Missouri to Help Win the War.

Officials of the United States Department of Agriculture have commented favorably on the organization of Missouri for wartime production. The Department of Agriculture and the various other departments of the Government are cooperating in conducting increased production campaigns.

In this state the University of Missouri College of Agriculture has been selected for administering these campaigns.

As soon as war was declared the College began marshalling its forces to meet the unusual demands which were likely to follow. As a result the institution was ready to take up the work when the Government called. No other institution in the United States is better organized for this work than the Missouri College of Agriculture. The state is among the foremost in organization of farmers. The plan which the College adopted for helping farmers to organize has been called the best of any state in the Union.
