system of licensing for every class of exports to the European neutral countries, and is designed to prevent supplies from reaching Germany.

Proclamations to follow will name specific commodities which may not be shipped anywhere without licenses. The first commodities to be designated will be cereals and other foodstuffs. By degrees, the list will be extended until virtually every export commodity is brought under operation of the act.

The proclamations covering coal and exports to European neutrals probably will be issued this week. Under an arrangement to be made with the British government providing for an international shipping control enforced by bunkering and export licensing agreements, the United States and Great Britain will have the trade of the world in their hands to direct in the manner best calculated to assist in winning the war.

BOMB IN THE SOLDIER'S HOME

Governor's Residence at Leavenworth Partially Wrecked by Explosion—One Man Severely Injured.

Leavenworth, Kan., June 25.—An explosion at 10 o'clock last night wrecked the residence occupied by Sidney G. Cooke, governor of the National Military Home, south of this city.

William J. Squire of Kansas City, son-in-law of the governor, who was sitting in the library when the explosion occurred, was severely injured. He was taken to the home hospital, where it was said he probably would recover.

The governor's residence is situated on the grounds of the government reservation wherein the Soldiers' Home is built. It is a massive half stone, half frame building.

The explosive was placed at one corner of the building and demolished three rooms and their contents, the shock being heard for many miles.

Governor Cooke, his wife, daughter (Mrs. Squire) and a grandchild, who were on an upper floor when the detonation was made, were severely shaken up and cut by flying debris.

No probable cause was advanced by Governor Cooke, but police officials stated they believed it to have been the work of a disgruntled inmate of the home.

Governor Cooke said he had no enemies who would be likely to make such an effort.

Deputies from Leavenworth are working on the case and have bloodhounds on a trail, found beneath the window where the bomb was placed. They believe that several sticks of dynamite were placed on the sill of the library window and exploded by a fuse. The home grounds are picketed by guards and several arrests have been made of suspicious characters.

The library in the Cooke residence is on the north side in the center of the building. Mr. Squire, the injured man, was sitting in the room reading, his back toward the window. The explosion knocked Squire to the floor and made him unconscious. Glass from the heavy plate glass windows was imbedded in his face and body. The library, parlor and billiard rooms were wrecked. Governor Cooke has two sons in Kansas City. Thornton Cooke is president of the Midwest National Bank and S. K. Cooke is cashier of the Sheffield National Bank.

COUNT BIGGEST GOLD HOARD

Precious Metal to the Amount of $765,000,000 Held by New York Assay Office.

New York, June 27.—The count of the greatest hoard of gold ever stored in one place in the history of the world, consisting of English, French and American coins and bullion, totaling 765 million dollars, has just been completed at the United States assay office here, "without a penny missing."

Verne M. Bovie, superintendent of the office, said the bullion now on hand is more than ten times the normal average of previous years. The greatest total prior to the war, he said, was $57,300,000. This year's huge total is attributed to gold imports from the Allies to meet war bills and also to abnormal local receipts.

LIQUOR AND THE FOOD BILL

Action of House Has Stirred Up Friends of Wets Among the Senators.

Washington, June 26.—The liquor question has hurled confusion and uncertainty into the Senate fight for food control.

Just as it appeared that the administration, holding the upper hand with the aid of powerful Republican support, was to force passage of the bill this week the prohibition amendment adopted by the House upset everything.

"Wets" who favored the bill are hedging. "Drys" are split on the extent to which war prohibition should be inaugurated at this time. Danger of a filibuster by the liquor contingent in the upper house was admitted.

FOOD BILL PASSES HOUSE

Washington, June 25.—The administration Food Control Bill, giving the President broad authority to control the distribution of food, feed and fuel for war purposes, and appropriating $52 1/2 million dollars for its enforcement and administration, was passed by the House late tonight after far-reaching prohibition provisions had been written into it.

The vote was 365 to 5. McLeMore, Slayden and Young of Texas, Democrats, and Meeker, Missouri, and Ward, New York, Republican, voted in the negative.
